Schools' Dedication Held

KEY TO NEW HIGH SCHOOL. Robert Beatty, architect of the multi-million-dollar school complex, turns over the key to the new high school to Samuel W. Brown, president of the board of education, during dedication services Sunday afternoon.

By LUCILLE HUSTON

Some 3,500 attended the open house and dedicatory ceremonies Sunday at the East Liverpool High School complex off Maine Blvd. and at the East and LaCroft elementary buildings.

More than 1,500 in the auditorium of the new high school heard Dr. Martin Essex, superintendent of public instruction for the state of Ohio, declare, "I could not conceive of a more impressive sight," in reference to the multi-million-dollar school program.

He commended East Liverpool for setting an outstanding example for the rest of the state and called education "the wisest possible investment."

PRIOR TO the talk by Dr. Essex, members of the Veterans City Council raised the American flag and the flag of the state of Ohio.

Al Sayre, colonel of the VFW Post 66 drill team, led the ceremony. He was assisted by Comdr. Harry Deem, 6th District commander; Joe Torrence, past commander; Ferrall Martin, Morris Koerber and Ross Swogger.

The East Liverpool High School Band, under the direction of Don Adams, presented selections, including "Born Free" and the "Green Beret."

Thomas Gooding, president of the Student Council, led the pledge of allegiance, the audience joined in singing the "Star Spangled Banner," played by the band, and the Rev. H. Gene Toot of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, gave the prayer of dedication.

James Cregar, president of the Veterans City Council, presented flags to Alton Dobson, principal, for the high school and the new elementary schools. Dobson, in turn, presented flags to Mrs. Ruth Armstrong, principal at East, Mrs. Marie Graham, principal at North, and Miss Elizabeth Coleman, principal at LaCroft.

SUPT. PAUL Blair, master of ceremonies, called the new buildings "a metropolis of learning."

He introduced Rep. Wayne L. Hayes of the 18th Ohio Congressional District; Sen. James Leedy of Wooster, representating Gov. James A. Rhodes; members of the board of education; administrative personnel; past members of the board; other governmental officials, and the secretaries who serve in the administrative phase of the school system.

Blair pointed out that the paintings in the high school principal's office were by Hans Hacker, local artist, and were presented by the graduating class of 1968 and the Student Council.

To Meet Standards

Levy Purpose Explained

The proposed new 7-mill levy on which East Liverpool School District residents will vote Tuesday would provide funds to meet new state minimum standards and other educational programs termed vital by city school authorities.

Voters will also decide on renewal of two existing operating levies, one for 11 mills and the other for one mill for repair and maintenance.

The new state standards which became effective July 1, require the district to meet a number of needs which range from additional guidance counselors and more library books to art instruction and curriculum changes.

The new levy will help the schools meet six mandatory requirements under the standards and provide other improvements which either have been recommended by the department of education or termed vital by school administrators.

NO FUNDS would be used for salary increases for faculty members, officials said. The levy is a continuing one, authorities explained, in view of the increasing costs of operations and growing needs for programs. However, voters have the right to terminate the levy by holding a referendum on it, it was pointed out.

The mandatory requirements under the state standards include enlarged guidance programs, driver education, special education expansion, new instructional equipment, more audio-visual aid equipment and a speech and hearing therapist.

Other school improvements recommended are sex education, increased vocational education, physical fitness improvements, a music supervisor, enlarged secretarial and custodial staff, more teacher aides, study hall monitors, an art instructor, new kindergarten program, additional library books and text books, a work-study program, more librarians, elementary school guidance programs and a new office machine.

The state - recommended assistant high school principal post has been filled, it was explained.

The new standards require certified guidance instructors at the high school level. Driver education, deleted from the school program when cutbacks became necessary in 1965, is now a state law. The legislature has provided state help for this — $30 will

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eugene Sambrini, opening up his gas station Sunday morning, found an odd-looking bag propped against one of his pumps. He took a look inside and called police. Inside, they said, were $2 million worth of cancelled checks en route to the Federal Reserve Bank in Los Angeles from San Francisco. The loss had not been reported, police said.

Tuesday Polling Places Listed

Watch Precinct Changes, Board Cautions Electors

Issuing a list of the 43 polling places that will be used Tuesday for a special election in the East Liverpool School District, the County Election Board reminded today that 10 of the 34 city voting spots will be in new locations.

Voters should check the list before heading for the polls tomorrow to vote on 19 mills in operating levies, the board warned, or many of them could wind up in the wrong location. The changes were forced by the closing of five elementary schools.

Any elector accustomed to voting in one of the old grade school buildings should consult the list to find the new location of his polling place. However, Taft School in Maplewood and LaCroft School will continue as voting places.

The school district is comprised of the city's 34 precincts, plus six in Liverpool Township and three in St. Clair Township.

The polling places will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m. Each voter will receive two ballots. One lists a new 7-mill levy and the other lists the 11-mill and 1-mill renewals.

There are two polling place changes in the First Ward, three in the Second Ward, two in the Third Ward and three in the Fourth Ward. All the changes affect persons who formerly voted at the Horace Mann,

Contractor Launches City's Street Program

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry today launched work on blacktop resurfacing of St. Clair Ave. between 6th St. and Princeton Ave., a block of Washington St. and the River Rd.

The contractor's crews began work at 8, spraying the so-called tack coat on St. Clair Ave. The sticky coating also will be applied today on Washington St. between E. 3rd St. and E. 4th St. and the River Rd. stretch. Then it will be covered with sand.

Actual paving is slated first on the St. Clair stretch, where a parking ban went into effect this morning. The St. Clair phase is expected to require about four days. One-way traffic will be maintained around the work site.

Ammunition Cache Found By Allies In Area Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese and U.S. forces dealt their enemies heavy casualties in fierce fighting Sunday and seized tons of stockpiled ammunition, including a rocket launcher and a large cache of rockets and mortars threatening Saigon.

Communiques reported 184 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed in two savage fights south of Da Nang and along the Cambodian border near the Duc Lap Special Forces camp. Another 169 enemy soldiers were reported killed in a dozen smaller skirmishes from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone.

Allied casualties were put at 44 dead, 109 wounded and 11 missing. South Vietnam forces were involved in the major fights and suffered the bulk of the allied casualties—33 dead, 70 wounded and 11 missing.

Ten miles south of Da Nang elite South Vietnamese rangers backed by armored personnel carriers, dive-bombers and helicopter gunships reported killing 114 Communist troops threatening South Vietnam's second largest city. The rangers suffered considerable losses, too, 17 killed and 41 wounded.

Enemy gunners sent five rounds of big Russian-made 122mm rockets slamming into the eastern part of Da Nang Sunday night. Most of the rounds fell near the headquarters of the South Vietnamese 1st Corps, and eight civilians were reported wounded.

In support of the government infantrymen at Duc Lap, the U.S. Air Force's B52 bombers dumped more than 250 tons of explosives on troop concentrations four to six miles northwest of the camp.

An allied force sweeping the southern approaches to Saigon found a 107mm rocket launcher with up to a dozen tubes for simultaneous firing nine miles south of the capital. A stockpile of more than 200 big 122mm rockets, 82mm mortars, and smaller bazooka-type rockets was unearthed 10 miles northwest of the capital.

Military spokesmen said other ammunition and supplies seized over the weekend would be enough to sustain two Communist regiments of 5,000 men for several weeks.

Pam Dalrymple To Reign At Lisbon

Festival Queen Selected

APPLES OF THE FESTIVAL'S EYE. Miss Pam Dalrymple, center, will reign as queen during the Johnny Appleseed Festival which will open Thursday at Lisbon. Miss Connie Dustman, left, was second runnerup and Miss Vicki Cobourn, right, first runnerup.

LISBON — Pam Dalrymple, 19, a pretty brunette secretary from Columbiana, will reign as queen of Lisbon's Johnny Appleseed Festival which will open with a parade at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Twelve girls from northern Columbiana County sought the title in the pageant the Lisbon Jaycees sponsored Saturday night at David Anderson High School. Approximately 200 attended.

Miss Dalrymple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira G. Dalrymple Jr. of 116 7th St., was sponsored by her employer, NRM Corp. of Columbiana. She was graduated from Columbiana High School in 1967, sings in the First United Presbyterian Church Choir and likes to play golf and water ski.

The girls competed in three categories — sportswear, talent and formal wear.

MISS DALRYMPLE sang a solo, "Gonna Build a Mountain," accompanied at the piano by Miss Karen Orr of Columbiana.

Jack Dowd, president of the Jaycees, made the presentations. In addition to the crown and a ribbon streamer reading "Miss Apple Festival Queen," Miss Dalrymple received a bouquet of red roses and a $250 cash award.

Trophies were presented to Vicki Cobourn, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burtt J. Cobourn of Columbiana RD 2,

Senate Filibuster Predicted

Fortas Vote Set Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — With committee hearings into President Johnson's selection of Abe Fortas to be chief justice ending today, attention is shifting to the Senate itself where opponents have promised an all out filibuster against the nomination.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which wraps up final testimony today, has set a vote on Fortas for Tuesday. The only scheduled witness in today's hearings was Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo.

Subpoenas were issued for former White House aide Richard N. Goodwin and New York magazine writer Daniel Yergin, although it was doubtful that they could be served before the hearings ended. The committee sought to question Goodwin and Yergin about published reports that Fortas took part in preparing speeches for President Johnson.

It is thought certain that Fortas will be recommended by the committee to move up from associate justice on the Supreme Court to succeed Earl Warren.

But when the appointment reaches the floor it faces almost certain filibuster by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats fighting Fortas' elevation on grounds ranging from his voting record on the court to charges that he improperly took

A 22-year-old Alliance driver was killed in a two-car collision on Route 62 at Damascus early today in which both autos caught fire and the other motorist was seriously hurt.

Davd Paul Lerch of 11310 Easton St., Alliance, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. William Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the mishap occurred at 4:25 a.m., and Lerch was pinned in his wrecked car.

Paul E. Snyder, 60, of Millersburg, the other driver, was in "poor" condition today at Alliance City Hospital with injuries of the chest and head.

Officers said Lerch was driving a Volkswagen, headed west, when the car went left of center and rammed Snyder's 1962 sedan head-on. Lerch's auto overturned, pinning him inside, officers said.

The death marked the 20th road death for the county this year, compared to 26 at this time last year.

Infant Gets Heart, Lungs Transplant

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A two month old girl received the transplanted heart and lungs of another infant Sunday.

The condition of the recipient, Debra Lynn Lee of Hufsmith, Tex., near Houston, was described as encouraging immediately after surgery at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Dr. Robert D. Bloodwell, a transplant team member, said it was the first time the heart and lungs of one donor were transplanted into one recipient.

Debra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee, received organs of a one day old unidentified infant who had congenital brain defects, a hospital spokesman said.

The donor died at 7:30 p.m. Minutes later a surgical team headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley began the operation. Debra was aided by a respirator 27 minutes during surgery which was completed at 8:27 p.m.

'Army Now Equalizing,' Negro General Declares

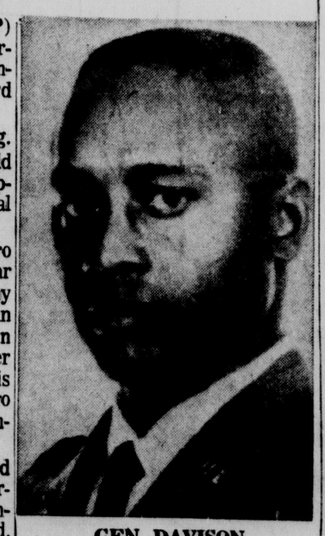

BINH CHANH, Vietnam (AP) — America's third Negro general says the Army has made "unbelievable" progress toward eliminating segregation.

The Army is not perfect, Brig. Gen. Frederic Ellis Davison told newsmen, but "I believe the opportunity is there. It isn't equal yet, but it's equalizing."

Davison, who led an all-Negro infantry company in World War II, stood at attention Sunday while the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., pinned a brigadier general's silver star onto his collar. He is the first Negro Army general to lead an infantry brigade in combat.

Gales Bring New Threat Along Coast

Hundreds Without Homes Over Large Section Of Country

LONDON (AP) — Gales and torrential rain lashed southern England today, adding to the havoc caused by the worst floods in 15 years. The army moved in to help with relief and rescue work.

Road and rail services were disrupted over thousands of square miles from Kent in the east to Dorset in the west. Hundreds were homeless. Thousands of London commuters couldn't get to work.

Tides Pose Threat

Authorities kept anxious watch for higher tides along the east coast and the Thames Estuary, where northeast gales brought a new and more serious threat. The combination of northeast gales and higher tides in 1953 caused Britain's worst floods of the century, with 307 persons drowned.

This time the only casualty so far was a woman swept away from her car as a river inundated a road in Sussex. Her daughter was swept away, too, but was found alive clinging to a tree half a mile down river.

The weather bureau said the nonstop rain which caused the floods was the product of a freak collision of two air streams. One, heading north from the Bay of Biscay, was warm and moisture-laden. The other, from the northeast, was cold. Their impact brought severe electrical storms.

Damage Surveyed

Helicopters went out at dawn to survey possible routes to several Kentish towns and villages reported completely isolated.

The River Wandle, normally little more than a stream, broke its banks during the night at Wimbledon in South London, flooding scores of houses. Schools and a bingo hall on higher land were used as shelters.

Lewisham, a busy shopping center in southeast London, was like a lake. Water stood four feet deep in the streets. Damage to stocks in department stores was immense.

Road and rail links were hardest hit in Kent, Essex, Surrey and Sussex, the four counties which supply the bulk of London's commuters. Thousands of cars were abandoned. Mudslides poured over rail lines already disrupted by electrical failures.

One Killed, 49 Hurt In 'Fair' Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Eleven minimonorail cars derailed at the HemisFair Sunday, killing one person and injuring 49 after one of the trains struck another.

Thirteen of the injured remained in hospitals today as an investigation began to determine the cause of the accident.

Witnessses said the cars derailed after one train struck another from behind as they were rounding a curve by the HemisFair infirmary.

Bystanders and fair employes rushed to rescue the injured from the cars, two of which had fallen into a lagoon beside the 12-foot-tall monorail. One woman was saved from drowning.

"It was horrible," said Chris Ilg, 21, of Akron, Ohio, a fair employe. "I heard a tremendous crash and I saw people falling out—a little boy fell out, and people were screaming and asking where their families were."

"It was like a slow snake creeping down," she said.

The dead woman was identified by hospital officials as Emilee Schmidt, 65, of Ellisville, Mo. Her sister-in-law, Ella Schmidt, 71, of Glencoe, Mo., was injured and in fair condition.

"It was horrible," said Chris Ilg, 21, of Akron, Ohio, a fair employe. "I heard a tremendous crash and I saw people falling out—a little boy fell out, and people were screaming and asking where their families were."

"It was like a slow snake creeping down," she said.

The dead woman was identified by hospital officials as Emilee Schmidt, 65, of Ellisville, Mo. Her sister-in-law, Ella Schmidt, 71, of Glencoe, Mo., was injured and in fair condition.

Infant Gets Heart, Lungs Transplant

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A two month old girl received the transplanted heart and lungs of another infant Sunday.

The condition of the recipient, Debra Lynn Lee of Hufsmith, Tex., near Houston, was described as encouraging immediately after surgery at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Dr. Robert D. Bloodwell, a transplant team member, said it was the first time the heart and lungs of one donor were transplanted into one recipient.

Debra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee, received organs of a one day old unidentified infant who had congenital brain defects, a hospital spokesman said.

The donor died at 7:30 p.m. Minutes later a surgical team headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley began the operation. Debra was aided by a respirator 27 minutes during surgery which was completed at 8:27 p.m.

'Army Now Equalizing,' Negro General Declares

BINH CHANH, Vietnam (AP) — America's third Negro general says the Army has made "unbelievable" progress toward eliminating segregation.

The Army is not perfect, Brig. Gen. Frederic Ellis Davison told newsmen, but "I believe the opportunity is there. It isn't equal yet, but it's equalizing."

Davison, who led an all-Negro infantry company in World War II, stood at attention Sunday while the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., pinned a brigadier general's silver star onto his collar. He is the first Negro Army general to lead an infantry brigade in combat.

In a small ceremony in an old fishnet factory, the headquarters of Davison's 199th Light Infantry Brigade, Abrams said,

France Plans To Modernize Universities

PARIS (AP) — France has announced major reforms of its tradition-bound university system in a move viewed as a concession to demands by students who touched off France's paralyzing strike wave last spring.

French Education Minister Edgar Faure, who was chosen by President Charles de Gaulle to take over the ministry at the height of the June disorders, outlined the changes.

Faure promised that university examinations—a chief target of the student protestors—would be radically modified next year. But he insisted that exams postponed because of the student unrest last spring must be taken now and would have to follow the traditional pattern.

There have been dozens of incidents of students disrupting examination sessions now under way.

There was no immediate reaction from student leaders to Faure's proposals.

Faure also announced these reform programs for the new school year starting in November.

— Creation of a exprimental center where 7,500 students will begin a new broad liberal arts curriculum similar to that used in many American universities. French students have been forced to study within their chosen specialities. Curriculum reform has been one of their main demands.

— Students at the experimental center also will be allowed broader participation in campus life and university administration.

— Some 1,500 literature students at the Sorbonne will take scientific courses at a suburban university center in an effort to encourage the bridging of academic disciplines. At the same time, science students will be encouraged to take arts and letters studies. This, too, is an experimental program.

— Two more centers will be opened where students can get certificates after 2-, 4- or 6-year intervals. The principal change here is the two-year cutoff, enabling students to use their university training in the job market earlier than in the past.

— The Paris faculty of medicine, now concentrated into one overcrowded center, will be split into 10 autonomous medical schools. This will allow most students to begin their practical training in hospitals in the third year of medical school. Many medical students have been delayed in taking their hospital training because of the centralization, overcrowding and administrative backlog.

Faure said those measures were the first in a series of broad reforms that the government plans.

Soviet Ship Reported In Hawaiian Waters

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — The Navy said Sunday a Soviet intelligence vessel was within 12.5 miles of Barbers Point Naval Air Station on the island of Oahu.

The Soviet ship, Gavril Sarychev, was followed routinely by the U.S. Navy destroyer escort Charles Berry.

The Gavril Sarychev moved into Hawaiian waters more than a week ago, the Navy said, and has been traveling all around the islands.

Although the United States maintains a 12-mile fishing limit on its coasts, the vessel could move in as close as three miles and still be considered in international waters.

As long as the ship stays beyond the three-mile limit "we have no objection to that," a Navy spokesman said.

The Navy said it had not attempted to communicate with the Russian vessel.

Dr. Spock Confident Of Successful Appeal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock said Sunday he's confident the appeal of his conviction for conspiring to encourage young men to avoid the draft will be successful.

Spock, who was convicted with three others in Boston of conspiracy last spring, told newsmen: "Our lawyers are confident that the verdict will be reversed."

Then, the noted pediatrician commented on this year's major party candidates for president, calling it "a horrible choice."

He said Richard M. Nixon has "always been for a bloodier war," Hubert H. Humphrey is "appalling in the way that he supports (President) Johnson more enthusiastically than Johnson supports himself" and George C. Wallace is "worst of all because he doesn't understand anything."

The first U.S. president to make use of the term "cabinet" in reference to the presidential group of advisers was James Madison. The first recorded meeting of this group, held in 1791 by President George Washington, included the secretaries of state, war, treasury and the attorney general.

Critics Rap TV, Radio Version Of Chicago's Strife

CHICAGO (AP) — A program presenting Chicago's official version of disorders during the Democratic National Convention produced scant new information and showed little of police clashes with demonstrators, critics contend.

Leaders of the peace demonstrators charged Sunday night after the television and radio broadcast that the city had failed to prove its charge that the protesters planned to discredit the government.

However, Robert J. O'Rourke, a Chicago alderman and Republican candidate for state's attorney, said the program "clearly documented how the police crushed a well organized plan for insurrection."

Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, ordered the program produced because he said telecasts during convention week presented a one-sided account of the street violence.

The one-hour show, titled "What Trees Do They Plant?" and subtitled "Strategy of a Confrontation," was broadcast by more than 140 television stations across the country.

The show concentrated on comments from police officials and previously televised interviews with demonstration leaders.

Many of the film clips depicting the week-long confrontation between police and protesters were shot from long range.

David Dellinger, 50, chairman of the National Mobilization Committee, an umbrella group for demonstrators, said city officials "failed to build a case to justify either the extreme violence of the police . . . or to substantiate their reckless charges."

Sidney Lens, cochairman of the committee, critized the documentary for omitting footage of police clubbing demonstrators. "The most serious thing (about the film) was what was left out," he said.

Jerry Rubin, a leader of the Youth International Party—the Yippies—praised the film for showing, "the courage of America's youth" in facing the police violence.

Rubin, 28, of New York, told a Chicago radio station the film might have been produced by Yippie infiltrators in Daley's administration.

Graduate Takes Dayton Position

Mrs. Rebecca Hopper McGilvery, a recent graduate of Ohio State University, has accepted a teaching position in the Dayton school system.

Mrs. McGilvery is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hopper Sr. of 7th Ave., LaCroft, and the wife of Daniel M. McGilvery of Dayton.

She received the William Franklin Boyd Memorial Scholarship given through the East Liverpool Citizens Scholarship Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Boyd of Portsmouth, Ohio, in memory of one of their sons.

Attending the graduation in addition to her parents and husband were a brother and sister, John and Cindy Hopper; her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McGilvery; an aunt, Mrs. Loretta Starbuck, and a grandmother, Mrs. Delmas Watson. A brother - in - law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Craft Jr., visited with Mr. and Mrs. McGilvery recently.

Dedication Held For Kent Branch

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — Federal education official Philip H. Des Marais was the main speaker Saturday for Kent State University's new $1.8 million Tuscarawas County branch campus.

Des Marais, deputy assistant secretary of education, said some young Americans "are opposed to the whole set of values honored by the world around them.

"Their uneasiness is itself a search for deeper and more lasting values."

The 186-acre branch campus is south of New Philadelphia near the restored Moravian mission town of Schoenbrunn. It has a three-story brick and stone contemporary building with classrooms and offices, and wings for scientific and technical education and a gymnasium.

First classes were held at the branch campus in July. Its fall term will start next Monday under Director Francis E. Hazard, former assistant director of Kent State's Canton center.

John D. Millett, Ohio regents chancellor, attended the dedication.

Man Beaten, Rocks Tossed After Auto Death In Weirton

WEIRTON — One man was beaten and several plate glass windows were broken in a series of rock-throwing incidents late Saturday night after a Negro man was killed when struck by a car in north Weirton.

Weirton police also reported a number of similar incidents occurred sporadically throughout Sunday but indicated they consisted of minor assaults.

Stanley Chitock of New Cumberland received abrasions and lacerations when he was dragged out of a car in which he was riding and beaten with a brick. Chitock was taken to Weirton General Hospital where he was listed today as "satisfactory".

William Brandon, 55, of 125 Alta St., Weirton, was charged with negligent homicide in connection with the death of Riley Jennings, 44, of 101 Avenue A, who died after he was struck by Brandon's car while walking along 2nd St. shortly after leaving his home.

The assault and vandalism occurred shortly after the death of the Negro pedestrian, and a group of about 40 Negroes gathered in north Weirton.

Chitock was a passenger in an auto driven by Clarence Daugherty of 235 Booker St., Weirton. Both men had just left the Weirton Steel Gate One, and were driving up Main St., when Chitock was dragged from the car. The assault is still under investigation by Weirton Police.

Windows were smashed at the Northend Bus Terminal of the Pittsburgh and Weirton Bus Co., the Independent Grocery at 1206 Main St., People's' Restaurant at 1244 Main St., Columbia Bar and Ferguson Tire Co., both on Main St.

Taken from the Independent Grocery Store were food and cigars and cigarettes valued at more than $100. The theft occurred after the plate glass window was rokebn by vandals.

Cars driving in that area were also struck by rocks.

No arrests were made in connection with the incidents which were the first in Weirton since early August when a disturbance of several days was triggered by a ban on inter-racial dancing at the Millsop Community Center.

A settlement on the ban was arranged by the Weirton Associated Residents (WAR), the Park Board of the City Recreation Department, Weirton Human Rights Commission and city officials.

Chief Edward Frankovitch said today all available policemen were on duty over the weekend, but only the regulars remained on duty today.

Cyclist, 9, Hurt When Hit By Car On Route 267

A Glenmoor youth was treated at City Hospital following a car - bicycle accident at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Jeffrey McConnell, 17, of Ft. Monmouth, N. J. was driving a 1961 coach on Route 267 when William L. Kiehl, 9, son of Laverne Kiehl Jr. of St. John St., cycled out of a driveway into the path of the auto, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

The Kiehl boy was treated for abrasions of the left arm and contusions of the left ankle and released.

James L. Eastham of 420 Gardendale Ave. was driving north on Campground Rd. Saturday just north of East Liverpool when his auto went off the left side of the road and struck an embankment. There was slight damage to his auto.

Leonard S. Sheerer, 36, of Rogers was cited by the Patrol for failure to stop at a stop sign as a result of a truck-station wagon accident in Rogers on Route 154 at 6:45 p.m. Sunday.

Sheerer was attempting to make a left turn in his 1964 station wagon when he pulled into the path of the 1967 pickup truck driven by Ralph Walter Toot, 45, of 367 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon. Neither man was injured, officers said.

Charles Schiffbauer of 345 E. 8th St., a laceration of the second right finger on a power lawn mower; Mrs. Ottis Stewart of East Liverpool RD 1, a dog bite on the right hand.

TREATED Saturday were Ralph Seevers, son of Harold Seeverss of 1631 Globe St., a fractured right arm while playing football; Fred Butcher, stepson of John Watson of the Y. & O. Rd., a laceration of the right leg on glass.

Alice Sim of 1029 Bradhaw Ave., contusions of the left wrist and skull in a fall at a local store; Austin Eastham of Goose Run Rd., Toronto, an employe of Day & Zimmerman Co., a contusion of the left leg on a sledgehammer.

Cora West, daughter of Joseph West of 357 Ogden St., a laceration of the neck on a bottle; Vicki Taubert, daughter of Ralph Taubert of the Annesley Rd., a puncture wound of the left foot on a nail.

Until recent years, Bhutan, a hermit kingdom in the heart of the Himalayas, was so primitive that there were no wheeled vehicles.

This pyramid symbol, seen in national magazines, is the identification mark of members of National Selected Morticians.

It identifies leading funeral directors in more than 800 cities across this continent and abroad. We are proud to be one of them — the only one in this community.

The symbol is a special distinction, because membership in National Selected Morticians is by invitation and is the result of thorough investigation of services, performance and facilities.

So membership in NSM is your guide to outstanding funeral service. A good thing to remember when the need arises.

Critics Rap TV, Radio Version Of Chicago's Strife

CHICAGO (AP) — A program presenting Chicago's official version of disorders during the Democratic National Convention produced scant new information and showed little of police clashes with demonstrators, critics contend.

Leaders of the peace demonstrators charged Sunday night after the television and radio broadcast that the city had failed to prove its charge that the protesters planned to discredit the government.

However, Robert J. O'Rourke, a Chicago alderman and Republican candidate for state's attorney, said the program "clearly documented how the police crushed a well organized plan for insurrection."

Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, ordered the program produced because he said telecasts during convention week presented a one-sided account of the street violence.

The one-hour show, titled "What Trees Do They Plant?" and subtitled "Strategy of a Confrontation," was broadcast by more than 140 television stations across the country.

The show concentrated on comments from police officials and previously televised interviews with demonstration leaders.

Many of the film clips depicting the week-long confrontation between police and protesters were shot from long range.

David Dellinger, 50, chairman of the National Mobilization Committee, an umbrella group for demonstrators, said city officials "failed to build a case to justify either the extreme violence of the police . . . or to substantiate their reckless charges."

Sidney Lens, cochairman of the committee, critized the documentary for omitting footage of police clubbing demonstrators. "The most serious thing (about the film) was what was left out," he said.

Jerry Rubin, a leader of the Youth International Party—the Yippies—praised the film for showing, "the courage of America's youth" in facing the police violence.

Rubin, 28, of New York, told a Chicago radio station the film might have been produced by Yippie infiltrators in Daley's administration.

Graduate Takes Dayton Position

Mrs. Rebecca Hopper McGilvery, a recent graduate of Ohio State University, has accepted a teaching position in the Dayton school system.

Mrs. McGilvery is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hopper Sr. of 7th Ave., LaCroft, and the wife of Daniel M. McGilvery of Dayton.

She received a bachelor of science degree in education during commencement exercises at OSU.

While at the university, she was a member of the Women's Self - Government Association and the House President's Council. She received the William Franklin Boyd Memorial Scholarship given through the East Liverpool Citizens Scholarship Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Boyd of Portsmouth, Ohio, in memory of one of their sons.

Attending the graduation in addition to her parents and husband were a brother and sister, John and Cindy Hopper; her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McGilvery; an aunt, Mrs. Loretta Starbuck, and a grandmother, Mrs. Delmas Watson. A brother - in - law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Craft Jr., visited with Mr. and Mrs. McGilvery recently.

Dedication Held For Kent Branch

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — Federal education official Philip H. Des Marais was the main speaker Saturday for Kent State University's new $1.8 million Tuscarawas County branch campus.

Des Marais, deputy assistant secretary of education, said some young Americans "are opposed to the whole set of values honored by the world around them.

"Their uneasiness is itself a search for deeper and more lasting values."

The 186-acre branch campus is south of New Philadelphia near the restored Moravian mission town of Schoenbrunn. It has a three-story brick and stone contemporary building with classrooms and offices, and wings for scientific and technical education and a gymnasium.

First classes were held at the branch campus in July. Its fall term will start next Monday under Director Francis E. Hazard, former assistant director of Kent State's Canton center.

John D. Millett, Ohio regents chancellor, attended the dedication.

Man Beaten, Rocks Tossed After Auto Death In Weirton

WEIRTON — One man was beaten and several plate glass windows were broken in a series of rock-throwing incidents late Saturday night after a Negro man was killed when struck by a car in north Weirton.

Weirton police also reported a number of similar incidents occurred sporadically throughout Sunday but indicated they consisted of minor assaults.

Stanley Chitock of New Cumberland received abrasions and lacerations when he was dragged out of a car in which he was riding and beaten with a brick. Chitock was taken to Weirton General Hospital where he was listed today as "satisfactory"

William Brandon, 55, of 125 Alta St., Weirton, was charged with negligent homicide in connection with the death of Riley Jennings, 44, of 101 Avenue A, who died after he was struck by Brandon's car while walking along 2nd St. shortly after leaving his home.

The assault and vandalism occurred shortly after the death of the Negro pedestrian, and a group of about 40 Negroes gathered in north Weirton.

Chitock was a passenger in an auto driven by Clarence Daugherty of 235 Booker St., Weirton. Both men had just left the Weirton Steel Gate One, and were driving up Main St., when Chitock was dragged from the car. The assault is still under investigation by Weirton Police.

Windows were smashed at the Northend Bus Terminal of the Pittsburgh and Weirton Bus Co., the Independent Grocery at 1206 Main St., People's' Restaurant at 1244 Main St., Columbia Bar and Ferguson Tire Co., both on Main St.

Taken from the Independent Grocery Store were food and cigars and cigarettes valued at more than $100. The theft occurred after the plate glass window was rokebn by vandals.

Cars driving in that area were also struck by rocks.

No arrests were made in connection with the incidents which were the first in Weirton since early August when a disturbance of several days was triggered by a ban on inter-racial dancing at the Millsop Community Center.

A settlement on the ban was arranged by the Weirton Associated Residents (WAR), the Park Board of the City Recreation Department, Weirton Human Rights Commission and city officials.

Chief Edward Frankovitch said today all available policemen were on duty over the weekend, but only the regulars remained on duty today.

Cyclist, 9, Hurt When Hit By Car On Route 267

A Glenmoor youth was treated at City Hospital following a car - bicycle accident at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Jeffrey McConnell, 17, of Ft. Monmouth, N. J. was driving a 1961 coach on Route 267 when William L. Kiehl, 9, son of Laverne Kiehl Jr. of St. John St., cycled out of a driveway into the path of the auto, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

The Kiehl boy was treated for abrasions of the left arm and contusions of the left ankle and released.

James L. Eastham of 420 Gardendale Ave. was driving north on Campground Rd. Saturday just north of East Liverpool when his auto went off the left side of the road and struck an embankment. There was slight damage to his auto.

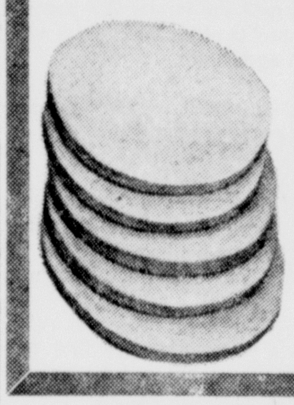

Leonard S. Sheerer, 36, of Rogers was cited by the Patrol for failure to stop at a stop sign as a result of a truck-station wagon accident in Rogers on Route 154 at 6:45 p.m. Sunday.

Sheerer was attempting to make a left turn in his 1964 station wagon when he pulled into the path of the 1967 pickup truck driven by Ralph Walter Toot, 45, of 367 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon. Neither man was injured, officers said.

Two Sides Of Agriculture

Ohio's fertile flatlands and rolling hills are yielding a record harvest.

Crop production is 4 per cent higher than 1966's record and is a full 10 per cent above lost year's level.

Substantial per-acre yields are anticipated for all crops with some reaching above all-time highs.

FAVORABLE WEATHER, modern equipment and wise use of technical information concerning fertilizer, plant disease and cultivation methods have contributed to the bountiful harvest.

Production success of this magnitude is a tribute to Ohio's farmers and should indicate a sense of harmony and well-being in the field of agriculture.

Here is a sampling of projected Ohio yields: corn, 260,000,000 bushels (15 per cent above average); wheat, 46,600,000 bushels; oats, 45,800,000 bushels (nearly double last year's crop); soybeans, 66,000,000 bushels, and hay 3,400,000 tons.

Ohio's achievement, when multiplied many times by production strides taken in other states, logically should point toward farm stability in this country and hope for hungry nations of the world.

Something is wrong, however, for the agriculture picture is far from rosy.

In our own state this bounteous year we have seen farmers slaughter and bury meat animals and burn grain to raise prices; tomatoes have rotted in the field when pickers refused to work until they received more money and fields of sweet corn have gone to waste because farmers and canners couldn't work out their problems.

HIGH OPERATION costs and low prices are forcing many small farmers to give up. Unrest grows among those who stay.

No other area of American enterprise is as rigidly controlled by the government as the field of agriculture. Likewise, no other area is so fouled up despite all the outward appearances of tremendous success and in the face of unlimited potential.

Until the government finds a way to work with the farmer, rather than treating him like a puppet on a string, until mutually satisfactory solutions are agreed upon, until the farmer can look on the government as a leader rather than a dictator and until the farmer can share reasonably in the profits of his labor, there will be no harmony in agriculture.

'58 Education In '68 Schools?

East Liverpool residents, who passed a $3.4 million bond issue in 1964 to build four new modern school buildings, took an official look at their investment Sunday.

For the most part, those at the dedication and open house at the high school, North, East and LaCroft elementary schools, believed they have received their money's worth.

The city school district joins Hancock County, Western Beaver, Edison Local, Southern Local, Beaver Local, South Side in offering up-to-date, comfortable, convenient and safe physical facilities for education.

Those visiting the bright, ample classrooms, walking the pleasant corridors, viewing the libraries, cafeterias and multi-purpose rooms could not help but compare them with the dark, worn, aged buildings which had served so many generations of city students across the community.

Close looks at the textbooks, lab facilities, teaching methods showed it not only is the appearance of schools which has changed, but the very scope of education and its techniques have undergone tremendous revisions and growth in the past decade.

Empty chairs and unoccupied teacher's desks Sunday served as a pointed reminder of the real meaning of education, the learning relationship between individual students and the instructor which imparts the knowledge and problem-solving achievements and develops the mature adult.

It is a long road from the crude cabin in which the city's youngsters were first taught to the campus on the hill and the new East End and LaCroft buildings. But the fundamental learning process is basically the same—only the tremendous expansion of things to be learned—from electronics, new math and complicated economics to modern art, changed concepts of chemistry and vast improvements in communications—is different. But how different!

East Liverpool has to keep up with education, not just with new buildings, but with the programs which mean education. The schools need not only the two operating levies up for renewal in Tuesday's election, but the students need the textbooks, the guidance counselors, the audio-visual aide equipment, the kindergartens, the staff additions and special curriculum courses which the new levy can provide and which are important to any school system.

Our young people deserve more than a 1958 education in 1968 buildings. A "yes" vote tomorrow can give it to them.

'Gulp'—Sound Of The Times

Worry — with its accompanying symptoms of headaches and jitters — has become somewhat of a 20th century institution.

The world situation is a never-ending source of worry subjects. Then there are areas of concern on the state level.

But the real strength of the worry culture lies in its lush local growth. Heading the list are family tensions with Mom, Dad and the kids all contributing.

The neighbors, their kids and their dogs are close to the top of the topic list.

Care of the lawn, the car, the home, etc. round out the list.

So, where in all this does that phrase about "something good in everything" come into play?

The answer is provided by Associated Press columnist Hal Boyle.

He reports that Americans consume 30 pounds of aspirin every minute around the clock — more than 2½ times a day — to alleviate their headaches and to calm jittery nerves.

At least aspirin makers are happy over everyone else's worries. They aren't even worried that citizens will stop worrying and kill their business.

They know it is an impossibility for the layman to run out of worry material — even if all current worries were laid to rest. They are confident the citizen wouldn't be able to forget all those aspirin-making workers he put out of a job.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

And now with the presidential campaigns under way we have the year of the orator.

One of the big tasks of radio and TV announcers is to try to keep candidates from hogging the microphones. A candidate goes for a microphone the way a baby or a lush goes for a bottle! "We gotta get our message across to the people."

If and when the national conventions are abolished and replaced by national primary elections something will be lost to the American way of life. The conventions provided not only a lot of hoopla but concentrated doses of oratory, such as the keynote addresses which usually featured the best public speakers in the nation. But not all the speakers were of that high quality.

Candidates as a rule have to be able to speak out at any time on any podium on any subject. And there is often a mistaken belief that because a person excels in one field he automatically can excel in any field. This is erroneous, particularly in the matter of public speaking.

THERE WAS THE TIME right after the Civil War when Gens. Grant and Sherman were greeted by a crowd of well-wishers in Chicago.

The crowd called for speech from Gen. Sherman and when he demurred there were cries for Gen. Grant, his superior officer, to order him to speak. But Gen. Grant also shrank from the ordeal, telling the throng, "I would not order one of my men to undertake what I would not undertake myself."

Those who shudder at the thought of addressing an audience may also take some slight consolation from the example of Henry Ford whose longest public speech is reported to have been 28 words long.

Or to go back even further we can take St. Paul whose public speaking put a man to sleep. The incident is recounted in the Bible, Acts 20:9-12, which says:

"And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with the sleep, and fell down the third loft, and was taken up dead.

"And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, 'Trouble not yourselfs; for his life is in him.

"When he therefore was come up again and had broken bread, and eaten and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed."

"And they brought the young man alive and were not a little comforted."

Oh for a Paul to bring us all alive after campaign oratory has put us to sleep.

Now that the Republicans claim the Democrats have to "Clear it with Daley," and the Democrats claim the Republicans have to "Clear it with Strom," Nixon and Humphrey must be muttering to themselves that old saw, "I can take care of my enemies but God save me from my friends."

MAYOR DALEY'S exhibition of law and order during the convention in Chicago should have gained the Democrats some votes from those who use that as a campaign issue.

It's neither here nor there but Sen. Muskie comes from a state where muskellunge are highly respected as a prize by sportsmen.

Do you suppose Russia will now build a wall around Czechoslovakia?

With baseball attendance in the doldrums, we often hear arguments about which is the most popular professional sport. Last year a total of 25 million attended games played by the 20 major legue baseball teams; pro football attendance in both leagues was 8.5 million; college football drew 26 million and horseracing, which goes on the year-round in different parts of the country, topped them all with 70 million spectators. That clear that up?

Faithfully yours,
MAX

'. . . And If You Happen To Throw A Beanball, I'll Happen To Look The Other Way!'

VICTOR RIESEL

A Waterfront Counterattack

NEW YORK: — Leaders of enraged longshoremen, who have been accused of using their sharp baling hooks to etch American foreign policy, are about to unleash a new international crisis. And some of us are standing at the dockside cheering the men whom academicians these days believe it is such high fashion to mock.

Victor Riesel

These longshoremen appear to be among the few in the land who were so embittered by the Soviets' invasion of Czechoslovakia that they took it as a personal insult and plan to do something about it.

Patiently, the dockwallopers await the arrival, in Eastern U.S. ports, of a fleet of Polish freighters now on the open seas. When the Communist cargo carriers arrive in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk and this big harbor during the next few weeks, members of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL-CIO) plan to boycott and paralyze them.

Pier workers in Eastern and Gulf ports, led by Thomas (Teddy) Gleason, who carries his patriotism as openly as Chicago demonstrators carried the Viet Cong flag, high and in the open, have decided to "withhold their labor" from Polish ship operators.

THE DOCKERS MAY hammer it all down by picketing harbor pilots, officers and others who service these craft. Thus, if the Polish shipping trust does put its freighters into U.S. ports, it may not get them out again for a long time.

Apparently the Polish government, which carries cargo for the Russians, the Bulgarians, the Hungarians and the East Germans, is in high fashion, too. It must be planning a confrontation. According to the longshoremen's union, the Poles' SS Hug Kollatha, the SS Domeyko and the craft which is (phonetically) called the Roma, are heading for Philadelphia and New York this minute.

If they do put in, Teddy Gleason says they'll not be worked — unloaded or loaded, serviced or "turned around."

Though Teddy Gleason can't turn a phrase as deftly as he can twist a baling hook into American foreign policy, he does well in his "gutsy" fashion.

"Why should we work for those who invaded a small nation which truly was born on our soil?" "Teddy" asks, and not plaintively either. "We respect the Polish people and there are many of these good folk among our membership. But the Warsaw government is a thing of another color — red. The Polish freighter fleet carries cargo for the Eastern Communist bloc made up of the very nations whose military forces invaded Czechoslovakia.

"The Poles carry some 250,000 tons a year into the U.S. This gives them a profit of millions of dollars of hard currency. We've gone along with the State Department in the past and have worked Polish ships. But the department can build bridges to the East by itself now. We're not working those freighters any longer."

THIS TIME the longshoremen will not be out front in isolated range. Their boycott will begin while the powerful AFL-CIO Executive Council (its high command) is in session at the Hotel Commodore just 10 streets from the West Side piers here.

Thus the American labor movement can lash out at the Soviets in the only practical demonstration available to the citizenry — boycott.

While the longshoremen turn their backs on the Polish ships, the nation's labor leaders will turn loose its abhorrence of Soviet tactics.

Like so many of the fighting Irish, Teddy Gleason puts no time limit on his crusade. He has been pressuring the six million-member, London-based, International Transport Workers Federation (ITF) to pick up a piece of the action. IFT policy makers apparently have not been so aggrieved over the invasion. They seek a 24-hour global boycott. Teddy Gleason believes this would simply give Communist seamen a one-day shore leave holiday.

"THE IDEA OF A 24-hour boycott against the Communist group is a farce," Gleason wrote, on Sept. 3, to Charles Blyth, London-based world-wide leader of the ITF. "What would it accomplish? It seems to me we must all act like men representing the unions and organizations of the Free world and stop vacillating about what is a popular dictation and an unpopular dictation. It seems to me if we are against dictators, let's take a stand against all dictatorships."

Along with the letter, Gleason sent his union's resolution which calls for " a blanket boycott, with no time limit, against all cargoes and ships emanating from and registered in the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Burgaria."

Soon Teddy Gleason and his longshoremen will be knicked by the rapier thrusts of those who never saw a baling hook until they took their first luxury liner holiday.

But the Teddy Gleasons need answer to no one. They stand on their rights — and these include the privilege of refusing to work for Communist military dictatorships.

RAYMOND MOLEY

History Lesson

Hubert Humphrey is rallying his partisans by reminding that in 1948 things looked worse than they do now but that President Truman snatched victory from the jaws of defeat.

No doubt when Humphrey taught his students at Macalester College he commended the study of history. He may have quoted the old saw that "the past is prologue" and that those who neglect the lessons of the past are destined to repeat its mistakes.

My own history professor, in those quiet pastoral days when Columbia was a place of inquiry and learning, warned about drawing parallels from history as guides for what might happen now. It is well, therefore, to consider what cost the Republican party a victory that seemed assured in that year and to examine present conditions to see whether any tenable parallel can be drawn.

Books have been written about that campaign and the best is Jules Abels' "Out of the Jaws of Victory." But there is space here only to note the major factors which differentiate the two election years.

IT IS TRUE that President Truman reached the nadir of unpopularity in March, just as President Johnson did this year. And that many Democratic leaders were determined to deny Mr. Truman the nomination. Also, that after he was nominated all of the oracles, including the polls, prophesied the election of the Dewey-Warren ticket.

At the outset Gov. Dewey failed to anticipate the thrust of the Truman appeal to the country. For the President almost completely ignored Dewey and concentrated his fire on what he called the "do-nothing" 30th Congress. But Dewey had decided, in 1947, that he would not make an issue of the fine record of that Republican-controlled Congress.

I remember well that I discussed that subject with Dewey and that I wrote a magazine piece stating his position. He said that while he was titular leader of his party because he had been the candidate in 1944, he did not consider it to be his responsibility to direct or praise the record of that Congress.

Perhaps that was because Robert A. Taft had been the towering leader in that Congress and would be Dewey's opponent for the nomination.

At any rate, he left the record of that Congress, including the Taft-Hartley Act, naked before the attack of Mr. Truman. This, in itself, alienated a host of Republicans.

Another factor which contributed to the apathy which prevailed among Republican voters was the relative impotence of the Republican National Committee and its staff.

Following an old, lamentable custom, Dewey had appointed a new national chairman as soon as he was nominated. He summarily dismissed the incumbent, Carroll Reece, and designated Hugh Scott in his place.

It was most strange that Dewey, a competent organizer, never worried about good organization at the grass roots. He depended entirely on his own campaign manager, Herbert Brownell, who was too busy to look after state and local party groups.

His choice of Earl Warren proved to be unfortunate. For Warren's campaigning had, as it had been in California earlier, no appeal to the Republican party as such but to Democrats and independents. And on some of the major issues Dewey and Warren were in strong disagreement.

Finally, Dewey's style of campaigning was wholly out of character. He had made his reputation as a relentless prosecutor. He was always best on the attack. But instead of attacking the Truman and Roosevelt records, he took what was called the "high road."

In his acceptance speech he gave a sample of what he was to say over and over as the campaign progressed. "Our people . . . yearn for higher ground, to find a common purpose in the fine things that unite us . . . The unity we seek is more than material . . . Spiritually, we have yet to find the means to make a good society, a community of men of good will that fits our dream." Dewey had a minister of the Gospel on his staff to confect such stuff for him.

NONE OF THESE FACTORS of weakness will plague the Republican party this year. Richard Nixon relies upon the national committee which is headed by the most competent chairman the party has had in many years. Ray Bliss will get the voters registered and get the voters to the polls.

Nixon has had, and will continue to have, close working relations with the Republicans in Congress. His choice of a vice presidential candidate is a man who thinks like he does and who will be a forceful campaigner. And his acceptance speech avoided the banalities of the 1948 Dewey and strongly attacked the record of the Johnson-Kennedy policies and programs.

None of the mistakes that contributed to the disaster in 1948 are likely to be made this year.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Sayre Graham was elected president of the senior class of Chester High School.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Miss Donna Sprout was elected president of the Girls Interest Group of the Chester Methodist Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — Gail McFarland, veteran city fireman, announced plans to resign after more than 30 years of service.

Two Sides Of Agriculture

Ohio's fertile flatlands and rolling hills are yielding a record harvest.

Crop production is 4 per cent higher than 1966's record and is a full 10 per cent above lost year's level.

Substantial per-acre yields are anticipated for all crops with some reaching above all-time highs.

FAVORABLE WEATHER, modern equipment and wise use of technical information concerning fertilizer, plant disease and cultivation methods have contributed to the bountiful harvest.

Production success of this magnitude is a tribute to Ohio's farmers and should indicate a sense of harmony and well-being in the field of agriculture.

Here is a sampling of projected Ohio yields: corn, 260,000,000 bushels (15 per cent above average); wheat, 46,600,000 bushels; oats, 45,800,000 bushels (nearly double last year's crop); soybeans, 66,000,000 bushels, and hay 3,400,000 tons.

Ohio's achievement, when multiplied many times by production strides taken in other states, logically should point toward farm stability in this country and hope for hungry nations of the world.

Something is wrong, however, for the agriculture picture is far from rosy.

In our own state this bounteous year we have seen farmers slaughter and bury meat animals and burn grain to raise prices; tomatoes have rotted in the field when pickers refused to work until they received more money and fields of sweet corn have gone to waste because farmers and canners couldn't work out their problems.

HIGH OPERATION costs and low prices are forcing many small farmers to give up. Unrest grows among those who stay.

No other area of American enterprise is as rigidly controlled by the government as the field of agriculture. Likewise, no other area is so fouled up despite all the outward appearances of tremendous success and in the face of unlimited potential.

Until the government finds a way to work with the farmer, rather than treating him like a puppet on a string, until mutually satisfactory solutions are agreed upon, until the farmer can look on the government as a leader rather than a dictator and until the farmer can share reasonably in the profits of his labor, there will be no harmony in agriculture.

'58 Education In '68 Schools?

East Liverpool residents, who passed a $3.4 million bond issue in 1964 to build four new modern school buildings, took an official look at their investment Sunday.

For the most part, those at the dedication and open house at the high school, North, East and LaCroft elementary schools, believed they have received their money's worth.

The city school district joins Hancock County, Western Beaver, Edison Local, Southern Local, Beaver Local, South Side in offering up-to-date, comfortable, convenient and safe physical facilities for education.

Those visiting the bright, ample classrooms, walking the pleasant corridors, viewing the libraries, cafeterias and multi-purpose rooms could not help but compare them with the dark, worn, aged buildings which had served so many generations of city students across the community.

Close looks at the textbooks, lab facilities, teaching methods showed it not only is the appearance of schools which has changed, but the very scope of education and its techniques have undergone tremendous revisions and growth in the past decade.

Empty chairs and unoccupied teacher's desks Sunday served as a pointed reminder of the real meaning of education, the learning relationship between individual students and the instructor which imparts the knowledge and problem-solving achievements and develops the mature adult.

It is a long road from the crude cabin in which the city's youngsters were first taught to the campus on the hill and the new East End and LaCroft buildings. But the fundamental learning process is basically the same—only the tremendous expansion of things to be learned—from electronics, new math and complicated economics to modern art, changed concepts of chemistry and vast improvements in communications—is different. But how different!

East Liverpool has to keep up with education, not just with new buildings, but with the programs which mean education. The schools need not only the two operating levies up for renewal in Tuesday's election, but the students need the textbooks, the guidance counselors, the audio-visual aide equipment, the kindergartens, the staff additions and special curriculum courses which the new levy can provide and which are important to any school system.

Our young people deserve more than a 1958 education in 1968 buildings. A "yes" vote tomorrow can give it to them.

'Gulp'—Sound Of The Times

Worry — with its accompanying symptoms of headaches and jitters — has become somewhat of a 20th century institution.

The world situation is a never-ending source of worry subjects. Then there are areas of concern on the state level.

But the real strength of the worry culture lies in its lush local growth. Heading the list are family tensions with Mom, Dad and the kids all contributing.

The neighbors, their kids and their dogs are close to the top of the topic list.

Care of the lawn, the car, the home, etc. round out the list.

So, where in all this does that phrase about "something good in everything" come into play?

The answer is provided by Associated Press columnist Hal Boyle.

He reports that Americans consume 30 pounds of aspirin every minute around the clock — more than 2½ times a day — to alleviate their headaches and to calm jittery nerves.

At least aspirin makers are happy over everyone else's worries. They aren't even worried that citizens will stop worrying and kill their business.

They know it is an impossibility for the layman to run out of worry material — even if all current worries were laid to rest. They are confident the citizen wouldn't be able to forget all those aspirin-making workers he put out of a job.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

And now with the presidential campaigns under way we have the year of the orator.

One of the big tasks of radio and TV announcers is to try to keep candidates from hogging the microphones. A candidate goes for a microphone the way a baby or a lush goes for a bottle! "We gotta get our message across to the people."

If and when the national conventions are abolished and replaced by national primary elections something will be lost to the American way of life. The conventions provided not only a lot of hoopla but concentrated doses of oratory, such as the keynote addresses which usually featured the best public speakers in the nation. But not all the speakers were of that high quality.

Candidates as a rule have to be able to speak out at any time on any podium on any subject. And there is often a mistaken belief that because a person excels in one field he automatically can excel in any field. This is erroneous, particularly in the matter of public speaking.

THERE WAS THE TIME right after the Civil War when Gens. Grant and Sherman were greeted by a crowd of well-wishers in Chicago.

The crowd called for speech from Gen. Sherman and when he demurred there were cries for Gen. Grant, his superior officer, to order him to speak. But Gen. Grant also shrank from the ordeal, telling the throng, "I would not order one of my men to undertake what I would not undertake myself."

Those who shudder at the thought of addressing an audience may also take some slight consolation from the example of Henry Ford whose longest public speech is reported to have been 28 words long.

Or to go back even further we can take St. Paul whose public speaking put a man to sleep. The incident is recounted in the Bible, Acts 20:9-12, which says:

"And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with the sleep, and fell down the third loft, and was taken up dead.

"And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, 'Trouble not yourselfs; for his life is in him.

"When he therefore was come up again and had broken bread, and eaten and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed."

"And they brought the young man alive and were not a little comforted."

Oh for a Paul to bring us all alive after campaign oratory has put us to sleep.

Now that the Republicans claim the Democrats have to "Clear it with Daley," and the Democrats claim the Republicans have to "Clear it with Strom," Nixon and Humphrey must be muttering to themselves that old saw, "I can take care of my enemies but God save me from my friends."

MAYOR DALEY'S exhibition of law and order during the convention in Chicago should have gained the Democrats some votes from those who use that as a campaign issue.

It's neither here nor there but Sen. Muskie comes from a state where muskellunge are highly respected as a prize by sportsmen.

Do you suppose Russia will now build a wall around Czechoslovakia?

With baseball attendance in the doldrums, we often hear arguments about which is the most popular professional sport. Last year a total of 25 million attended games played by the 20 major legue baseball teams; pro football attendance in both leagues was 8.5 million; college football drew 26 million and horseracing, which goes on the year-round in different parts of the country, topped them all with 70 million spectators. That clear that up?

Faithfully yours,
MAX

VICTOR RIESEL

A Waterfront Counterattack

NEW YORK: — Leaders of enraged longshoremen, who have been accused of using their sharp baling hooks to etch American foreign policy, are about to unleash a new international crisis. And some of us are standing at the dockside cheering the men whom academicians these days believe it is such high fashion to mock.

Victor Riesel

These longshoremen appear to be among the few in the land who were so embittered by the Soviets' invasion of Czechoslovakia that they took it as a personal insult and plan to do something about it.

Patiently, the dockwallopers await the arrival, in Eastern U.S. ports, of a fleet of Polish freighters now on the open seas. When the Communist cargo carriers arrive in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk and this big harbor during the next few weeks, members of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL-CIO) plan to boycott and paralyze them.

Pier workers in Eastern and Gulf ports, led by Thomas (Teddy) Gleason, who carries his patriotism as openly as Chicago demonstrators carried the Viet Cong flag, high and in the open, have decided to "withhold their labor" from Polish ship operators.

THE DOCKERS MAY hammer it all down by picketing harbor pilots, officers and others who service these craft. Thus, if the Polish shipping trust does put its freighters into U.S. ports, it may not get them out again for a long time.

Apparently the Polish government, which carries cargo for the Russians, the Bulgarians, the Hungarians and the East Germans, is in high fashion, too. It must be planning a confrontation. According to the longshoremen's union, the Poles' SS Hug Kollatha, the SS Domeyko and the craft which is (phonetically) called the Roma, are heading for Philadelphia and New York this minute.

If they do put in, Teddy Gleason says they'll not be worked — unloaded or loaded, serviced or "turned around."

Though Teddy Gleason can't turn a phrase as deftly as he can twist a baling hook into American foreign policy, he does well in his "gutsy" fashion.

"Why should we work for those who invaded a small nation which truly was born on our soil?" "Teddy" asks, and not plaintively either. "We respect the Polish people and there are many of these good folk among our membership. But the Warsaw government is a thing of another color — red. The Polish freighter fleet carries cargo for the Eastern Communist bloc made up of the very nations whose military forces invaded Czechoslovakia.

"The Poles carry some 250,000 tons a year into the U.S. This gives them a profit of millions of dollars of hard currency. We've gone along with the State Department in the past and have worked Polish ships. But the department can build bridges to the East by itself now. We're not working those freighters any longer."

THIS TIME the longshoremen will not be out front in isolated range. Their boycott will begin while the powerful AFL-CIO Executive Council (its high command) is in session at the Hotel Commodore just 10 streets from the West Side piers here.

Thus the American labor movement can lash out at the Soviets in the only practical demonstration available to the citizenry — boycott.

While the longshoremen turn their backs on the Polish ships, the nation's labor leaders will turn loose its abhorrence of Soviet tactics.

Like so many of the fighting Irish, Teddy Gleason puts no time limit on his crusade. He has been pressuring the six million-member, London-based, International Transport Workers Federation (ITF) to pick up a piece of the action. IFT policy makers apparently have not been so aggrieved over the invasion. They seek a 24-hour global boycott. Teddy Gleason believes this would simply give Communist seamen a one-day shore leave holiday.

"THE IDEA OF A 24-hour boycott against the Communist group is a farce," Gleason wrote, on Sept. 3, to Charles Blyth, London-based world-wide leader of the ITF. "What would it accomplish? It seems to me we must all act like men representing the unions and organizations of the Free world and stop vacillating about what is a popular dictation and an unpopular dictation. It seems to me if we are against dictators, let's take a stand against all dictatorships."

Along with the letter, Gleason sent his union's resolution which calls for " a blanket boycott, with no time limit, against all cargoes and ships emanating from and registered in the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Burgaria."

Soon Teddy Gleason and his longshoremen will be knicked by the rapier thrusts of those who never saw a baling hook until they took their first luxury liner holiday.

But the Teddy Gleasons need answer to no one. They stand on their rights — and these include the privilege of refusing to work for Communist military dictatorships.

RAYMOND MOLEY

History Lesson

Hubert Humphrey is rallying his partisans by reminding that in 1948 things looked worse than they do now but that President Truman snatched victory from the jaws of defeat.

No doubt when Humphrey taught his students at Macalester College he commended the study of history. He may have quoted the old saw that "the past is prologue" and that those who neglect the lessons of the past are destined to repeat its mistakes.

My own history professor, in those quiet pastoral days when Columbia was a place of inquiry and learning, warned about drawing parallels from history as guides for what might happen now. It is well, therefore, to consider what cost the Republican party a victory that seemed assured in that year and to examine present conditions to see whether any tenable parallel can be drawn.

Books have been written about that campaign and the best is Jules Abels' "Out of the Jaws of Victory." But there is space here only to note the major factors which differentiate the two election years.

IT IS TRUE that President Truman reached the nadir of unpopularity in March, just as President Johnson did this year. And that many Democratic leaders were determined to deny Mr. Truman the nomination. Also, that after he was nominated all of the oracles, including the polls, prophesied the election of the Dewey-Warren ticket.

At the outset Gov. Dewey failed to anticipate the thrust of the Truman appeal to the country. For the President almost completely ignored Dewey and concentrated his fire on what he called the "do-nothing" 30th Congress. But Dewey had decided, in 1947, that he would not make an issue of the fine record of that Republican-controlled Congress.

I remember well that I discussed that subject with Dewey and that I wrote a magazine piece stating his position. He said that while he was titular leader of his party because he had been the candidate in 1944, he did not consider it to be his responsibility to direct or praise the record of that Congress.

Perhaps that was because Robert A. Taft had been the towering leader in that Congress and would be Dewey's opponent for the nomination.

At any rate, he left the record of that Congress, including the Taft-Hartley Act, naked before the attack of Mr. Truman. This, in itself, alienated a host of Republicans.

Another factor which contributed to the apathy which prevailed among Republican voters was the relative impotence of the Republican National Committee and its staff.

Following an old, lamentable custom, Dewey had appointed a new national chairman as soon as he was nominated. He summarily dismissed the incumbent, Carroll Reece, and designated Hugh Scott in his place.

It was most strange that Dewey, a competent organizer, never worried about good organization at the grass roots. He depended entirely on his own campaign manager, Herbert Brownell, who was too busy to look after state and local party groups.

His choice of Earl Warren proved to be unfortunate. For Warren's campaigning had, as it had been in California earlier, no appeal to the Republican party as such but to Democrats and independents. And on some of the major issues Dewey and Warren were in strong disagreement.

Finally, Dewey's style of campaigning was wholly out of character. He had made his reputation as a relentless prosecutor. He was always best on the attack. But instead of attacking the Truman and Roosevelt records, he took what was called the "high road."

In his acceptance speech he gave a sample of what he was to say over and over as the campaign progressed. "Our people . . . yearn for higher ground, to find a common purpose in the fine things that unite us . . . The unity we seek is more than material . . . Spiritually, we have yet to find the means to make a good society, a community of men of good will that fits our dream." Dewey had a minister of the Gospel on his staff to confect such stuff for him.

NONE OF THESE FACTORS of weakness will plague the Republican party this year. Richard Nixon relies upon the national committee which is headed by the most competent chairman the party has had in many years. Ray Bliss will get the voters registered and get the voters to the polls.

Nixon has had, and will continue to have, close working relations with the Republicans in Congress. His choice of a vice presidential candidate is a man who thinks like he does and who will be a forceful campaigner. And his acceptance speech avoided the banalities of the 1948 Dewey and strongly attacked the record of the Johnson-Kennedy policies and programs.

None of the mistakes that contributed to the disaster in 1948 are likely to be made this year.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Sayre Graham was elected president of the senior class of Chester High School.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Miss Donna Sprout was elected president of the Girls Interest Group of the Chester Methodist Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — Gail McFarland, veteran city fireman, announced plans to resign after more than 30 years of service.

2 Crashes In 7 Minutes

Hit-Skip Driver Escapes, Damaging Pursuing Auto

A Hancock County man told police his auto was damaged in a hit-skip crash early Sunday in the downtown area and damaged again seven minutes later on the Lisbon St. Hill as he attempted to force the fleeing motorist off the street to halt him.

Clyde A. Geer, 42, of New Cumberland RD 2 told officers his 1965 sedan was damaged on the rear bumper in the first collision yesterday at 1:10 a.m on Market St. at 3rd St.

When the other driver sped away, Geer gave chase and his auto was damaged on the right front fender when he attempted to force the fleeing motorist to halt on Lisbon St. 750 feet south of Grandview Ave., he reported. He gave officers the license number of the offending car.

Geer said he was halted for a traffic light on Market St. when his car was hit for the first time. The unidentified driver of the other auto told Geer to pull to the curb and he would call the police department.

But when Geer pulled out of the traffic lane, the other motorist turned right and proceeded west on W. 3rd St. Geer said he pursued the other auto. He said as he attempted to pass the other car and halt it, his auto was hit again and forced from the road.

A Lake County youngster was injured in a three-way collision Saturday on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," police reported.

The mishap involved a 1965 model car driven by Laura Hanna, 53, of 648 Penn Ave., Midland, a 1967 model station wagon operated by William Green, 46, of Mentor, and a 1965 sedan driven by Thomas Weigand, 25, of 410 Paalissey St.

Loretta Green, 10, of Mentor, a passenger in the William Green auto, was taken to City Hospital after the mishap. She was treated for skull injuries and released.

The Midland woman was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. She told police her brakes failed and she was unable to halt.

Officers said both the Green car and the Weigand auto were halted in a traffic lane. The Hanna car struck Green's auto from the rear and shoved it into the Weigand car, officers said.

There was damage to the front of the Hanna auto, the rear of the Weigand car and both the front and rear of the Green car, police said.

Richard G. Cable, 45, of St. Clair Ave. Ext. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. Ext. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Friday at 10:12 p.m. A fine of $10 and costs also was meted out to Clifford C. Smith, 18, of RD 2, accused of operating an unsafe vehicle. He was cited by the patrol Sept. 8 at 1:30 a.m. on Route 7. Smith said the vehicle now has been repaired.

THOMAS Cardille, 66, of Hubbard paid a fine of $15 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way at the junction of old Route 30 and Route 170. He was cited Sunday at 8:10 p. m.. by the patrol. Bernard Benford, 30, of 1211 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating an auto with defective brakes. He was cited by the patrol Thursday at 9:30 p.m. on Route 7.

John E. Edge, 38, of Martins Ferry forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of failure to display an operator's license and a $20 bond on a charge of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 1:50 a.m. on Route 7.

Bench warrants were issued for: Jack E. Watson, 19, of 9th Ave., LaCroft, cited by the patrol Sunday at 11:40 p.m. on the Y. & O. Rd. on a charge of driving 65 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone, and Susan Egloff of 513 Daisy Alley, arrested Friday at 2 p.m. on Dresden Ave. by Patrolman Ronald Brookes on a charge of operating an auto without a driver's license.

Laura Hanna of 648 Beaver Ave., Midland, whose auto was involved in a three-way collision Saturday on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond.

GARY A. Wright of Hammondsville RD 1 was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of driving an auto without an operator's permit. He produced a new license in court today. Wright was cited Sept. 6 at 12:37 a.m. on Walnut St. by Patrolman Bruce Conkle.

The court granted a continuance until Sept. 24 in the case of Jack W. McKinley of 1304 Erie St., charged with driving without a license. He was cited Friday at 1:57 a.m. at 4th and Market Sts. McKinley told the court he is in the process of obtaining a new permit.

8 More Days To Register

New Talks Seen In Ohio U. Strike

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Agreement was expected today on a date for renewed talks between Ohio University officials and representatives of Local 1699, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Both sides said Sunday they were willing to reopen the negotiations which deadlocked Aug. 14.

The local asks higher pay, an "agency shop", in which all employes in the represented categoriess would be required to pay union dues, and that the university stop using a nonunion janitorial service in the new convocation center.

Body Of Man Found Floating In Miami

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Butler County authorities were seeking the identity today of the body of a man found floating in the Miami River Sunday near the city's south city limits.

Police said long immersion made it impossible to determine the victim's approximate age. He wore clothing which appeared to be either a khaki uniform or work clothing.

The pheasant crows, but the ruffed grouse, often wrongly called a pheasant, drums by beating its wings against the ground.

"In my judgment I know of no officer more deserving."

Davison, who arrived in Vietnam in November as deputy commander of the 199th, is considered one of Abram's toughest commanders in the field.

Davison, a 51-year-old graduate of Howard University, got a reserve commission there in 1940 and eventually became the company commander of an all-Negro unit in Italy during the war.

'Was Outstanding,' Local Man Declares

"Very outstanding" and "brilliant" was the description of Frederic Davison, new general, given by William S. Allen of East Liverpool, who was a company commander under Davison during World War II.

Allen, of 1045 Pennsylvania Ave., said Davison was an exceptional officer.

William H. Dorsey of Fairview St. also served under Davison and took part in the combat phase of the operation.

Allen was with Davison in the 366th Infantry Division which was at Casablanca and Oran in North Africa, Naples and farther north into Italy. An employe of the Golden Star Dairyland, Allen, who was a first lieutenant then and later captain, said the new general was a "great field officer."

Midland Boy, 3, Hurt When Struck By Auto

Robert Fichter, 3½, of 354 Beaver Ave., Midland, was treated at Rochester General Hospital Sunday for injuries suffered when struck by an auto on 5th St. and Midland Ave.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fichter, the boy received bruises of the head and abrasions of the back in the mishap at 7:37 p.m.

According to Midland police, he ran into the street as the car, operated by Gloria J. Sparrow of 1007 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, turned from Midland Ave. up 5th St. hill.

Communists In Sweden Win Election

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Socialists strengthened their 36-year grip on the Swedish welfare state with a smashing parliamentary election victory Sunday, the biggest vote of confidence the Social Democratic party has won since the war.

The outcome was a surprise to most political commentators, who had expected a much closer race. It also checked the trend to the right in Scandinavia. Both Norway and Denmark ousted Socialist governments in the past two years in favor of non-Socialist governments.

On the basis of computer calculations, the Socialists provisionally took 49 per cent of the vote and 125 of the 233 seats at stake in the lower house of Parliament, a gain of 12 seats.

The combined opposition dropped seven seats to a total of 105, while the Communists retained only three of their eight seats.

This gave the Socialists a majority of 17 seats, their first since World War II. In the last house, they had a working majority of nine because the eight Communists always voted with them.

Wildlife Division Receives Award

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Natural Resources was notified Saturday its Division of Wildlife had been selected for the National Hunter Safety Award.

The award, presented by the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners at its annual meeting in Tucson, Ariz., recognizes "outstanding achievement in conducting and promoting safe gun handiing for Ohio hunters."

The Ohio division was selected after evaluation of programs in 37 states and several Canadian provinces.

Dan C. Armbruster, chief of the division, accepted the award from the association, giving credit to Ohio's volunteer instructions, the division's game protectors and G. Robert Stroh who has directed the program the last 10 years.

2 Crashes In 7 Minutes

Hit-Skip Driver Escapes, Damaging Pursuing Auto

A Hancock County man told police his auto was damaged in a hit-skip crash early Sunday in the downtown area and damaged again seven minutes later on the Lisbon St. Hill as he attempted to force the fleeing motorist off the street to halt him.

Clyde A. Geer, 42, of New Cumberland RD 2 told officers his 1965 sedan was damaged on the rear bumper in the first collision yesterday at 1:10 a.m on Market St. at 3rd St.

When the other driver sped away, Geer gave chase and his auto was damaged on the right front fender when he attempted to force the fleeing motorist to halt on Lisbon St. 750 feet south of Grandview Ave., he reported. He gave officers the license number of the offending car.

Geer said he was halted for a traffic light on Market St. when his car was hit for the first time. The unidentified driver of the other auto told Geer to pull to the curb and he would call the police department.

But when Geer pulled out of the traffic lane, the other motorist turned right and proceeded west on W. 3rd St. Geer said he pursued the other auto. He said as he attempted to pass the other car and halt it, his auto was hit again and forced from the road.

A Lake County youngster was injured in a three-way collision Saturday on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," police reported.

The mishap involved a 1965 model car driven by Laura Hanna, 53, of 648 Penn Ave., Midland, a 1967 model station wagon operated by William Green, 46, of Mentor, and a 1965 sedan driven by Thomas Weigand, 25, of 410 Paalissey St.

Loretta Green, 10, of Mentor, a passenger in the William Green auto, was taken to City Hospital after the mishap. She was treated for skull injuries and released.

The Midland woman was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. She told police her brakes failed and she was unable to halt.

Officers said both the Green car and the Weigand auto were halted in a traffic lane. The Hanna car struck Green's auto from the rear and shoved it into the Weigand car, officers said.

There was damage to the front of the Hanna auto, the rear of the Weigand car and both the front and rear of the Green car, police said.

Levy

be received from the foundation funds for each student enrolled.

—:—

VOCATIONAL education and special education classes have also been mandated by the state department of education. "We have a fine vocational building," Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini said, "with several units, but we need to expand this area to at least 13 to 15 units, to adequately provide the kind of education our students who cannot go on to college need."

By 1972, East Liverpool will need to have a full complement of special education from elementary through high school. Plans call for an additional special education program in the high school for this year.

State requirements also make it necessary to have a music supervisor. At present, there is no vocal music supervision. Additional staff is also needed to meet the elementary and junior high requirements for music instruction.

Art supervision, also deleted in the 1965 cutbacks, is mandated by state requirements. Minimum standards have been set concerning instructional and audio-visual equipment. "Federal funds are a help in this area and PTA groups have offered help, but Supt. Paul Blair says, "we are still very short of meeting our needs. These expenditures would be high, but once acquired, and a replacement and repair budget is set up, the cost would level off."

LIBRARY volumes and textbooks are also needed. The state requirements definitely list how many books are a must in the library, based on enrollment. "We are 3,500 volumes short in the high school library. Junior high libraries are in need of additional volumes, also," Pelini reports.

A part-time librarian is a necessity at East Junior High School, based on the state standards for an enrollment of 301-499.

A speech and hearing therapist, a school psychologist, and a registered nurse are mandated. Of the three, the district does not have a speech and hearing therapist.

Other funds from the 7 - mills levy would be used for courses recommended by the city school administration, including sex education, and physical fitness in the elementary grades.

SECRETARIES are needed in the elementary schools to relieve administrative personnel of some of the paper work that is required by the size of enrollment, and consolidation into fewer buildings. Teacher's aides would also be an improvement in that they would be able to handle the non-teaching duties of a teacher, giving the teacher more time for actual instruction. Study hall monitors for the high school would ease non-teaching duties in the same manner.

Additional custodial staff are needed with the increased ground care and floor space in the new school complex, Pelini said. Also, when the kindergarten program gets under way, a custodian will be needed in that building.

The kindergarten program, sought by local citizens, will require additional teachers and basic equipment. Once the kindergarten is set up, the cost of the program would level off.

Work-study programs should be provided to allow extra services to our school district and give employment for disadvantaged youth during the summer months.

The present bookkeeping machine the clerk of the board of education is using is seven years old and is inadequate to handle the necessary bookkeeping required, Pelini reported. A new one should be purchased, he said.

ognized the contractors and subcontractors of the buildings. He then presented the keys of the building to Samuel Brown, president of the school board. Brown, in commending residents of the school district, said, "These buildings belong to you. They are your buildings—you are paying for them. Now you use them."

In his remarks, Dr. Essex told of attending four world fairs and pointed to Telstar and the computer age. He said, "We have had to change our mathematics to teach our children to operate these computers. "Muscles have become almost obsolete." You no longer can sell muscle power. This has left thousands of people without anything to do, and they rebel, burn and riot. We must recognize the helplessness and worthlessness of the situation."

"Can we give these people a part of the American dream?" Dr. Essex asked. "We need to make it possible for them to be a party to the whole part. We need to upgrade education for all members of our country.

"As I look at this miracle, I am confident that we will make America whole again. This is our challenge."

—:—

HE POINTED out that the state legislature finally has felt the need for better education. They increased state funds 39 per cent for schools, providing a better teachers' supply to Ohio this year.

"The quality of our schools depends on the quality of the teacher."

Sheriff Quizzes 2 Youths Found In 8-Day Search

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan is questioning two Center Township brothers, 17 and 15, about their travels during the eight days they were missing from their home on the Lisbon - Millport Rd.

Their father reported them missing Sept. 7 and expressed fear of foul play. His 1956 pickup truck was found abandoned last Monday in Holmes County.

A Center Township resident last Friday evening reported seeing two boys in a pickup truck with a camper over the bed. The description matched that of a vehicle stolen from Holmes County the first of last week. Deputies said that vehicle has not been recovered.

The sheriff's office received word Saturday noon the boys were in Rochester, Pa. The father went for them and brought them to the sheriff's office this morning.

$250 Silver Service Stolen From Church

LISBON — A set of sterling silver which was to be used for the McCamon-Rose wedding reception was stolen shortly after noon Saturday at First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor, notified the police department at 1:50. Police said the church apparently was open, since there was no sign of forced entry.

Mrs. Richard V. Rose Jr. put the boxed silver on a table in the church when she left for an errand. When she returned 45 minutes later, the box was gone. Police said the service is owned by Mrs. Jerry Hough and is worth approximately $250.

Rhodes Opens Perch Contest In Sandusky

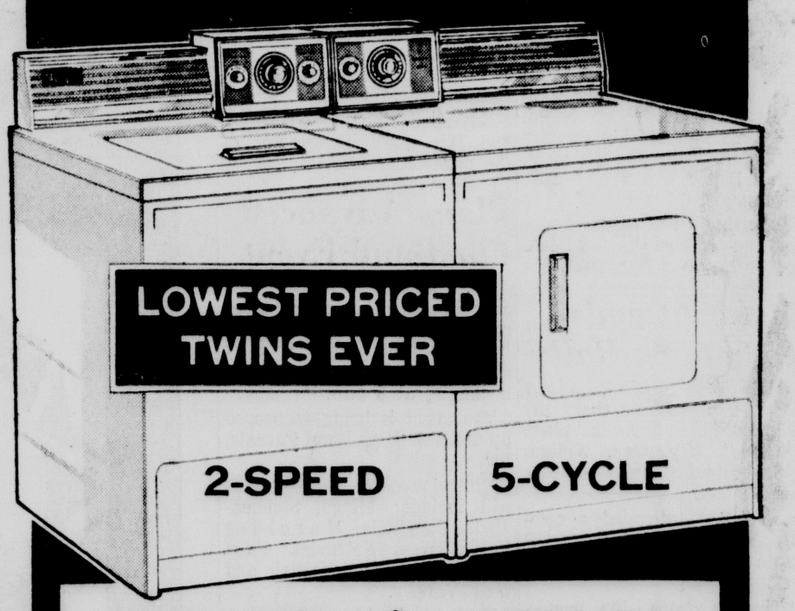

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' fishing boat left here at 8 a.m. today, kicking off Ohio's second annual Perch Fishing Derby.

Newsmen joined the governor, state and local officials and representatives of local chambers of commerce for the first day of the derby which runs through Oct. 13.

The derby is designed to bring sport fishermen and tourists to the western Lake Erie area at a time when perch fishing is exceptionally good.

HE POINTED out that the state legislature finally has felt the need for better education. They increased state funds 39 per cent for schools, providing a better teachers' supply to Ohio this year.

"The quality of our schools depends on the quality of the teacher."

"It is exceedingly encouraging to see the interest that is exhibited by the attendance here today," Essex continued. "Many times schools are dedicated and the auditorium is only half full. Today it is filled to overflowing."

Dr. Essex said our country has grown as rapidly as it has only because of the emphasis put on education.

"From the time education began, to the time we gave public education to high - school-age citizens, to the time after World War II when the GI bill gave higher education to so many people — we have recognized the need for education. Other countries are beginning to follow our example.

"Remember that that American dream is laminated by education. Support it with all your will."

Following Dr. Essex's address, the East Liverpool Messiah Choir, directed by Thomas Schneidmiller and accompanied by Mrs. John Hales and Mrs. William Sutherland, sang "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" and "Battle Hymn Of The Republic." The Rev. Allen R. Conway of the First United Methodist Church offered benediction and Ernest Lowe, accompanied by Mrs. Lowe, sang "Bless This House," with a special verse dedicated to the students, teachers and the buildings.

Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini then reviewed the location of the various buildings.

The ROTC parked cars throughout the afternoon and students and some faculty members served as ushers.

Rhodes Opens Perch Contest In Sandusky

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' fishing boat left here at 8 a.m. today, kicking off Ohio's second annual Perch Fishing Derby.

Newsmen joined the governor, state and local officials and representatives of local chambers of commerce for the first day of the derby which runs through Oct. 13.

The derby is designed to bring sport fishermen and tourists to the western Lake Erie area at a time when perch fishing is exceptionally good.

Sheriff Quizzes 2 Youths Found In 8-Day Search

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan is questioning two Center Township brothers, 17 and 15, about their travels during the eight days they were missing from their home on the Lisbon - Millport Rd.

Their father reported them missing Sept. 7 and expressed fear of foul play. His 1956 pickup truck was found abandoned last Monday in Holmes County.

A Center Township resident last Friday evening reported seeing two boys in a pickup truck with a camper over the bed. The description matched that of a vehicle stolen from Holmes County the first of last week. Deputies said that vehicle has not been recovered.

The sheriff's office received word Saturday noon the boys were in Rochester, Pa. The father went for them and brought them to the sheriff's office this morning.

$250 Silver Service Stolen From Church

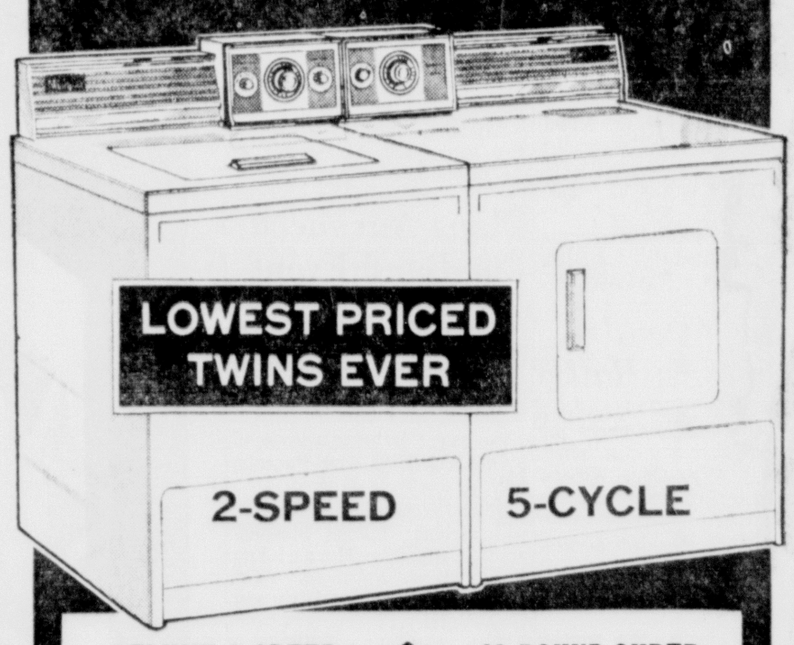

LISBON — A set of sterling silver which was to be used for the McCamon-Rose wedding reception was stolen shortly after noon Saturday at First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor, notified the police department at 1:50. Police said the church apparently was open, since there was no sign of forced entry.

Mrs. Richard V. Rose Jr. put the boxed silver on a table in the church when she left for an errand. When she returned 45 minutes later, the box was gone. Police said the service is owned by Mrs. Jerry Hough and is worth approximately $250.

Intruder Takes Cigarettes, Wine At St. Clair Ave. Store

An intruder escaped with about $83 worth of wine and cigarettes in an entry of a St. Clair Ave. service station - store Saturday night or early Sunday — one of a series of burglaries, petty thefts and vandalism incidents investigated by police over the weekend.

Wine worth $53 and cigarettes valued at $30, plus auto "jumper cables," comprised the loot at Bert's Gulf Station and Carry-Out Store on St. Clair Ave. and Cain St., officers said. The intruder gained entrance between 10 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday by prying a door of the northeast side of the building. Bert Willison of Harvey Ave., the owner, told police an inventory will be made to determine the exact loss.

AN UNKNOWN quantity of candy and cigarettes was taken from Hales Confectionery at 781 Dresden Ave., operated by George W. Hales of McKinnon Ave., officers said. The entry was discovered Saturday.

The intruder gained entrance by forcing a window on the west side of the building. Another door was forced to give entry to the main section of the store from the back room. The exact time of the entry could not be pinpointed because the store had been closed all week due to the death of the owner's wife, officers said.

An alert passerby helped police frustrate an attempted entry at the nearby Kirby Sweeper Co. Sunday night.

A passing motorist told Lt. Paul Blevins and Dwight Garvey at 10:10 last night that he had seen someone attempting to cut the screen out of the door at the sweeper company's store at 717 Dresden Ave. When the officers arrived, they found a section of screen had been removed from the lower right-hand portion of the door. But no one was inside and everything was in order, officers said.

SEVEN other cases involved vandalism and petty theft.

Norman G. Curtis of 319 Garfield St. told police a thief entered his car Saturday while it was parked in the driveway at the rear of his home and took a record player, a reverberator unit, a tachometer and a gear shift knob. The glove compartment also was ransacked, he said.

Rhonda Brown of 1073 Maple-tree St. told officers Saturday night a thief broke the rear window of his 1951 model car parked at the rear of his home and removed a radiator, a starter and a generator. Brown explained the car had been parked in the spot since Wednesday, as he was doing repairs on it.

Elizabeth Hughes of Campbell told officers a battery and its connecting cables were stolen from her 1965 model auto Friday night or Saturday morning while it was parked on Ephriam St.

John J. Smusz of 689 Lincoln Ave. told officers his car was damaged by vandals Saturday night or Sunday while parked in Green Ln. between E. 9th St. and Smith St. a side view mirror was taken from the 1962 model car, the windshield was chipped and the chrome moulding around the rear window was damaged, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. William Connelly of 1630 Globe St. told officers an aluminum lawn chair with a green pad and the pad for a chaise lounge were stolen from the front porch of their home Friday night or Saturday morning. A vandal broke a 12-by-36-inch window Saturday night about 8 at the Dixie Diner at E. 5th and Walnut Sts., police were told by the owner, Edward Shingler of Imperial Dr.

H. R. Howard, a trustee of the First Church of Christ, told police Saturday three or four panes of stained glass were broken in the building within the preceding three days. He estimated the damage at $50.

Rites Launch New Project In Industry

About 25 attended groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Industry water expansion project at the Industry Borough building Saturday.

Don Haswell, president of the Industry Authority said 90 per cent of the borough would be benefited and in another five years the other 10 per cent. He thanked all who had helped get the project started.

Haswell introduced Rep. Frank Clark who commended the borough for its outstanding cooperation with him in getting the grant.

Mayor Steve Suchanec said it was the best thing that ever happened to the borough.

James Ross, Beaver County Commissioner, said, "It is a much needed project, because communitiess need water to expand".

Others attended included representatives of the contractors and various organizations.

The Michael Baker Jr. Inc., of Rochester, are the consulting engineers, and the H. J. Schneider Construction Co., of Pittsburgh, holds the contract for water line extension which has begun. The tank foundations, booster stations and site work will be done by the Gengarella Contracting Co. of Midland, and the steel reservoirs will be built by the Miles P. Brown Boiler Works of Franklin, Pa.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was held at the Penn-Beaver Hotel in Rochester.

Saxbe Attends Hometown Rally

MECHANICSBURG, Ohio (AP) — "I'd rather carry my home town than any other place in Ohio," Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe told his fellow citizens here Sunday.

About 1,000 attended a celebration in honor of the GOP Senate candidate at the high school stadium.

"That's where the people know you, and if you can't have their support, you shouldn't be in politics," Saxbe said.

Following his appearance at the stadium Saxbe and his wife attended a reception at the home of a local psysician.

Mechanicsburg is in Champaign County, which Saxbe represented during his first term in the Ohio Legislature.

Princeton May Accept Coeds In Tradition Break

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The roar of the Princeton tiger should be mingled with the meow of a feminine feline.

That's the advise of a committee of Princeton University faculty and administration members who asked themselves, their students and colleagues across the country whether the 222-year old Ivy League school should admit women at the undergraduate level.

The report made public Sunday and mailed out to the student body today, recommended that the university do so as quickly as possible.

The committee recommended the admission of at least 1,000 women, so that the girls would comprise "not less than 25 per cent of the undergraduate body." The fall enrollment at the presently all male undergraduate college is 3,200. There are about 115 women among about 1,600 Princeton graduate students.

James F. Oates Jr., chairman of the board of trustees executive committee, said it would be several months before a decision was reached.

Princeton May Accept Coeds In Tradition Break

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The roar of the Princeton tiger should be mingled with the meow of a feminine feline.

That's the advise of a committee of Princeton University faculty and administration members who asked themselves, their students and colleagues across the country whether the 222-year old Ivy League school should admit women at the undergraduate level.

The report made public Sunday and mailed out to the student body today, recommended that the university do so as quickly as possible.

The committee recommended the admission of at least 1,000 women, so that the girls would comprise "not less than 25 per cent of the undergraduate body." The fall enrollment at the presently all male undergraduate college is 3,200. There are about 115 women among about 1,600 Princeton graduate students.

James F. Oates Jr., chairman of the board of trustees executive committee, said it would be several months before a decision was reached.

Father Finds Son Dead In Auto Crash

SARDINIA, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Leslie Hampton was summoned early Sunday to aid victims of an auto crash on Ohio 32 here, only to find that one of the victims, a dead 16-year-old boy, was his son, David.

Police said the dead youth was a passenger in a car driven by Harold D. Fain, 16, who was injured.

Fain's car overturned and struck a tree.

In TV Speeches

Czech Leaders Urging People Not To Lose Hope

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders urged their people in weekend speeches not to lose hope despite tightening censorship and other restrictions demanded by the Soviet Union.

Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and other top officials took to television to bolster public confidence in their will to revive and continue the highly popular liberalization program while still meeting Moscow's insistence on measures to secure and perpetuate communism in Czechoslovakia.

Freedom Restricted

The speeches also made plain that there will be no more freedom for anti-Communist political activity.

The appeals for hope were directed partly at thousands of Czechs and Slovaks in Western Europe who are hesitating about coming home and at many who contemplate moving abroad if the borders aren't sealed.

A major Sunday television program was introduced with a panorama of the Prague skyline and a girl singing a melancholy folk song "After the tempest, the sun will shine again." National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky repeated the sentiment: "It will not be easy and it won't be right away, but the sun will shine again."

Smrkovsky pledged anew that the leadership will tell the truth to the people even when this is difficult. He said that "if it is not possible to tell the truth, I would prefer to keep quiet."

Sad Mood

In spite of the appeals for hope and the relief felt over withdrawal of Soviet tanks and paratroopers from the cities to rural and frontier areas, the predominant mood was sadness.

With roads free again for civilian traffic, thousnds poured into the countryside under gray skies Sunday, riding in trains and hordes of small automobiles.

Traffic jams miles long developed when everybody started back to Prague Sunday night. But the Czechoslovaks showed the discipline that has marked their nonviolent resistance to the occupation. The only honking and cutting out of line was by cars with foreign license plates.

A gas station attendant remarked that "everybody is out driving because they aren't sure about future petrol supplies once that new pipeline from Russia is brought in." He was referring to the pipeline provided for in a new economic agreement signed in Moscow last week by Premier Oldrich Cernik.

Roads Being Remarked

Anti-Soviet posters had been removed from the main highways leading from Prague, but many an "Ivan Go Home" or a "Moscow 2,000 kilometers" still apeared on the back roads. Highway direction markers, reversed or blanked out to confuse the occupation troops, were in process of being repainted and restored.

Newspapers contained much less news than a week ago as editors observed censorship directives and the new law forbidding criticism of the occupation powers and publication of anything that conflicts with "vital interests of the state's domestic or foreign policy."

However, Premier Cernik said in an interview broadcast Sunday that despite censorship, "there will be enough room for social criticism, for criticism of developments in Czechoslovakia, enough room for free creative and artistic expression."

He said journalists, editors and creative artists "will have enough room. . . so that we can give people the necessary assurance for the future."

Dubcek promised in a weekend TV appearance that there would be no return to the Stalinist terror of the 1950s. But he also said the Prague regime must "uncompromisingly remove from the country's political and social life that which caused the lack of confidence" on the part of Moscow.

Action against anti-Communist elements was already being taken by legal means and ideological persuasion but now "fast administrative measures" are also necessary, Dubcek said. Between last winter and the Aug. 20 invasion, Dubcek's regime had tried to avoid rule by administrative decree.

Fortas

part in decisions made by President Johnson and the executive department.

It would take a two-thirds vote to limit debate and thus kill a filibuster. Although the majority necessary to confirm Fortas seems to be secure, leaders in both parties doubt enough senators now would vote for debate-limiting cloture and allow the appointment to come up for a final decision.

In fact, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Republican Senate leader, predicted over the weekend that the Senate would not act on the nomination this year.

He told reporters Saturday that "as matters stand, at least 50 senators would vote against cloture even though a number of them would support the nomination." He said this was true in his own case.

Dirksen's son-in-law, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., reinforced that view Sunday when he said opponents were even closing in on the necessary strength to defeat the nomination itself. He added he would not hesitate to join in "extended debate" to keep the appointment from coming to an early vote.

Still, another prominent Republican, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, said Sunday that while there aren't enough votes to limit debate, "As we near the end of this month, and congressmen and senators want to go home to campaign, there may be enough votes to put an end to debate . . . I believe that Justice Fortas' chances of being confirmed at this point are about 50-50."

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Orbs . . . In Color?

The time may come when women will be able to change the color of their eyes as easily as they now change the color of their hair. Eye color is not hereditary — except where both parents are blue-eyed — color is usually detremined by the presence of a chemical substance called Melanin. Black and blue eyes contain it, and by altering the chemistry of this substance the eye color can be changed.

We may yet see the day that, when a man says to a girl, "Where did you get those big brown eyes?" She may reply: "At Emile's, corner of Fifth and Main!"

An accomplished seamstress with many 4-H awards, Vicki had six friends serve as models as she discussed various garments she had made. She was sponsored by Papania Farm Market.

—:—

MISS DUSTMAN played a piano solo, "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing." She was graduated from Leetonia High School in June and is enrolled in the Hannah E. Mullins School of Nursing at Salem. The Miller Construction Co. was her sponsor.

Miss Cobourn and Miss Dustman will serve as the queen's attendants during the festival, which will end Saturday night.

Miss Rhoads was selected "Miss Congeniality" by a vote of the girls. She is a senior at Leetonia High School and works mornings as a typist at Salem City Hospital under the school's cooperative office educaton program. She was sponsored by the Buckeye Beverage Co.

Other contestants were Betsy Blocksom, 17, and Marcia Kuhns, 17, both of Lisbon; Kathy Goerig, 18, and Carrie Stewart, 17, both of Leetonia; Penny Perrin, 18, and her sister, Peggy, 16, both of Columbiana, and Lynne Dinsio, 17, and Lucy Grega, 18, both of Salem RD 5.

George Vokovich of the Jaycees was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Graham Kearney of Lisbon was pianist. Miss Diane Vokovich played a piano solo. Glenn Adams was general chairman.

The queen judges were Miss Sandy Ciotti of Salem, "Miss Columbiana County;" Charles Lang of East Liverpool, state chairman of the Jaycees; Ralph Fusco, president of Wellsville Jaycees, and Charles Powell, principal of Lincoln School here.

Father Finds Son Dead In Auto Crash

SARDINIA, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Leslie Hampton was summoned early Sunday to aid victims of an auto crash on Ohio 32 here, only to find that one of the victims, a dead 16-year-old boy, was his son, David.

Police said the dead youth was a passenger in a car driven by Harold D. Fain, 16, who was injured.

Fain's car overturned and struck a tree.

In TV Speeches

Czech Leaders Urging People Not To Lose Hope

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders urged their people in weekend speeches not to lose hope despite tightening censorship and other restrictions demanded by the Soviet Union.

Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and other top officials took to television to bolster public confidence in their will to revive and continue the highly popular liberalization program while still meeting Moscow's insistence on measures to secure and perpetuate communism in Czechoslovakia.

Freedom Restricted

The speeches also made plain that there will be no more freedom for anti-Communist political activity.

The appeals for hope were directed partly at thousands of Czechs and Slovaks in Western Europe who are hesitating about coming home and at many who contemplate moving abroad if the borders aren't sealed.

A major Sunday television program was introduced with a panorama of the Prague skyline and a girl singing a melancholy folk song "After the tempest, the sun will shine again." National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky repeated the sentiment: "It will not be easy and it won't be right away, but the sun will shine again."

Smrkovsky pledged anew that the leadership will tell the truth to the people even when this is difficult. He said that "if it is not possible to tell the truth, I would prefer to keep quiet."

Sad Mood

In spite of the appeals for hope and the relief felt over withdrawal of Soviet tanks and paratroopers from the cities to rural and frontier areas, the predominant mood was sadness.

With roads free again for civilian traffic, thousnds poured into the countryside under gray skies Sunday, riding in trains and hordes of small automobiles.

Traffic jams miles long developed when everybody started back to Prague Sunday night. But the Czechoslovaks showed the discipline that has marked their nonviolent resistance to the occupation. The only honking and cutting out of line was by cars with foreign license plates.

A gas station attendant remarked that "everybody is out driving because they aren't sure about future petrol supplies once that new pipeline from Russia is brought in." He was referring to the pipeline provided for in a new economic agreement signed in Moscow last week by Premier Oldrich Cernik.

Roads Being Remarked

Anti-Soviet posters had been removed from the main highways leading from Prague, but many an "Ivan Go Home" or a "Moscow 2,000 kilometers" still apeared on the back roads. Highway direction markers, reversed or blanked out to confuse the occupation troops, were in process of being repainted and restored.

Newspapers contained much less news than a week ago as editors observed censorship directives and the new law forbidding criticism of the occupation powers and publication of anything that conflicts with "vital interests of the state's domestic or foreign policy."

However, Premier Cernik said in an interview broadcast Sunday that despite censorship, "there will be enough room for social criticism, for criticism of developments in Czechoslovakia, enough room for free creative and artistic expression."

He said journalists, editors and creative artists "will have enough room. . . so that we can give people the necessary assurance for the future."

Dubcek promised in a weekend TV appearance that there would be no return to the Stalinist terror of the 1950s. But he also said the Prague regime must "uncompromisingly remove from the country's political and social life that which caused the lack of confidence" on the part of Moscow.

Action against anti-Communist elements was already being taken by legal means and ideological persuasion but now "fast administrative measures" are also necessary, Dubcek said. Between last winter and the Aug. 20 invasion, Dubcek's regime had tried to avoid rule by administrative decree.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Fortas

part in decisions made by President Johnson and the executive department.

It would take a two-thirds vote to limit debate and thus kill a filibuster. Although the majority necessary to confirm Fortas seems to be secure, leaders in both parties doubt enough senators now would vote for debate-limiting cloture and allow the appointment to come up for a final decision.

In fact, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Republican Senate leader, predicted over the weekend that the Senate would not act on the nomination this year.

He told reporters Saturday that "as matters stand, at least 50 senators would vote against cloture even though a number of them would support the nomination." He said this was true in his own case.

Dirksen's son-in-law, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., reinforced that view Sunday when he said opponents were even closing in on the necessary strength to defeat the nomination itself. He added he would not hesitate to join in "extended debate" to keep the appointment from coming to an early vote.

Still, another prominent Republican, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, said Sunday that while there aren't enough votes to limit debate, "As we near the end of this month, and congressmen and senators want to go home to campaign, there may be enough votes to put an end to debate . . . I believe that Justice Fortas' chances of being confirmed at this point are about 50-50."

Orbs . . . In Color?

The time may come when women will be able to change the color of their eyes as easily as they now change the color of their hair. Eye color is not hereditary — except where both parents are blue-eyed — color is usually determined by the presence of a chemical substance called Melanin. Black and blue eyes contain it, and by altering the chemistry of this substance the eye color can be changed.

We may yet see the day that, when a man says to a girl, "Where did you get those big brown eyes?" She may reply: "At Emile's, corner of Fifth and Main!"

Chester Woman's Body Found In Wooded Area

An investigation is continuing into the death of a Chester woman whose body was found Friday in a wooded area near Oakland, Md., close to the West Virginia line.

West Virginia state police found the body of Inez Bamblink, 23, after going to the spot where Frank E. Brown, 40, of Keyser, W. Va., said he had let the woman out of his car on a dirt road.

Miss Bamblink, who had been reported missing since she left Chester Aug. 14 in Brown's car for a visit with her foster parents in Wintersville, was found lying in the back seat of the auto, with both doors open.

She was partially paralyzed.

Mrs. Hazel Michaels of Chester, her foster mother, had notified authorities the woman was missing. Brown was apprehended in Weston, W. Va., where he admitted himself to a hospital for a stomach ailment. He made no statement at the time as to the whereabouts of Miss Bamblink. He was charged with grand larceny for stealing the car.

The body was found near an abandoned strip mine. Brown told Trooper F. S. Null of the Weirton detachment of state police that he had let the woman out of the car on a dirt road about a mile from the abandoned car.

No additional charges have been filed against Brown pending the results of an autopsy being performed on the body at Oakland Hospital. The cause of death has not been established.

Brown is being held in the Brooke County Jail in default of $5,000 bond on the grand larceny charge. Additional charges are expected.

Services and burial will be in Oakland.

Motorist Uninjured

A Youngstown man was uninjured in a one - car accident on Route 213 Sunday at 9:15 p.m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville said David Pusser, 29, of 4146 Riverside Dr., Youngstown, driving a 1966 convertible, was cited for speeding when his car headed south on Route 213 went left of center for 95 feet, then off the left side of the road and across two railroad tracks.

2 City Youths Jailed On Forgery Charges

LISBON — Two East Liverpool boys, 16 and 17, are being held in detention at the County Jail in connection with the theft of blank checks Aug. 26 at Elite Aquarium Manufacturing Co. on the Y. & O. Rd. and subsequent forgeries running to approximately $500.

Authorities say the younger boy stole the checks and the other forged them. They were passed at East Liverpool area stores and at the Firestone Bank here. Both youths have records in Juvenile Court.

The formal title of the wood duck, aix sponsa, a hybrid of Greek and Latin, means "water-fowl in wedding raiment."

Salineville Youth Cited After Crash

SALINEVILLE — Stanley D. Felton, 17, of 187 E. Main St. was cited for failure to stop in an assured clear distance Sunday as the result of a two - car accident on W. Main St.

Mary Margaret Brown of Dover RD 1 halted her 1961 sedan for another car making a turn, but Felton was unable to stop his 1968 Volkswagen in time to avoid a collision.

There was extensive damage to the front of the Felton car, Salineville authorities said. No one was injured.

Fined Sunday by Mayor Dwayne Felton were John H. Roberts, 18, $10 and costs for a stop sign violation, and Dale Kellogg of Salineville RD 1, $50 and costs for squealing tires.

Ronald Hines of New Philadelphia forfeited a $15 bond on a speeding charge, and Marvin Fondriest of Corona, Calif., forfeited a $16 bond on a stop sign violation.

Program Set For Kaycees

A district first-degree exemplification of the Knights of Columbus, honoring the supreme chaplain of the order, Bishop Charles P. Greco of Alexandria, La., will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Council 507 in Wellsville.

The exemplification is being conducted in conjunction with the special member program now under way.

Fred Baldasare, district deputy, explained that the member's program and ceremony will mark the 50th anniversary of the ordination to the priesthood of Bishop Greco, who has been a member of the Knights of Columbus 49 years.

State Deputy Robert Vogelpohl of Cincinnati, who has been named state chairman of the "Salute to Bishop Greco," announced that a quota of 50 new members per district has been assigned. It is expected that more than 75,000 will be enrolled during the campaign being conducted between now and Oct. 1, Baldasare said.

On Oct. 8, in Alexandria, at a special ceremony honoring Bishop Greco, individual scrolls listing new members from each jurisdiction of the Knights will be presented.

The degree team will be headed by James McGowan of East Liverpool. Baldasare will preside.

Chester Woman's Body Found In Wooded Area

An investigation is continuing into the death of a Chester woman whose body was found Friday in a wooded area near Oakland, Md., close to the West Virginia line.

West Virginia state police found the body of Inez Bamblink, 23, after going to the spot where Frank E. Brown, 40, of Keyser, W. Va., said he had let the woman out of his car on a dirt road.

Miss Bamblink, who had been reported missing since she left Chester Aug. 14 in Brown's car for a visit with her foster parents in Wintersville, was found lying in the back seat of the auto, with both doors open.

She was partially paralyzed.

Mrs. Hazel Michaels of Chester, her foster mother, had notified authorities the woman was missing. Brown was apprehended in Weston, W. Va., where he admitted himself to a hospital for a stomach ailment. He made no statement at the time as to the whereabouts of Miss Bamblink. He was charged with grand larceny for stealing the car.

The body was found near an abandoned strip mine. Brown told Trooper F. S. Null of the Weirton detachment of state police that he had let the woman out of the car on a dirt road about a mile from the abandoned car.

No additional charges have been filed against Brown pending the results of an autopsy being performed on the body at Oakland Hospital. The cause of death has not been established.

Brown is being held in the Brooke County Jail in default of $5,000 bond on the grand larceny charge. Additional charges are expected.

Services and burial will be in Oakland.

Motorist Uninjured

A Youngstown man was uninjured in a one - car accident on Route 213 Sunday at 9:15 p.m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville said David Pusser, 29, of 4146 Riverside Dr., Youngstown, driving a 1966 convertible, was cited for speeding when his car headed south on Route 213 went left of center for 95 feet, then off the left side of the road and across two railroad tracks.

2 City Youths Jailed On Forgery Charges

LISBON — Two East Liverpool boys, 16 and 17, are being held in detention at the County Jail in connection with the theft of blank checks Aug. 26 at Elite Aquarium Manufacturing Co. on the Y. & O. Rd. and subsequent forgeries running to approximately $500.

Authorities say the younger boy stole the checks and the other forged them. They were passed at East Liverpool area stores and at the Firestone Bank here. Both youths have records in Juvenile Court.

The formal title of the wood duck, aix sponsa, a hybrid of Greek and Latin, means "water-fowl in wedding raiment."

Salineville Youth Cited After Crash

SALINEVILLE — Stanley D. Felton, 17, of 187 E. Main St. was cited for failure to stop in an assured clear distance Sunday as the result of a two - car accident on W. Main St.

Mary Margaret Brown of Dover RD 1 halted her 1961 sedan for another car making a turn, but Felton was unable to stop his 1968 Volkswagen in time to avoid a collision.

There was extensive damage to the front of the Felton car, Salineville authorities said. No one was injured.

Fined Sunday by Mayor Dwayne Felton were John H. Roberts, 18, $10 and costs for a stop sign violation, and Dale Kellogg of Salineville RD 1, $50 and costs for squealing tires.

Ronald Hines of New Philadelphia forfeited a $15 bond on a speeding charge, and Marvin Fondriest of Corona, Calif., forfeited a $16 bond on a stop sign violation.

ANN LANDERS

They're Being 'Slobbish'

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: This is a serious letter and I hope you'll not toss it aside in the belief I'm putting you on.

A few days ago some neighbors come for supper and we had a discussion about animals. They asked me if I knew how raccoons breed. I said, "I've never given it any thought, but I suppose they breed like other animals."

"You're wrong," I was told. "They breed through the nose."

I said it was the first time I'd ever heard of such a thing, and asked if the mama raccoon carried her child in her sinus cavity — making a joke of it. Both the woman and her husband were so persuasive, I confess I'm half sold.

Today I went to the library and learned a lot about raccoons, but I could find nothing about their breeding habits. I've telephoned several friends and they all howled with laughter — but nobody could say for sure that they knew. Please educate me, if I need it — or my neighbors, if they do — S.R.C.

-:-

Dear S. R. C.: Raccoons are mammals. They breed just like other mammals. That old canard about raccoons breeding through the nose has been around for ages. Apparently a lot of people believe it, but no raccoon does.

Cold Pop

Dear Ann: Our son, Paul, learned to speak later than most children. He stuttered a great deal at first and his father became very impatient with him. My husband kept telling him to "shut up" if he couldn't talk properly. When Paul was 7 years of age he refused to speak in his father's presence.

The boy is 14 now, an excellent student, a fine musician, but shy and introverted. He speaks to his father only when it's absolutely necessary, and while he no longer stutters, his voice has a slight tremor. We have two younger children (girls) who get along well with their dad — in fact better with him than with me.

The problem: I feel it would be good for Paul to go to a boarding school. Paul would like to go. His father says it's nonsense to spend the money ($5,500 a year) and he refuses to pay for it.

I have a small inheritance and can send Paul on my own. Should I — at the risk of angering my husband? I've decided to do as you say — SWAMPSCOTT.

-:-

Dear S: If the boy wants to go to boarding school and you can send him, do so. If your husband is angry, so what's new ? Sounds as if he's been angry at one thing or another for quite some time. I predict the separation will do both Paul and his father good.

Young Shaver

Dear Ann: How old does a girl have to be before her mother lets her shave her legs? I hope you won't think this is a silly question. It's a big problem to me. Please answer and settle a fight. — GORILLA GIRL.

-:-

Dear Girl: There's no particular age at which a girl should be allowed to shave her legs. The determining factor should be how her legs look and how she feels about them. Unsightly hair can be an embarrassment. By the time a girl is 15 she should be allowed to give her legs a clean, smooth look if she wants to. In some cases it can be even earlier.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

2 Men Wounded In Dispute Over Car In Driveway

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — An argument over a car blocking a service station entrance touched off a shooting in which two men were wounded seriously early Sunday.

Service station attendant Joseph Campbell, 20, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with shoulder and stomach wounds. Ross Torres, 27, suffered stomach, chest and facial wounds and was taken to South Side Hospital.

Police said the argument started when Campbell asked Torres to remove his car, which was blocking the front of the station.

Campbell told police Torres pulled a knife. Campbell then grabbed a gun and shot Torres, police were told.

A relative of Torres shot Campbell, police said.

The relative was held for questioning.

Sunniest state in the Union is Arizona. The U. S. weather station at Phoenix has recorded an annual monthly average of 85 per cent of sunshine out of a possible 100.

USSR Asks Romania To Accept Red Troops

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — The Soviet Union is quietly urging Romania to live up to its Warsaw Pact commitments and allow allied troops on its territory eventually for joint maneuvers in return for guarantees of nonintervention, informed sources said today.

Soviet proposals presented to the Romanian government reportedly call for a strengthening of the Communist alliance's southern tier along the Black Sea coast—the Soviet Ukraine and Bessarabia, Romania and Bulgaria.

According to the sources, the proposals had been under discussion earlier this year but were shelved when the Czechoslovak crisis and Romanian fears of a Warsaw Pact invasion put a severe strain on relations between Bucharest and Moscow.

100 Hurt As Trains Collide Near Newark

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Penn Central train traveling an estimated 80 miles an hour with 178 passengers aboard struck a derailed freight train Sunday injuring about 100 persons.

Six persons were hospitalized.

Outlines Strategy

Nixon Convinced Of Lead Over Humphrey In Race

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon, convinced he is now ahead in the race for the White House, was described today as determined to avoid headon, running arguments with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

That word came from Nixon's national political director, Robert Ellsworth, as the Republican presidential nominee prepared to resume his campaign.

Ellsworth said Humphrey evidently is trying to entice Nixon into a long distance debate, a situation in which the Republican candidate would spend his time replying to the charges and complaints of his Democratic opponent.

Strategy Outlined

"That's what you do when you're behind in politics," Ellsworth said. "You try to provoke a fight with the other fellow."

Nixon's strategy: Leave the direct responses to Humphrey and the Democrats to others in his campaign lineup—Ellsworth among them—and choose his own issus and arenas for attacks on his rival.

His standard theme, built into each campaign speech, was sounded this way by Nixon at a Saturday rally in Santa Barbara:

"One man nominated by his party in Chicago says to the American people: 'I supported the policies of the past four years.' He says, 'I helped to make those policies. I have no disagreement with those policies.' and he says, 'Let's go forward with more of the same.' "

The effort is to tie Humphrey as closely as possible to President Johnson and the current administration. The wording varies little as Nixon repeats his standard campaign speech.

Angered By HHH

The conscious effort to remain aloof doesn't always work. Nixon, for example, showed a bit of irritation after Humphrey likened him to Fearless Fosdick, the bumbling comic strip detective. He said, that was below the level at which a White House campaign should be waged.

In general, Nixon's campaign to date has been one of recurrent themes and repeated words with no dramatic, new proposals or positions.

During a five-day swing from New York to California, second installment of his traveling campaign, Nixon followed closely the pattern he set even before winning the GOP nomination.

Nixon took a day off Sunday, relaxing at an oceanfront house near Santa Barbara. Late today, he planned a visit to his birthplace in Yorba Linda, and a rally in Anaheim.

ANN LANDERS

They're Being 'Slobbish'

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: This is a serious letter and I hope you'll not toss it aside in the belief I'm putting you on.

A few days ago some neighbors come for supper and we had a discussion about animals. They asked me if I knew how raccoons breed. I said, "I've never given it any thought, but I suppose they breed like other animals."

"You're wrong," I was told, "They breed through the nose."

I said it was the first time I'd ever heard of such a thing, and asked if the mama raccoon carried her child in her sinus cavity — making a joke of it. Both the woman and her husband were so persuasive, I confess I'm half sold.

Today I went to the library and learned a lot about raccoons, but I could find nothing about their breeding habits. I've telephoned several friends and they all howled with laughter — but nobody could say for sure that they knew. Please educate me, if I need it — or my neighbors, if they do — S.R.C.

Dear S. R. C.: Raccoons are mammals. They breed just like other mammals. That old canard about raccoons breeding through the nose has been around for ages. Apparently a lot of people believe it, but no raccoon does.

Cold Pop

Dear Ann: Our son, Paul, learned to speak later than most children. He stuttered a great deal at first and his father became very impatient with him. My husband kept telling him to "shut up" if he couldn't talk properly. When Paul was 7 years of age he refused to speak in his father's presence.

The boy is 14 now, an excellent student, a fine musician, but shy and introverted. He speaks to his father only when it's absolutely necessary, and while he no longer stutters, his voice has a slight tremor. We have two younger children (girls) who get along well with their dad — in fact better with him than with me.

The problem: I feel it would be good for Paul to go to a boarding school. Paul would like to go. His father says it's nonsense to spend the money ($5,500 a year) and he refuses to pay for it.

I have a small inheritance and can send Paul on my own. Should I — at the risk of angering my husband? I've decided to do as you say — SWAMPSCOTT.

-:-

Dear S: If the boy wants to go to boarding school and you can send him, do so. If your husband is angry, so what's new? Sounds as if he's been angry at one thing or another for quite some time. I predict the separation will do both Paul and his father good.

Young Shaver

Dear Ann: How old does a girl have to be before her mother lets her shave her legs? I hope you won't think this is a silly question. It's a big problem to me. Please answer and settle a fight. — GORILLA GIRL.

-:-

Dear Girl: There's no particular age at which a girl should be allowed to shave her legs. The determining factor should be how her legs look and how she feels about them. Unsightly hair can be an embarrassment. By the time a girl is 15 she should be allowed to give her legs a clean, smooth look if she wants to. In some cases it can be even earlier.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

2 Men Wounded In Dispute Over Car In Driveway

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — An argument over a car blocking a service station entrance touched off a shooting in which two men were wounded seriously early Sunday.

Service station attendant Joseph Campbell, 20, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with shoulder and stomach wounds. Ross Torres, 27, suffered stomach, chest and facial wounds and was taken to South Side Hospital.

Police said the argument started when Campbell asked Torres to remove his car, which was blocking the front of the station.

Campbell told police Torres pulled a knife. Campbell then grabbed a gun and shot Torres, police were told.

A relative of Torres shot Campbell, police said.

The relative was held for questioning.

Sunniest state in the Union is Arizona. The U. S. weather station at Phoenix has recorded an annual monthly average of 85 per cent of sunshine out of a possible 100 per cent.

USSR Asks Romania To Accept Red Troops

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — The Soviet Union is quietly urging Romania to live up to its Warsaw Pact commitments and allow allied troops on its territory eventually for joint maneuvers in return for guarantees of nonintervention, informed sources said today.

Soviet proposals presented to the Romanian government reportedly call for a strengthening of the Communist alliance's southern tier along the Black Sea coast—the Soviet Ukraine and Bessarabia, Romania and Bulgaria.

According to the sources, the proposals had been under discussion earlier this year but were shelved when the Czechoslovak crisis and Romanian fears of a Warsaw Pact invasion put a severe strain on relations between Bucharest and Moscow.

100 Hurt As Trains Collide Near Newark

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Penn Central train traveling an estimated 80 miles an hour with 178 passengers aboard struck a derailed freight train Sunday injuring about 100 persons.

Six persons were hospitalized.

Nixon Convinced Of Lead Over Humphrey In Race

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon, convinced he is now ahead in the race for the White House, was described today as determined to avoid headon, running arguments with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

That word came from Nixon's national political director, Robert Ellsworth, as the Republican presidential nominee prepared to resume his campaign.

Ellsworth said Humphrey evidently is trying to entice Nixon into a long distance debate, a situation in which the Republican candidate would spend his time replying to the charges and complaints of his Democratic opponent.

Strategy Outlined

"That's what you do when you're behind in politics," Ellsworth said. "You try to provoke a fight with the other fellow."

Nixon's strategy: Leave the direct responses to Humphrey and the Democrats to others in his campaign lineup—Ellsworth among them—and choose his own issus and arenas for attacks on his rival.

His standard theme, built into each campaign speech, was sounded this way by Nixon at a Saturday rally in Santa Barbara:

"One man nominated by his party in Chicago says to the American people: 'I supported the policies of the past four years.' He says, 'I helped to make those policies. I have no disagreement with those policies.' and he says, 'Let's go forward with more of the same.'"

The effort is to tie Humphrey as closely as possible to President Johnson and the current administration. The wording varies little as Nixon repeats his standard campaign speech.

Angered By HHH

The conscious effort to remain aloof doesn't always work. Nixon, for example, showed a bit of irritation after Humphrey likened him to Fearless Fosdick, the bumbling comic strip detective. He said, that was below the level at which a White House campaign should be waged.

In general, Nixon's campaign to date has been one of recurrent themes and repeated words with no dramatic, new proposals or positions.

During a five-day swing from New York to California, second installment of his traveling campaign, Nixon followed closely the pattern he set even before winning the GOP nomination.

Nixon took a day off Sunday, relaxing at an oceanfront house near Santa Barbara. Late today, he planned a visit to his birthplace in Yorba Linda, and a rally in Anaheim.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Nylons Nightmare Solved

DEAR HELOISE: If you hate the mess of untangling your nylons after washing several pair at a time, do this . . .

Heloise

When you are ready to laundry them, pick up one stocking from your collection and draw it up full-length over your arm like a glove. Pull another one on over that, then another and another until you have them all on your arm.

Then, slip them off your arm as one piece, wash as one and hang as one. They take the space of only one on your drying rack.

They will dry beautifully and come apart easily.

HELEN.

Helen, you're a honey-pie for sending us this idea. And think of the snags it's going to save. Just put an old one on the outside.

We all know we should rinse our stockings immediately after use to prolong wear, but there are those busy times when we postpone such chores and find ourselves with three or four pair to wash.

A big hug and kiss from me to you.

HELOISE.

P.S. Did you know if you were in a hurry for a clean pair, you could dry them quickly in your hair dryer cap? Just turn it on medium and let her blow!

DEAR HELOISE: I twisted my ankle and needed a crutch real fast. So I hobbled to the basement and got my wax applicator (that has the long handle and pad). I turned it upside down and used a towel for extra padding over the pad.

It was just the right height and sure came in handy for several days and saved the expense of buying a crutch or cane.

MRS. LILLIAN HARRISON.

DEAR HELOISE: We are home economics consultants and one of our clients is a leading dishwasher manufacturer.

After reading the nine-year-old girl's suggestion of putting like pieces of silverwear in the same section of the silverware basket, I had to write you.

We do not recommend this procedure.

By mixing up the pieces of silverware in each section, you keep the spoons from nesting, thus insuring that each piece is washed on both sides. By placing the handles up, she actually increases the problem of the spoons nesting.

GERALDINE NORDBY.

DEAR HELOISE: I covered a one - pound can with the front page of the merchandise redemption catalogue that has the picture or description of their stamp. Then I cut a slot in the plastic lid.

When I return home from a shopping trip I put my stamps in the can decorated with that picture. Just like a piggy bank.

A two-pound can will hold the stamps and the stamp book.

Now I don't lose stamps before I have time to stick them in the book.

MRS. HELEN WALDORF.

DEAR HELOISE: As soon as I open the car door on the driver's side, I put my purse on the floor behind the front seat.

No one can reach through the window for easy stealing and a sudden stop cannot throw it under the gas pedal or cause a quick reflex by reaching for it.

My purse is right where I put it when I am alighting. I don't have to hang onto it while climbing out nor do I have to stretch halfway across the front seat to reach it while standing on the ground.

FRAN LeMASTER.

DEAR HELOISE: If you use an old-fashioned grater, place a little corn cob holder in the end of the vegetables to be grated and you can shave them down to almost nothing without slicing your fingers.

Former CORE Head Lauds 'Abolitionist'

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Floyd McKissick, New York attorney and former head of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) said Sunday that, "if I were going to vote for anyone for president, it would be for John Brown."

Brown, an abolitionist, led a raid on the U.S. arsenal at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., in 1859, was convicted of treason, and was hanged.

McKissick, a former resident of Asheville, said at the 100th anniversary of Hopkins Chapel AME church that John Brown "is a dead man but a good white man."

Crucible Sets Up Technology Post

PITTSBURGH — Dr. A. M. Aksoy has been appointed to the new position of director of commercial technology with the principal responsibility for Crucible Steel Corp.'s expanding activities in the field of international technical know-how.

With the exception of a distribution facility in Great Britain, Crucible terminated all of its overseas manufacturing and warehouse operations last year.

However, the company continues to be a worldwide industry factor by providing technical know-how and licensing of the most advanced techniques of specialty steelmaking. Two know-how agreements, one in Spain and another in Australia, have been in effect for about a year.

Dr. Aksoy came to Crucible in 1954 from the Atomic Energy Commission. Prior to that he had been a metallurgist, a project engineer in his native Turkey and an associate professor at Drexel Institute of Technology.

Educational System Rapped By Candidate

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, described the educational system of this country Sunday as totally inadequate.

"The minds of tens of thousands of children will never be properly developed because of the inadequacies of the educational system in the United States," Gilligan said at an Allen County Democratic Party ox-roast.

"We spend more money on cosmetics and alcohol than we do on education, he told a crowd of 700 at the fairgrounds here.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Susskind The Romantic

David Susskind, TV's former angry young man, is going into movie production, and the first one he's doing is a James Thurber short story ("The Greatest Man in the World") which he taped for TV in 1958, but which never was aired.

Hal Humphrey

"We did it for an oil company, but when they saw the tape they got scared, said it would give America a bad image. They knew what it was about, because the script had been read. I got paid for it, $300,000, and kept my rights to it," Susskind reports.

"The Greatest Man in the World" is about a pilot who flies nonstop around the world to become a hero, but as a person he is a heel.

EFFORTS to reason with him by our government officials won't change his attitude "to get what's mine," as he puts it.

Finally, the president of the United States makes a secret visit to our hero in his New York hotel suite, but no amount of cajoling by the country's chief executive will alter his plan to capitalize in every way on his feat.

"See those crowds down there," he says to the president, pointing to the street several floors down. "They want Joe Smirch and they're going to get him." The President, from Smirch's own suggestion, finds a solution.

SUSSKIND is changing Smirch to the first astronaut to land on the moon for his movie, the script of which is being prepared now.

"I've become a disillusioned romantic, as far as TV is concerned," says Susskind. "I have only one order for a dramatic show from TV this season, which Gore Vidal is writing for CBS Playhouse. Last year my company, Talent Associates, did 20."

The CBS special last week, "From Chekhov, With Love," was Susskind's, but he taped it two years ago in London and it took that long for CBS to find a sponsor.

"I'm sure, too, that the network sold it at a distress price. This is the level of the medium. TV's job is to sell merchandise, and sponsors want higher ratings than drama produces. I still believe, however, that American industry should have a responsibility to up the cultural level of TV somewhat," he adds.

SUSSKIND'S Talent Associates, which recently was bought by Norton Simon Industries (Susskind will still head up TA), has three series on the networks this season — "Get Smart," "N.Y.P.D." and a new one, "The Good Guys" — and CBS is financing a pilot film for a series called "Operation Task Force" built around those urban specialists working to keep things "cool" in our cities.

Last season his company's "He and She" comedy series was canceled by CBS, which was another disillusionment, he says.

"We tried with 'He and She' to reach upward for a little more literacy, but fell 2 points short (on the rating share) of satisfying CBS.

"That's the trouble with TV, too. There's no reaching up. Everything is a compromise, a reaching down or sideways. What TV doesn't realize is the fact that millions of people aren't watching is steadily as they once did. My 14-year-old son has quit, because he says it's boring him. So, something is wrong."

-:-

IN ADDITION to his movie plans (he has eight properties in the works) and the aforementioned TV series, Susskind continues to do his syndicated talk show ("The David Susskind Show"), which is seen in about 40 cities.

He recently had another disillusionment when it was canceled in Los Angeles. Negotiations are in progress, though, for another channel to pick it up in October when he begins his new season of programs.

Whatever the TV industry thinks of Susskind, and over the years the opinions have ranged from A to Z, he hasn't run out on the medium as many of his contemporaries have. He's doing movies now, but will always, he says, continue to stay with TV and fight — even as a "disillusioned romantic."

TV Highlights

Held For Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Cowins, 39, Cincinnati, was held for investigation today following the fatal shooting Sunday of Ernest Porter, 44, in the city's West End. Police said Cowins surrendered himself and a .25 caliber automatic, saying he killed Porter during an argument.

Body Discovered

PARRY SOUND, Ont. (AP)—Relatives found the body of Joanne Gaffney, 21, of Dayton, Ohio, off Davy Island near here Saturday. The young woman was reported missing Aug. 29 while on a skin-diving trip.

Toledo Quiet After Curfew Sunday Night

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's Dorr-Detroit neighborhood was quiet Sunday night under a 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew.

Mayor William Ensign imposed the ban on movement by minors after two nights of racial violence.

Police reported five or six false fire alarms Sunday night and a couple of nuisance fires —one in a garage and one in a house scheduled for demolition.

Reports came in that bands of youths were beginning to gather but the groups dispersed even before police closed in.

An attempt was made to police the city Saturday night with a group of 30 "Black Deacons" and a handful of Negro policemen.

Safety Director Clifford T. Quinn called off the experiment at 2 a.m. Sunday when a mob of 300-400 Negroes gathered and started to move downtown.

Eight policemen were hurt, mostly by flying rocks, before the crowd was broken up. Six of the injured received hospital treatment, then were released.

No injuries were reported among the demonstrators.

The "Black Deacons" were supervisors of the Soul City recreation area in the disturbed area who volunteered during talks with the mayor Saturday to try to keep order.

Police made 21 arrests early Sunday on a variety of charges ranging from loitering to creating a disturbance.

A firebomb started a blaze at a supermarket, causing an estimated $2,000 damage. Several store windows were broken and there was some looting.

There were 22 arrests during the Friday night disturbance which apparently began with what police described as a routine arrest in an area bar.

Safety Director Quinn canceled days-off for police officers from Sunday. This move, and the 12-hour shifts worked from Saturday left about 225 men on duty at any one time.

A police command post was set up at the fire department's No. 16 Engine House in the disturbance area.

Fighting Rages In Biafran Town

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Nigerian and Biafran forces are reported locked in heavy fighting for the town of Owerri—one of the last two left of the rebels—and casualties are believed high on both sides.

Troops returning from the front said the Nigerian 16th and 17th brigades were encountering stiff resistance from seasoned secessionist soldiers.

A wounded sergeant, evacuated from Owerri 50 miles south to Port Harcourt, said rebel troops were so numerous that "they gush out like sand... They are like sand, uncountable."

Civilians fleeing from Owerri to Biafran headquarters at Umuahia also told of intense fighting outside Owerri, swollen by refugees from a prewar population of 26,000 to hundreds of thousands.

Owerri and Umuahia are the only major towns still in Biafran hands at last report.

Humphrey Wants Debate On 3 Issues With Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey has set out to gain a face-to-face debate with Richard M. Nixon in an effort to overcome the substantial lead the political polls say the Republicans have mounted in the drive for the White House.

Humphrey called Sunday for Nixon to "appear on network television to debate the issues of this campaign before the American people."

Nixon has failed to provide "unequivocal statements of position" on the three major issues of gun control legislation, the confirmation of Abe Fortas to be chief justice and ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, Humphrey charged. Nixon, who appeared in such debates against John F. Kennedy eight years ago has not commented on Humphrey's challenge.

Polls Favor Nixon

With the political polls showing the Democratic vice president lagging far behind, Humphrey is said to consider a debate with Nixon vital to his efforts to defeat the Republican candidate.

The Gallup Poll released Sunday showed that while Humphrey had gained slightly during last week he still trailed by a substantial 12 per cent 43 to 31. Independent George C. Wallace had 19 per cent.

A survey by the New York Times indicated that if the election were held today Nixon would win the presidency with 346 electoral votes from 30 states, Wallace would get 77 electoral votes from eight states and Humphrey would garner only 42 electoral votes in six states.

The Times said six states were too close for a prediction. To win the election a candidate needs 270 electoral votes.

Humphrey Takes Break

The vice president who has taken a break from his road campaign until Tuesday when he appears in upstate New York, also said any debates should be expanded to include the vice presidential candidates. Calling for ratification of the nuclear arms control pact, passage of gun control laws and confirmation of Fortas, Humphrey suggested Nixon may be vacillating on these matters in order to appeal to people on both sides of the issues.

Humphrey's campaign manager, Lawrence F. O'Brien Sunday pointed to one of the reasons why he thinks his man is lagging so badly. He still suffers from "identity" problems," O'Brien said.

HHH His 'Own Man'

He said that as the campaign continues efforts will be made to show that Humphrey is "his own man" even if this leads some people to think that "Mr. Humphrey's views do not necessarily coincide with those of President Johnson."

In another Sunday development, Humphrey told a meeting of the Zionist Organization of America that he favors continuation of U.S. military aid to Israel to keep the Mideas tarms race in balance.

"Until permanent peace in the Middle East is achieved and the arms race ended then continued United States military assistance to Israel, including what has become such a symbol and I think such a necessity—supersonic planes such as Phantom Jets—is justified" Humphrey told the group.

U.S. Seizes Huge Rocket Unit In Viet

TAN AN, Vietnam, (AP) — The U.S. Army today unveiled a captured enemy rocket launcher that could have pounded Saigon with a dozen simultaneously launched missiles containing 500 pounds of explosives.

A captured North Vietnamese second lieutenant who was to use the launcher said about 150 enemy officers were trained with him to take over rocket platoon in South Vietnam.

The Chinese-made 107mm multiple rocket launcher was the first of its type ever captured in the South, although single tube launchers have been seized frequently.

The weapon was found Sunday about 10 miles south of Saigon in a joint sweep by U.S. 9th Division infantrymen and South Vietnamese soldiers of the 46th Regiment, 25th Division.

"Good God Almighty," were the first words of the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., when he saw the bank of 12 rocket tubes. With him was the visiting U.S. commander from the Pacific, Adm. John S. McCain.

After inspecting the launcher Abrams shrugged and added, "If they are going to send these things down here we will have to capture them."

The South Vietnamese regimental commander whose men captured the weapon, Lt. Col. Tran Van Huyen, said the launcher was to be used in attacks on Saigon.

Prior to adoption of the Constitution, the nation was governed by a committee of 13 persons, one from every state, when Congress was not in session.

Farmer, 78, Claimed In Strange Accident

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A 78-year-old farmer from nearby Fairfield died Sunday at Ft. Hamilton Hospital from injuries received Friday in a weird farm accident.

Police said Fred Stock apparently was fatally injured when he fell from a tractor and struck his head on a bridge the tractor was crossing. But they said the tractor was found sitting on the bridge and was out of gear.

Out Of The Air

Susskind The Romantic

David Susskind, TV's former angry young man, is going into movie production, and the first one he's doing is a James Thurber short story ("The Greatest Man in the World") which he taped for TV in 1958, but which never was aired.

Hal Humphrey

"We did it for an oil company, but when they saw the tape they got scared, said it would give America a bad image. They knew what it was about, because the script had been read. I got paid for it, $300,000, and kept my rights to it," Susskind reports.

"The Greatest Man in the World" is about a pilot who flies nonstop around the world to become a hero, but as a person he is a heel.

EFFORTS to reason with him by our government officials won't change his attitude "to get what's mine," as he puts it.

Finally, the president of the United States makes a secret visit to our hero in his New York hotel suite, but no amount of cajoling by the country's chief executive will alter his plan to capitalize in every way on his feat.

"See those crowds down there," he says to the president, pointing to the street several floors down. "They want Joe Smirch and they're going to get him." The President, from Smirch's own suggestion, finds a solution.

SUSSKIND is changing Smirch to the first astronaut to land on the moon for his movie, the script of which is being prepared now.

"I've become a disillusioned romantic, as far as TV is concerned," says Susskind. "I have only one order for a dramatic show from TV this season, which Gore Vidal is writing for CBS Playhouse. Last year my company, Talent Associates, did 20."

The CBS special last week, "From Chekhov, With Love," was Susskind's, but he taped it two years ago in London and it took that long for CBS to find a sponsor.

"I'm sure, too, that the network sold it at a distress price. This is the level of the medium. TV's job is to sell merchandise, and sponsors want higher ratings than drama produces. I still believe, however, that American industry should have a responsibility to up the cultural level of TV somewhat," he adds.

SUSSKIND'S Talent Associates, which recently was bought by Norton Simon Industries (Susskind will still head up TA), has three series on the networks this season — "Get Smart," "N.Y.P.D." and a new one, "The Good Guys" — and CBS is financing a pilot film for a series called "Operation Task Force" built around those urban specialists working to keep things "cool" in our cities.

Last season his company's "He and She" comedy series was canceled by CBS, which was another disillusionment, he says.

"We tried with 'He and She' to reach upward for a little more literacy, but fell 2 points short (on the rating share) of satisfying CBS.

"That's the trouble with TV, too. There's no reaching up. Everything is a compromise, a reaching down or sideways. What TV doesn't realize is the fact that millions of people aren't watching is steadily as they once did. My 14-year-old son has quit, because he says it's boring him. So, something is wrong."

-:-

IN ADDITION to his movie plans (he has eight properties in the works) and the aforementioned TV series, Susskind continues to do his syndicated talk show ("The David Susskind Show"), which is seen in about 40 cities.

He recently had another disillusionment when it was canceled in Los Angeles. Negotiations are in progress, though, for another channel to pick it up in October when he begins his new season of programs.

Whatever the TV industry thinks of Susskind, and over the years the opinions have ranged from A to Z, he hasn't run out on the medium as many of his contemporaries have. He's doing movies now, but will always, he says, continue to stay with TV and fight — even as a "disillusioned romantic."

Toledo Quiet After Curfew Sunday Night

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's Dorr-Detroit neighborhood was quiet Sunday night under a 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew.

Mayor William Ensign imposed the ban on movement by minors after two nights of racial violence.

Police reported five or six false fire alarms Sunday night and a couple of nuisance fires —one in a garage and one in a house scheduled for demolition.

Reports came in that bands of youths were beginning to gather but the groups dispersed even before police closed in.

An attempt was made to police the city Saturday night with a group of 30 "Black Deacons" and a handful of Negro policemen.

Safety Director Clifford T. Quinn called off the experiment at 2 a.m. Sunday when a mob of 300-400 Negroes gathered and started to move downtown.

Eight policemen were hurt, mostly by flying rocks, before the crowd was broken up. Six of the injured received hospital treatment, then were released.

No injuries were reported among the demonstrators.

The "Black Deacons" were supervisors of the Soul City recreation area in the disturbed area who volunteered during talks with the mayor Saturday to try to keep order.

Police made 21 arrests early Sunday on a variety of charges ranging from loitering to creating a disturbance.

A firebomb started a blaze at a supermarket, causing an estimated $2,000 damage. Several store windows were broken and there was some looting.

There were 22 arrests during the Friday night disturbance which apparently began with what police described as a routine arrest in an area bar.

Safety Director Quinn canceled days-off for police officers from Sunday. This move, and the 12-hour shifts worked from Saturday left about 225 men on duty at any one time.

A police command post was set up at the fire department's No. 16 Engine House in the disturbance area.

Held For Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Cowins, 39, Cincinnati, was held for investigation today following the fatal shooting Sunday of Ernest Porter, 44, in the city's West End. Police said Cowins surrendered himself and a .25 caliber automatic, saying he killed Porter during an argument.

Humphrey Wants Debate On 3 Issues With Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey has set out to gain a face-to-face debate with Richard M. Nixon in an effort to overcome the substantial lead the political polls say the Republicans have mounted in the drive for the White House.

Humphrey called Sunday for Nixon to "appear on network television to debate the issues of this campaign before the American people."

Nixon has failed to provide "unequivocal statements of position" on the three major issues of gun control legislation, the confirmation of Abe Fortas to be chief justice and ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, Humphrey charged. Nixon, who appeared in such debates against John F. Kennedy eight years ago has not commented on Humphrey's challenge.

Polls Favor Nixon

With the political polls showing the Democratic vice president lagging far behind, Humphrey is said to consider a debate with Nixon vital to his efforts to defeat the Republican candidate.

The Gallup Poll released Sunday showed that while Humphrey had gained slightly during last week he still trailed by a substantial 12 per cent 43 to 31. Independent George C. Wallace had 19 per cent.

A survey by the New York Times indicated that if the election were held today Nixon would win the presidency with 346 electoral votes from 30 states, Wallace would get 77 electoral votes from eight states and Humphrey would garner only 42 electoral votes in six states.

The Times said six states were too close for a prediction. To win the election a candidate needs 270 electoral votes.

Humphrey Takes Break

The vice president who has taken a break from his road campaign until Tuesday when he appears in upstate New York, also said any debates should be expanded to include the vice presidential candidates. Calling for ratification of the nuclear arms control pact, passage of gun control laws and confirmation of Fortas, Humphrey suggested Nixon may be vacillating on these matters in order to appeal to people on both sides of the issues.

Humphrey's campaign manager, Lawrence F. O'Brien Sunday pointed to one of the reasons why he thinks his man is lagging so badly. He still suffers from "identity" problems," O'Brien said.

HHH His 'Own Man'

He said that as the campaign continues efforts will be made to show that Humphrey is "his own man" even if this leads some people to think that "Mr. Humphrey's views do not necessarily coincide with those of President Johnson."

In another Sunday development, Humphrey told a meeting of the Zionist Organization of America that he favors continuation of U.S. military aid to Israel to keep the Mideas tarms race in balance.

"Until permanent peace in the Middle East is achieved and the arms race ended then continued United States military assistance to Israel, including what has become such a symbol and I think such a necessity—supersonic planes such as Phantom Jets—is justified" Humphrey told the group.

The theme for the meeting will be "Unity." Registration will begin at 9 a.m. District officers will be available for visitation at 9:30 a.m.

The business session will begin at 10. A nursery will be provided for pre - school children.

Former Cop Surrenders Self As 'Catch Me' Killer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — John Erler, accused of being the "catch-me" killer of Hollywood, Fla., surrendered Sunday night to an off-duty sheriff's deputy and members of his family.

Erler, 24, a former policeman, held a .38-caliber revolver and threatened suicide as he talked for 45 minutes with Deputy Dave Koelsch and his mother, brother and sister, Koelsch said.

The confrontation ended when Erler handed the revolver to the unarmed deputy and rode off with him to the Maricopa County jail, where he was held for Florida authorities.

Erler is charged with killing Marilyn Clark, 12, at Hollywood last month. The second degree murder charge was filed Saturday after officers with whom he formerly worked said it was his voice in a telephone call that said, "I just killed three people ... I'm serious. Please catch me. Please."

He resigned from the force Sept. 5, and came here to visit his family. He disappeared Saturday when word reached here that he had been charged with killing the girl whose body he discovered.

"I'm in trouble," Koelsch quoted him as telling his family. "I don't want you to be involved."

Police found his abandoned car and, on Sunday, spotted Erler's younger brother, Danny, near an apartment house. A dozen cars sealed off the area, but stayed away from the apartment which Erler rented Saturday.

Koelsch who normally works with juveniles, was advised by radio to call a phone number. Police said the person who answered the number was Danny, who handed the telephone to his brother.

"He told me he'd decided to commit suicide," Koelsch said of the accused. "I told him that was a bad way out. After we talked for a while he agreed to talk to me in person, and told me where the apartment was."

Koelsch became acquainted with Erler two years ago while he was riding a police beat in an area where Erler worked at a service station.

"When I got there Danny was standing in the door, waiting for me. Bob was on the phone. I think he was talking to his mother."

Koelsch said Erler occasionally took the revolver from his gun belt and cocked it as they talked.

"He wasn't threatening me or anyone else," Koelsch said. "He was just thinking of taking his own life. He kept saying over and over again that he didn't want to hurt anyone."

Koelsch said Erler talked by telephone twice with Carl King, assistant chief of police at Hollywood.

Erler's mother and sister, Dee Dee, joined the three men at the apartment later.

Koelsch said he didn't question Erler about the slaying, saying his only concern was to get him to give himself up.

Finally, Koelsch said, Erler handed over his revolver to his brother and Danny gave it to the deputy.

At Kansas City, Mo., it was disclosed that Erler's estranged wife had sent their 1-year-old son to another state for safety. Mrs. Patricia Erler went to live with her mother and stepfather when she left Erler in July. Hollywood police had told her that Erler had threatened to kill her and their son. Police were guarding the home in Kansas City until Erler surrendered.

Dorothy Clark, 42, of Clarkston, Ga., mother of the slain girl, was found unconscious and critically wounded in her car about four miles from the spot where her daughter's body was found. Marilyn had been shot five times in the head. Mrs. Clark was shot five times in the head and once in the neck. Hollywood police said she had recovered enough last weekend to give clues which led to the charges against Erler.

Officers Named At Highlandtown

HIGHLANDTOWN — Ray Leatherberry was returned as master of the Highlandtown Grange Thursday night.

Others named were Robert Hays, overseer; Betty Thorne, lecturer; Rev. William Harper, steward; Jess Seigler, assistant steward; Hazel Smith, chaplain; Carl Leatherberry, treasurer; Geraldine Kessell, secretary; James Kessell, gatekeeper; Olive Witherow, Ceres; Evelyn Seigler, Pomona; Peggy Rose, Flora; Kay Hays, lady assistant steward; Nadine Leatherberry, matron for juvenile grange, and Helen Lucas, helper.

Verla Culp, home economics chairman; Homer Stewart, three - year trustee; Robert Seigler, legislative agent, and Jess Seigler, youth chairman.

A plaque was presented the grange in memory of Mary Dale Close. The new meeting time will be 8 p.m.

Club Will Hear Talk By Wellsville Mayor

Mayor William Daugherty will speak when the Wellseville Kiwanis Club meets Tuesday at noon at Meade's Restaurant.

Officers will be elected during the business meeting.

Eight Wellsville members attended the Division Council meeting at Vagabond Lodge near East Liverpool Wednesday night. Dan Myers of Lisbon was nominated by the division to serve as 1969 lieutenant governor. The election will take place during the district convention in Cincinnati later this month.

Hearing Set Thursday In Assault On Officer

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until Thursday morning in trial for a 23-year-old man facing three charges as an aftermath of an alleged assault on an officer Sept. 8 on Dresden Ave.

Gary Ice of Ravine St., accused of striking Patrolman Ronald J. Brookes, is charged with assault and battery, resisting or abusing a police officer and intoxication. Police said the assault took place after Brookes had arrested Ice on an intoxication charge.

Ice entered a not guilty plea on all three charges today through his counsel, Ben H. Berman. His bond was continued.

Dealer Makes 1-Day Trip To L.A., Back

Harry Y. George of Litten Motor Sales was one of 2,100 American Motors dealers who were flown to Los Angeles and back in one day for viewing the 1969 auto earlier this month.

Nineteen jet planes carried the entire dealer force from all parts of the country, some traveling more than 6,000 miles roundtrip to attend.

George said he and the others were not told where they were headed as they took off from the Greater Pittsburgh Airport. The dealers viewed a 45-minute film on the plane, saw the various new autos at the L.A. airport where they lunched, then returned home.

A modern airport under construction soon will give isolated Bhutan a major link with the outside world.

Scott Against Gun Control Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott urged the Senate today to reject what he said were weakening amendments to the gun control bill, including one he said would exempt ammunition controls for nearly 90 per cent of all weapons.

"It excludes from coverage ammunition of the type that killed President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Medgar Evers to take but a few examples," the Pennsylvania Republican said in a prepared speech.

Senate Vote Set

Scott's appeal came as the Senate prepared to start voting on a series of amendments on the bill. Rifles, shotguns and ammunition would be added to the already enacted ban on mail order sales of handguns under the proposed law.

The bill as introduced also would prohibit sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition to persons under age 18, handguns and ammunition to those under age 21, and sale to out-of-staters of any firearm.

Scott said that in addition to the ammunitions amendment three other amendments added by the Senate Judiciary Committee would incorporate exceptions that "substantially endanger its effectiveness" by:

—Authorizing issuance of "collector's licenses" which Scott said would virtually exempt a person from all controls in the bill.

—Permit over-the-counter sales of firearms to persons from adjoining states so long as firearms laws of neither state involved were violated.

—Loosen standards to permit issuance of a dealer's license to a person who does not conduct commercial operations.

Gutters And Downspouts Need Good Maintenance

Even if your house is brand new, if you neglect your gutters you can't expect them to last much more than eight or 10 years if they are of galvanized metal; about 20 years if they are copper or aluminum. And this is under normal conditions.

Gutters and downspouts should be cleaned out at least twice a year, in the spring and fall, and any other time they seem to be clogged.

Get rid of all loose debris; leaves, dirt, seeds. Scrape out caked mud. Flush out with a garden hose. Use a plumber's snake if the downspout is clogged. Often running a stream of water through will clear it.

ONCE THEY are cleaned, inspect the gutters carefully. All signs of rust should be cleaned up. Use a wire brush, thn sand.

The inside of the gutter should then be coated with an asphalt paint, such as roof coating. If you are down to the bare metal on the outside, paint first with a good primer, then with house paint to match the rest of the surface.

Tiny holes should be cleaned carefully. Break away all the rotted material. If quite small, the asphalt may be enough to seal it. One trick is to put a bit of burlap or aluminem foil down in the wet roof coating and then give it another coat.

A more durable patch and one that is suitable for larger holes can be made from fiberglass cloth and resin, the sort of patching material sold for patching auto bodies. Just follow the instructions, generally soaking the fiberglass in resin and then applying it to the gutter. Smooth it to make it match the shape of the metal. Give it a final coat of resin to coat all the edges.

GUTTERS are less likely to fill with debris and hence less like to corrode if the pitch is sufficient to cause the water to flow freely.

Pour water in the gutter and watch how it flows. If it remains in one spot anywhere along the gutter's length, then raise the gutter at that point. This will mean renailing the hangers there.

A big help in keeping gutters free of leaves and other debris is the gutter guard. This is generally a length of wire mesh that clamps over the gutter's edge. Remember though that this is no cure-all. These, too, must be swept off now and then.

Very important is a strainer of some sort at the top of the downspout.

New Symbol Of Merit Set For Realtors

The Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards has announced the creation of a new professional designation for Realtors.

Soon the homebuying and home selling public will be seeing the designation G.R.I. after the names of some Realtors. The G.R.I. means Graduate, Realtors Institute and signifies the attainment of a higher professional status through real estate education.

The G.R.I. candidate must satisfactorily complete all three courses of the Ohio Real Estate Institute at Ohio State University before being awarded the G.R.I. designation. The G.R.I. designations are awarded by the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards according to standards established by the National Association of Real Estate Boards. It is a nationally recognized designation with each state association of real estate boards sponsoring a Real Estate Institute.

Ohio's first G.R.I. recipients will be named during the 59th annual convention of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards in Toledo on Tuesday.

From that time on, G.R.I. will be a household term used to identify Realtors with exceptional ability to serve the needs of present or prospective home owners.

Steps Offered For Splicing

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

With the present trend toward the development of a basement for use as a play or recreation room, it frequently is desirable to remove one or more of the columns which supports the floor above.

This is not a thing that can be done simply without due regard to the safety of the house. It is a matter for careful thought. There are also times when a girder or beam develops a bad crack and shows signs of sagging. In either of these cases, a solid job of splicing must be done for the sake of safety and a solid house.

To properly splice a beam, set 2-inch planks of the same width as the beam along each side. These should be nailed lightly, with the nail heads not quite full driven in.

The next step is to bore holes right through the planks and into the beam and set in lag-screws with iron washers under the heads. These should be staggered in a triangular pattern at both ends and in the center. The screws set in the plank facing you should be offset from those in the back of the beam being spliced. After this, the nails can be drawn or sunk fully.

Most of the splices one sees are made with heavy nails or spikes, but these cannot compare with the rigidity secured with the lag-screws. The only procedure nearly as solid and strong as a lag - screw job is done by boring straight through all three members involved and driving bolts through to the other side in a driving (very tight) fit.

While the above is the kind of job that most grown men might attempt with success, it is suggested that a builder or other competent person be consulted before it is started.

3 Key Points Stressed For Finishing Of Wood

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Transparent wood finishing materials fall into two general categories: those which lie on the surface and those which penetrate.

The surface coatings include varnish, lacquer, shellac and the various synthetics. The penetrating substances include sealers and stains, linseed oil and turpentine.

All have the same purpose—to protect and beautify the wood without hiding its natural grain.

The surface coatings may be applied to raw wood or wood from which the old finish has been removed, as well as to previously finished surfaces which have been properly prepared. But a penetrating finish is designed to fill the pores of the wood and so cannot do its job unless it is applied to bare wood.

—:—

IN USING these so - called natural finishes, bear in mind three points: (1) All finishes change the tone of wood, tending to make it darker; (2) wood darkens with age; (3) when an entire wall has been finished, it appears darker than a small sample of wood with the same finish. It is wise, therefore, to select a surface or penetrating finish that produces a shade lighter than you actually want it to be.

Stains and penetrating sealers usually must be wiped off within minutes after they have been applied.

The directions on the container of the product you buy will tell you how long a time should elapse between the application and the wipe-off. The latter is necessary to prevent some of the material from remaining on the surface, preventing proper drying. It also regulates the intensity of the color.

The quicker the wipe-off, the lighter the shade. Oil stains also can be made lighter by diluting them with turpentine or the recommended thinner.

ONE OF the oldest penetrating finishes, designed to give wood the patina it usually achieves only after years of tender care, involves the use of a mixture of boiled linseed oil and turpentine.

After the linseed oil and turpentine have been mixed, spread it on the wood, using either a clean paint brush or a clean, lintless cloth. As soon as you have completed the application, take another clean cloth and wipe off any excess, being sure to wipe and not rub.

After waiting about an hour —and using still another cloth —rub and keep rubbing. In fact, repeat the rubbing chore as often as you want during the ensuing weeks, the idea being to give the wood a rich, mellow appearance.

There are different theories on the proportions that should be used for this mixture, but we have found that two parts of boiled linseed oil and turpentine produce the best results. By the way, you purchase the linseed oil already boiled. Don't try to boil it at home.

Governments Scolded

Stokes Calls For Action On Mass Transit Needs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes scolded the state and federal governments and the American Transit Association today and said they weren't doing enough to promote mass transit systems.

Speaking to the association's 87th annual meeting, Stokes said in a prepared speech that the group should either work to "move people more efficiently . . . or you might as well stop having annual meetings."

He charged that the federal government, "while it spends billions on highways, has only paid lip service to mass transit needs."

He called on the association to join him in asking the government to pass a bill "that will direct tax money into mass transit the same way money is now earmarked for highways." He said also states should be asked to emulate New York now earmarked for highways." He said also states should be asked to emulate New York and New Jersey by setting up transportation departments "that will provide the over-view needed to mix highway improvement programs with mass transit programs."

He criticized the association for what he called its failure "to effectively face up to the fact that mass transit has always been the 'poor relation' of the transportation world."

Declaring that Cleveland's No. 1 problem is unemployment, Stokes added that "the practical availability of jobs is in large part directly dependent upon the availability of transportation."

"In Cleveland, all our roads and rails led downtown, and downtown doesn't have enough jobs to solve the problem. The places that can utilize the untrained are found in the peripheral areas of Greater Cleveland, where land is cheaper and there's more of it.

"While we have to get more industry into the inner-city, we must also do something about linking up the unemployed in the ghettos with the factories in the suburbs."

He said it has been estimated that "an adequate transit system for Cleveland would cost upwards of $200 million."

Stokes charged that Ohio "has lived with the concrete philosophy for so long that it doesn't even recognize mass transit as a subject worth the establishment of a department to deal with it.

"We have a state highway department, and that's what Ohio does. It builds highway — ribbons of concrete that link city to city and skirt traffic around the city limits, leaving the core to fend for itself."

Personalities In The News

HONOLULU (AP) — A 46-year-old multimillionaire oilman and his bride, an 18-year-old June high school graduate, plan to remain in Honolulu a few days and then visit the mainland on their honeymoon.

Shirely Au, daughter of the supervisor at Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard, became the wife of Dr. Wendell Phillips, archaeologist, author, explorer and scholar, in a ceremony at Central Union church.

Phillips is believed to be the world's largest individual oil concessionaire. His fortune has been estimated at $120 million. He serves as economic adviser to the sultan of Oman, an oil-rich state on the Arabian Peninsula.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says authorities, parents, teachers and students must "favor the development of the school and the complete and strong education of the students."

Noting that the school season is opening around the world, the pontiff told several thousand pilgrims gathered below his balcony at his summer palace Sunday that "renovated schools and honest youths" should be a working goal for all.

Earlier, while addressing members of an Italian organization of Roman Catholic families, the Pope said married couples must be aware of "the dangers of egoism, suspicion and crisis which seem to paralyze so many married couples by gloomily depicting the burdens and dangers of parenthood."

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Colin C. Stark flicked up the kickstand on his French-made, 18-speed racing bicycle, swung into the saddle and peddled off toward San Francisco, 2,950 miles away.

The 21-year-old sailor, a cross-country cycling enthusiast, says he thinks he can make the trip in 20 days, and is budgeted for little more.

"I've been planning this trip ever since I was 14 years old," he said. Stark is due back in 29 days at his post on the U.S.S. Woodrow Wilson, where he's a machinist mate.

SYDNEY, (AP) — The American pop group, The Monkees, arrived in Sydney today and received the wildest airport welcome since the Beatles flew in four years ago.

About 500 fans, mostly girls, screamed and sobbed as the four singers arrived. Some girls scrambled over a four-foot fence to try to touch them but police bundled them back. Twenty of the fans had spent the night at the airport.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, has left Columbia Presbyterian Hospital where she underwent surgery to correct an arthritic condition in her left leg, it was disclosed Sunday. A spokesman for the hospital's Harkness Pavilion, which the senator entered Aug. 3, said she had been discharged "a couple of days ago."

Two Escape From Lucas County Jail

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)— Two men who broke out of jail here early Sunday were still at liberty 24 hours after a massive search was launched.

The men sawed their way out of Lucas County Jail before dawn.

The search was initiated after one of the escapees, Victor Malone, 21, of Detroit, was spotted in a Walbridge railway yard.

Railroad detective John Best, who confronted Malone, reported that the man fired a shot and yelled that he would not be captured alive.

Sheriff's deputies described Malone as extremely dangerous. He was held on charges of bank robbery and assault with intent to kill.

The robbery charge relates to a raid on the National Bank of Bowling Green's branch at Rossford two months ago.

Detroit police have issued a warrant charging Malone in the May 7 shooting at a YMCA hostel. A resident was wounded when shot in the head with a .32 caliber revolver.

The other escapee was identified as Charles Small, 19, of Toledo. He was held on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and malicious destruction.

The deputies said the two apparently cut through three bars across a second story window with a hacksaw, and then slipped to the ground on a blanket.

Small Girl, Big Fish

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Debbie Farrell, 10, landed a nine-pound carp Sunday at the city's Fontenelle Park lagoon. Debbie said she caught the fish on a "little teeny hook" with three pieces of corn on it.

Scientists from the United Arab Republic and the United States are measuring the flow of cosmic rays through the second of the three great pyramids of Giza near Cairo.

Small Ape Shatters Decorum Of Church

BELMONT, Mass. (AP) — Decorum at the 7 a.m. Mass Sunday at St. Joseph's church was shattered by one church goer, an eight-pound Japanese Macaque ape named Zelda.

Zelda entered unescorted and proceeded to climb pipes and jump over pews. At one point she sought refuge in the pulpit, and at another, she landed in the lap of a nun.

She was chased by usher and five policemen and had been caught when owner Thomas Magsam of Belmont arrived.

"The policemen had Zelda trapped in their net," he said. "She was more frightened than anyone else. And she was glad to see me."

Stokes Calls For Action On Mass Transit Needs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes scolded the state and federal governments and the American Transit Association today and said they weren't doing enough to promote mass transit systems.

Speaking to the association's 87th annual meeting, Stokes said in a prepared speech that the group should either work to "move people more efficiently . . . or you might as well stop having annual meetings."

He charged that the federal government, "while it spends billions on highways, has only paid lip service to mass transit needs."

He called on the association to join him in asking the government to pass a bill "that will direct tax money into mass transit the same way money is now earmarked for highways." He said also states should be asked to emulate New York now earmarked for highways." He said also states should be asked to emulate New York and New Jersey by setting up transportation departments "that will provide the over-view needed to mix highway improvement programs with mass transit programs."

He criticized the association for what he called its failure "to effectively face up to the fact that mass transit has always been the 'poor relation' of the transportation world."

Declaring that Cleveland's No. 1 problem is unemployment, Stokes added that "the practical availability of jobs is in large part directly dependent upon the availability of transportation."

"In Cleveland, all our roads and rails led downtown, and downtown doesn't have enough jobs to solve the problem. The places that can utilize the untrained are found in the peripheral areas of Greater Cleveland, where land is cheaper and there's more of it.

"While we have to get more industry into the inner-city, we must also do something about linking up the unemployed in the ghettos with the factories in the suburbs."

He said it has been estimated that "an adequate transit system for Cleveland would cost upwards of $200 million."

Stokes charged that Ohio "has lived with the concrete philosophy for so long that it doesn't even recognize mass transit as a subject worth the establishment of a department to deal with it.

"We have a state highway department, and that's what Ohio does. It builds highway — ribbons of concrete that link city to city and skirt traffic around the city limits, leaving the core to fend for itself."

Personalities In The News

HONOLULU (AP) — A 46-year-old multimillionaire oilman and his bride, an 18-year-old June high school graduate, plan to remain in Honolulu a few days and then visit the mainland on their honeymoon.

Shirely Au, daughter of the supervisor at Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard, became the wife of Dr. Wendell Phillips, archaeologist, author, explorer and scholar, in a ceremony at Central Union church.

Phillips is believed to be the world's largest individual oil concessionaire. His fortune has been estimated at $120 million. He serves as economic adviser to the sultan of Oman, an oil-rich state on the Arabian Peninsula.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says authorities, parents, teachers and students must "favor the development of the school and the complete and strong education of the students."

Noting that the school season is opening around the world, the pontiff told several thousand pilgrims gathered below his balcony at his summer palace Sunday that "renovated schools and honest youths" should be a working goal for all.

Earlier, while addressing members of an Italian organization of Roman Catholic families, the Pope said married couples must be aware of "the dangers of egoism, suspicion and crisis which seem to paralyze so many married couples by gloomily depicting the burdens and dangers of parenthood."

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Colin C. Stark flicked up the kickstand on his French-made, 18-speed racing bicycle, swung into the saddle and peddled off toward San Francisco, 2,950 miles away.

The 21-year-old sailor, a cross-country cycling enthusiast, says he thinks he can make the trip in 20 days, and is budgeted for little more.

"I've been planning this trip ever since I was 14 years old," he said. Stark is due back in 29 days at his post on the U.S.S. Woodrow Wilson, where he's a machinist mate.

SYDNEY, (AP) — The American pop group, The Monkees, arrived in Sydney today and received the wildest airport welcome since the Beatles flew in four years ago.

About 500 fans, mostly girls, screamed and sobbed as the four singers arrived. Some girls scrambled over a four-foot fence to try to touch them but police bundled them back. Twenty of the fans had spent the night at the airport.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, has left Columbia Presbyterian Hospital where she underwent surgery to correct an arthritic condition in her left leg, it was disclosed Sunday. A spokesman for the hospital's Harkness Pavilion, which the senator entered Aug. 3, said she had been discharged "a couple of days ago."

Two Escape From Lucas County Jail

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)— Two men who broke out of jail here early Sunday were still at liberty 24 hours after a massive search was launched.

The men sawed their way out of Lucas County Jail before dawn.

The search was initiated after one of the escapees, Victor Malone, 21, of Detroit, was spotted in a Walbridge railway yard.

Railroad detective John Best, who confronted Malone, reported that the man fired a shot and yelled that he would not be captured alive.

Sheriff's deputies described Malone as extremely dangerous. He was held on charges of bank robbery and assault with intent to kill.

The robbery charge relates to a raid on the National Bank of Bowling Green's branch at Rossford two months ago.

Detroit police have issued a warrant charging Malone in the May 7 shooting at a YMCA hostel. A resident was wounded when shot in the head with a .32 caliber revolver.

The other escapee was identified as Charles Small, 19, of Toledo. He was held on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and malicious destruction.

The deputies said the two apparently cut through three bars across a second story window with a hacksaw, and then slipped to the ground on a blanket.

Small Ape Shatters Decorum Of Church

BELMONT, Mass. (AP) — Decorum at the 7 a.m. Mass Sunday at St. Joseph's church was shattered by one church goer, an eight-pound Japanese Macaque ape named Zelda.

Zelda entered unescorted and proceeded to climb pipes and jump over pews. At one point she sought refuge in the pulpit, and at another, she landed in the lap of a nun.

She was chased by usher and five policemen and had been caught when owner Thomas Magsam of Belmont arrived.

"The policemen had Zelda trapped in their net," he said. "She was more frightened than anyone else. And she was glad to see me."

The black marlin may weigh from 60 to 1,500 pounds.

Small Girl, Big Fish

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Debbie Farrell, 10, landed a nine-pound carp Sunday at the city's Fontenelle Park lagoon. Debbie said she caught the fish on a "little teeny hook" with three pieces of corn on it.

Cardinals Clinch Pennant; Tigers' Magic Number At 2

Curt Flood's champagne spray gave the St. Louis Cardinals that heady feeling again before Cincinnati's George Culver officially popped the cork.

Flood's five-hit spree in a 7-4 victory at Houston Sunday got the Cardinals' National League pennant party off to an early start.

But the champagne stayed on ice for one anxious hour before word arrived from the West Coast that Cincinnati had eliminated the second place San Francisco Giants 4-0 on Culver's four-hitter.

Then the bubbly flowed as the Cardinals celebrated their second successive flag and third in the last five years.

"It's good to be right on the scene when this is going on," said General Manager Bing Devine, who rejoined the Cardinals this season after three years with the New York Mets.

"This is the game you wait for from March 1st on," said Flood, whose five singles in five trips to the plate raised his batting average six points to .302.

Sunday's victory, coupled with San Francisco's loss to the Reds, sent the Cardinals 12½ games ahead of the Giants, who have just 12 to play.

Pittsburgh trimmed New York 3-0 on Steve Blass' two-hitter, the Chicago Cubs blanked Philadelphia 4-0 behind Ferguson Jenkins and rookie George Stone hurled Atlanta past Los Angels 5-2 in other NL games.

Southpaw Steve Carlton pitched the Cardinals to their biggest victory of the year, surviving Houston 11 hits, including Jim Wynn's two-run homer, to bring his record to 13-11.

Flood and Roger Maris, who knocked in three runs with his fifth homer and a sacrifice fly, paced the Cardinals' 15-hit barrage against Don Wilson, 13-15, and three Houston relievers.

Carlton fell behind 2-1 when Wynn unloaded his 23rd homer in the first inning, but Flood's second hit and Maris' homer sent the Cards ahead to stay in the third. Orlando Cepeda drilled a two-run single in the fifth and the champs added two more runs in the sixth on Flood's bases-loaded single and Maris' sacrifice fly.

Detroit Can Clinch Today

Watching the Detroit pitching staff in action for the last two weeks could give a hitter an inferiority complex. But Jim Northrup, Bill Freehan and Willie Horton took care of that little problem in a hurry.

While Mickey Lolich was stretching the Tigers' complete game string to nine with a three-hitter, Northrup and Freehan walloped two homers each and Horton hit one in Detroit's 13-0 romp over Oakland Sunday.

The victory, combined with Baltimore's 2-0 loss at Cleveland, cut Detroit's magic number for clinching the American League pennant to two. The end could come tonight if the Tigers beat New York and the Orioles lose in Boston.

In other American League action Sunday, the Yankees stretched their winning streak to 10—highest in the majors this season—with a 3-2 decision over Washington, Minnesota shaded Boston 3-2 and California topped Chicago 4-1.

The Tigers, who have won six straight, haven't used a relief pitcher since Sept. 4 and Lolich gave the bullpen another day off. The left-hander struck out 12 and ran his record to 15-9.

It was Lolich's second complete game in the Tiger staff's string. Denny McLain, who won his 30th game Saturday, has three, Earl Wilson has two and John Hiller and Pat Dobson one each.

Northrup tagged a two-run shot in the first inning and Horton followed with his 36th of the season. Freehan had two-run homers in the third and fifth, raising his season total to 24. Northrup's second of the game and 19th of the season touched off a four-run Tiger sixth.

The Yankees bunched three runs in the fourth inning and hung on to nip the Senators for their 10th straight.

Fritz Peterson won his sixth straight with late-inning help from Lindy McDaniel. Tom Tresh singled and scored on Mickey Mantle's double in the fourth. Then singles by Joe Pepitone and Ellie Rodriguez drove in two more. Home runs by Ken McMullen and Tim Cullen accounted for Washington's runs.

Stan Williams threw a four-hitter at the Orioles and left Baltimore 10½ games behind Detroit with only 11 to play.

Max Alvis homered for the Indians.

Cesar Tovar singled and stole second before Allison delivered. Rookie Gerry Moses slammed a two-run homer for Boston.

Bob McNea Hospitalized With Pleurisy

East Liverpool High football coach and athletic director Bob McNea is in Northside Hospital in Youngstown and is expected to be there a week to 10 days.

McNea is suffering from pleurisy and his doctor has ordered a complete rest. The hospital has ordered no visitors, but cards or letters to Room 1310 would be appreciated. McNea can hardly talk as a result of his condition. He was admitted to the hospital Saturday afternoon.

The coaching staff as a whole will prepare the Potters for Friday night's game with Berea Mid-Park.

McLain Gets 30th Win, Sees Endorsement Money

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers has his name in baseball's record books and a quarter-of-a-million dollars on the way to his bank book-two items which undoubtedly make it difficult to locate any reason for an encore.

But there still are two targets for McLain: The $100,000 salary-or more—which he insists he will get from the Tigers and the opportunity to become the first pitcher in half-a-century to win as many as 33 games.

The 24-year-old Tiger right-hander, also known for his organ music, became the first 30-game winner in the majors since Dizzy Dean in 1934 when he defeated the Oakland A's 5-4 Saturday.

But McLain admittedly wasn't only shooting for the record books against the A's. According to his agent, Frank Scott, some $200,000 in endorsements awaited victory No. 30, and McLain himself put his stamp on a $100,000 salary.

McLain, who is being paid an estimated $35,000, said before he went out to pitch, "I want $100,000 and that's what I'm going to get. I don't care if they (the Tigers) care about me saying it. And I'm not saying I'm stopping at $100,000.

"I didn't say $100,000 isn't much today."

According to Manager Mayo Smith, McLain probably will get three more starts before the end of the regular season and, therefore, can reach as high as 33 victories.

No pitcher has been able to put together that many since Grover Alexander of Philadelphia in 1916.

Palmer Wins Kemper Golf

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Arnold Palmer can relax. He's pro golf's first official millionaire—and he's also out of a slump.

Palmer pushed his official PGA earnings over the $1 million mark as he won the $150,000 Kemper Open with one of his old-time charges Sunday at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

A veteran of 14 years on the tour, Palmer later was asked how it felt to become a millionaire by playing golf. He replied with a big laugh.

"It feels great—certainly one of the greatest thrills of my life," he said. "Actually, I went over the $1 million mark some time last year. Now its nice to have it official. For a while there this year I didn't know if I could make it."

Palmer, who was 39 last Tuesday, earned $938,515.22 in official money on the PGA tour through last year. He has added $110,377.57 this season, but some is listed as unofficial—such as money picked up in play outside PGA jurisdiction.

The old warhorse, accompanied by an increased Arnie's Army in a huge crowd of 39,300, started the final round three strokes off the pace. It was apparent that it was to be his day. He had an eagle 3 on the second hole, sinking a six-foot putt.

He went on to add five birdies, more than offsetting a pair of bogeys, and finished with a five-under-par 67 and a 72-hole total of 276, 12 strokes under regulation.

The victory, worth $30,000, was Palmer's 53rd championship, but only his second this year. He won the Bob Hope Classic in February before going into his slump.

"I kind of felt like myself again," he said after leading Australian Bruce Crampton and veteran Art Wall by four strokes.

Crampton, who had a closing 73 after trailing by one stroke after 54 holes, and Wall, who finished with a 70, both collected $14,625.

Orville Moody, 34, a pro rookie on the tour who led with 206 starting the final day, and unheralded John Lively tied for fourth at 281, earning $6,975 apiece. Another stroke back were Dow Finsterwald, Al Geiberger, Phil Rodgerss and Doug Sanders.

Ryun, Patrick Gain 1,500 Meter Finals

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) —Coming down the home stretch, his spot in today's 1,500 - meter Olympic qualifying race assured, Dave Patrick saw his Villanova teammate Martin Liquori racing up on the outside.

"Come on, Marty, let's tie," Patrick said, and they almost did as Patrick won the semifinal heat by a slim margin with both runners timed in 3:58.8.

"But there's no tie in the final," Patrick said as he related the story after the race.

Patrick faces world record holder Jim Ryun in the final event on the eight-day program at these U.S. Olympic track and field trials.

Ryun won his heat Sunday in 3:53.0 and there was some speculation that perhaps Patrick might have made a strategic error by running so much faster than he needed to qualify and perhaps tiring himself for today's race.

Normally a stretch finisher who stays back until the last lap, Patrick set the early pace in his semifinal before falling back and then coming up to take the lead in the final backstretch.

"I got the pace and I thought I'd keep it for a little while," Patrick, the collegiate 1,500-meter chamipon, said. "I ran hard today, harder than I wanted to."

If Ryun and Patrick are the favorites to battle for the victory and the first two places on the 1,500 - meter squad, the 19-year-old Liquori, a Villanova sophomore, showed that he should be counted very much in the race for the third spot.

The other qualifiers for the final were Roscoe Divine and Dave Wilborn of Oregon, Tom Von Ruden of the U. S. Army, Sam Bair of Kent State and John Mason of Fort Hayes, Kan., State.

College football on TV has gotten off to another great start.

In 1967 the first two games, SMU-Texas A&M and Penn State-Navy, were down-to-the-gun thrillers, and the Georgia-Tennessee, which seemed out of the game, made a last-ditch drive, scoring as time ran out to make it 17-15 Georgia. Announcer Chris Schengel came up with one of his usual gems after this TD, saying "I wonder if they'll go for one point or two." Bud Wilkinson said, "I think they'll go for two", and the Vols did and made the conversion to force a tie.

A couple of hours earlier there was another dramatic moment on TV, when the Tigers rallied for two runs in the last of the ninth to give Denny McClain his 30th victory. Dizzy Dean, the last man to win 30 games in a season, was on hand and said it was more exciting than the World Series. Dean, an ex-Cardinal, oddly enough said that he would root for Detroit in the Series.

And TV provided controversy on Saturday, also. Apparently everyone who saw the Jimmy Ellis-Floyd Patterson fight thought that Patterson had won a decision and regained a piece of the heavyweight title, and the bits of the bout I saw during the commercials during the baseball game supported this, but the referee gave the decision to Ellis, amid bids from the Swedish crowd.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Charles Hayes is playing tackle on the Weber State (Utah) football team. Hayes is presently on the second team under coach Sarkis Arslanian. Hayes attended Santa Barbara (Calif.) JC before transferring to Weber this season.

JOHN DUDO, who was head basketball coach at Western Beaver last season but was not rehired, has been named head coach at Quigley High in Baden. Dudo replaces Viv Bianchi, who coached at Quigley while teaching at Midland last year.

Dan Sekeres, the Golden Beavers football coach last year, is still teaching at Western Beaver, but is serving as an assistant coach to Joe Banks at Geneva.

CHUCK WINTERS of East Liverpool was reported sharp in a Pitt scrimmage Saturday, moving the second-team offense to a touchdown against the first-team defense with his passing. Winters also had one intercepted and returned for a TD by Jeff Barr of Canton. Winters apparently was running behind sophomores Dave Havern and Don Plusquellic and fellow junior Frank Gustine at the quarterback position before Saturday.

MALCOLM LOMAX, who scored four touchdowns as Donora whipped South Side 45-0 in the opener, scored four more Friday night as the Dragons rolled over Beth-Center 33-13.

McLain, who is being paid an estimated $35,000, said before he went out to pitch, "I want $100,000 and that's what I'm going to get. I don't care if they (the Tigers) care about me saying it. And I'm not saying I'm stopping at $100,000.

"I didn't say $100,000 isn't much today."

According to Manager Mayo Smith, McLain probably will get three more starts before the end of the regular season and, therefore, can reach as high as 33 victories.

No pitcher has been able to put together that many since Grover Alexander of Philadelphia in 1916.

College football on TV has gotten off to another great start.

In 1967 the first two games, SMU-Texas A&M and Penn State-Navy, were down-to-the-gun thrillers, and the Georgia-Tennessee, which seemed out of the game, made a last-ditch drive, scoring as time ran out to make it 17-15 Georgia. Announcer Chris Schengel came up with one of his usual gems after this TD, saying "I wonder if they'll go for one point or two." Bud Wilkinson said, "I think they'll go for two", and the Vols did and made the conversion to force a tie.

A couple of hours earlier there was another dramatic moment on TV, when the Tigers rallied for two runs in the last of the ninth to give Denny McClain his 30th victory. Dizzy Dean, the last man to win 30 games in a season, was on hand and said it was more exciting than the World Series. Dean, an ex-Cardinal, oddly enough said that he would root for Detroit in the Series.

And TV provided controversy on Saturday, also. Apparently everyone who saw the Jimmy Ellis-Floyd Patterson fight thought that Patterson had won a decision and regained a piece of the heavyweight title, and the bits of the bout I saw during the commercials during the baseball game supported this, but the referee gave the decision to Ellis, amid bids from the Swedish crowd.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Charles Hayes is playing tackle on the Weber State (Utah) football team. Hayes is presently on the second team under coach Sarkis Arslanian. Hayes attended Santa Barbara (Calif.) JC before transferring to Weber this season.

JOHN DUDO, who was head basketball coach at Western Beaver last season but was not rehired, has been named head coach at Quigley High in Baden. Dudo replaces Viv Bianchi, who coached at Quigley while teaching at Midland last year.

Dan Sekeres, the Golden Beavers football coach last year, is still teaching at Western Beaver, but is serving as an assistant coach to Joe Banks at Geneva.

CHUCK WINTERS of East Liverpool was reported sharp in a Pitt scrimmage Saturday, moving the second-team offense to a touchdown against the first-team defense with his passing. Winters also had one intercepted and returned for a TD by Jeff Barr of Canton. Winters apparently was running behind sophomores Dave Havern and Don Plusquellic and fellow junior Frank Gustine at the quarterback position before Saturday.

MALCOLM LOMAX, who scored four touchdowns as Donora whipped South Side 45-0 in the opener, scored four more Friday night as the Dragons rolled over Beth-Center 33-13.

Palmer Wins Kemper Golf

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Arnold Palmer can relax. He's pro golf's first official millionaire—and he's also out of a slump.

Palmer pushed his official PGA earnings over the $1 million mark as he won the $150,000 Kemper Open with one of his old-time charges Sunday at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

A veteran of 14 years on the tour, Palmer later was asked how it felt to become a millionaire by playing golf. He replied with a big laugh.

"It feels great—certainly one of the greatest thrills of my life," he said. "Actually, I went over the $1 million mark some time last year. Now its nice to have it official. For a while there this year I didn't know if I could make it."

Palmer, who was 39 last Tuesday, earned $938,515.22 in official money on the PGA tour through last year. He has added $110,377.57 this season, but some is listed as unofficial—such as money picked up in play outside PGA jurisdiction.

The old warhorse, accompanied by an increased Arnie's Army in a huge crowd of 39,300, started the final round three strokes off the pace. It was apparent that it was to be his day. He had an eagle 3 on the second hole, sinking a six-foot putt.

He went on to add five birdies, more than offsetting a pair of bogeys, and finished with a five-under-par 67 and a 72-hole total of 276, 12 strokes under regulation.

The victory, worth $30,000, was Palmer's 53rd championship, but only his second this year. He won the Bob Hope Classic in February before going into his slump.

"I kind of felt like myself again," he said after leading Australian Bruce Crampton and veteran Art Wall by four strokes.

Crampton, who had a closing 73 after trailing by one stroke after 54 holes, and Wall, who finished with a 70, both collected $14,625.

Orville Moody, 34, a pro rookie on the tour who led with 206 starting the final day, and unheralded John Lively tied for fourth at 281, earning $6,975 apiece. Another stroke back were Dow Finsterwald, Al Geiberger, Phil Rodgerss and Doug Sanders.

Ryun, Patrick Gain 1,500 Meter Finals

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) —Coming down the home stretch, his spot in today's 1,500 - meter Olympic qualifying race assured, Dave Patrick saw his Villanova teammate Martin Liquori racing up on the outside.

"Come on, Marty, let's tie," Patrick said, and they almost did as Patrick won the semifinal heat by a slim margin with both runners timed in 3:58.8.

"But there's no tie in the final," Patrick said as he related the story after the race.

Patrick faces world record holder Jim Ryun in the final event on the eight-day program at these U.S. Olympic track and field trials.

Ryun won his heat Sunday in 3:53.0 and there was some speculation that perhaps Patrick might have made a strategic error by running so much faster than he needed to qualify and perhaps tiring himself for today's race.

Normally a stretch finisher who stays back until the last lap, Patrick set the early pace in his semifinal before falling back and then coming up to take the lead in the final backstretch.

"I got the pace and I thought I'd keep it for a little while," Patrick, the collegiate 1,500-meter champion, said. "I ran hard today, harder than I wanted to."

If Ryun and Patrick are the favorites to battle for the victory and the first two places on the 1,500 - meter squad, the 19-year-old Liquori, a Villanova sophomore, showed that he should be counted very much in the race for the third spot.

The other qualifiers for the final were Roscoe Divine and Dave Wilborn of Oregon, Tom Von Ruden of the U. S. Army, Sam Bair of Kent State and John Mason of Fort Hayes, Kan., State.

Lady Potters Set Meeting Tonight

There will be a special meeting of the Lady Potter Boosters Club tonight at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Musuraca on St. Clair Ave.

Detroit Can Clinch Today

Watching the Detroit pitching staff in action for the last two weeks could give a hitter an inferiority complex. But Jim Northrup, Bill Freehan and Willie Horton took care of that little problem in a hurry.

While Mickey Lolich was stretching the Tigers' complete game string to nine with a three-hitter, Northrup and Freehan walloped two homers each and Horton hit one in Detroit's 13-0 romp over Oakland Sunday.

The victory, combined with Baltimore's 2-0 loss at Cleveland, cut Detroit's magic number for clinching the American League pennant to two. The end could come tonight if the Tigers beat New York and the Orioles lose in Boston.

In other American League action Sunday, the Yankees stretched their winning streak to 10—highest in the majors this season—with a 3-2 decision over Washington, Minnesota shaded Boston 3-2 and California topped Chicago 4-1.

The Tigers, who have won six straight, haven't used a relief pitcher since Sept. 4 and Lolich gave the bullpen another day off. The left-hander struck out 12 and ran his record to 15-9.

It was Lolich's second complete game in the Tiger staff's string. Denny McLain, who won his 30th game Saturday, has three, Earl Wilson has two and John Hiller and Pat Dobson one each.

Northrup tagged a two-run shot in the first inning and Horton followed with his 36th of the season. Freehan had two-run homers in the third and fifth, raising his season total to 24. Northrup's second of the game and 19th of the season touched off a four-run Tiger sixth.

The Yankees bunched three runs in the fourth inning and hung on to nip the Senators for their 10th straight.

Fritz Peterson won his sixth straight with late-inning help from Lindy McDaniel. Tom Tresh singled and scored on Mickey Mantle's double in the fourth. Then singles by Joe Pepitone and Ellie Rodriguez drove in two more. Home runs by Ken McMullen and Tim Cullen accounted for Washington's runs.

Stan Williams threw a four-hitter at the Orioles and left Baltimore 10½ games behind Detroit with only 11 to play.

Max Alvis homered for the Indians.

Bob Allison, who had homered earlier, drove in Minnesota's winning run with a ninth inning double as the Twins nipped the Red Sox.

Cesar Tovar singled and stole second before Allison delivered. Rookie Gerry Moses slammed a two-run homer for Boston.

Bob McNea Hospitalized With Pleurisy

East Liverpool High football coach and athletic director Bob McNea is in Northside Hospital in Youngstown and is expected to be there a week to 10 days.

McNea is suffering from pleurisy and his doctor has ordered a complete rest. The hospital has ordered no visitors, but cards or letters to Room 1310 would be appreciated. McNea can hardly talk as a result of his condition. He was admitted to the hospital Saturday afternoon.

The coaching staff as a whole will prepare the Potters for Friday night's game with Berea Mid-Park.

Bengals Capture First; Browns Win, Steelers Lose

Bills Fire Joe Collier After Loss

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Bills have ended Coach Joe Collier's losing streak at two games and the Cincinnati Bengals have stopped Coach Paul Brown's at one, but only Brown is celebrating.

"Here's to one in a row," Brown said, toasting a soft drink to Cincinnati's 24-10 victory over Denver Sunday, his first in the American Football League after losing his debut last week.

Collier, however, had little to be happy about after the Bills were trounced by Oakland 48-6, their second but last 1968 loss under Collier, who was fired after the game.

In the only other AFL contest, Joe Namath did the firing for the New York Jets and they upset Kansas City 20-19.

On Saturday Minnesota squashed Atlanta 47-7 in the NFL and Houston breezed past Miami 24-10 in the AFL.

Cincinnati's victory meant more than just a 1-1 record for Brown, who left pro football five years ago after a glorious career leading Cleveland of the NFL. His expansion Bengals won two exhibition games, but Sunday's upset was the real thing.

Brown took a chance to get it. With his club on its own 46 yard line, fourth down and inches to go in a tie game in the fourth quarter, he went for the first down and fullback Tom Smiley got it.

On the next play, John Stofa connected on his second long touchdown pass, a 54-yard heave to Warren McVea. Essex Johnson added an insurance touchdown with 2:53 left, slipping 34 yards into the end zone.

Collier, who coached the Bills to the division title in his first year in 1966 before falling to 4-10 last season, watched sadly while Oakland took apart his rookie backfield and ran over his defense.

First-year quarterback Dan Darragh, replacing injured Jack Kemp, never got started as he spent much of the day on the ground. The defending AFL champion Raiders, on the other hand, pushed right through the Bills as rookie George Atkinson ran 86 yards with a punt for one score, Larry Todd ran for two from scrimmage and Pete Banaszak and Hewritt Dixon added one each on the ground.

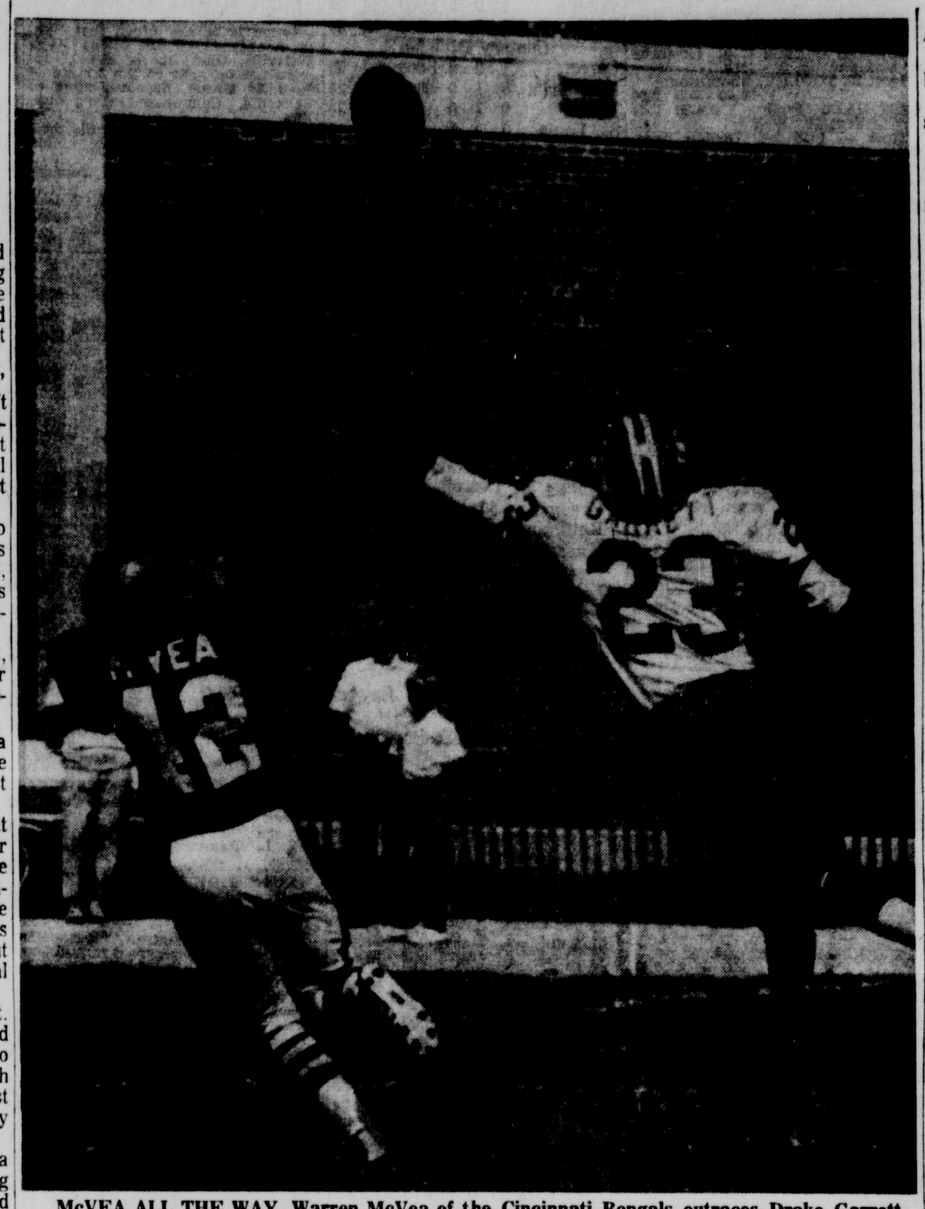

Collier still feels the Bills will win "their share of games," but it won't be for him. He was replaced by Bills' player personnel director Harvey Johnson, a former Canadian Football League and Buffalo assistant coach.

Namath tossed 57 and 30 yards to Don Maynard for two first half touchdowns and Turner added a 22-yard field goal and then the clincher, a 42-yarder in the final quarter that made the score 20-16.

The high-powered Chiefs were able to score only on Noland Smith's 80-yard punt return and Jan Stenerud's four field goals, giving him 8-for-8 this season.

But after Stenerud' last kick, Namath started from his own four and passed the jets out of trouble as they ate up the rest of the time.

Namath finished with 17 completions in 29 tries for 302 yards and Maynard grabbed eight for 203 yards.

Lisbon To Have Eyes On Little Brown Jug

LISBON — Local devotees of harness racing will keep their eyes on Batman, a 3-year-old pacer, when they go to Delaware Thursday for the Little Brown Jug — Ohio's pacing classic.

Richard (Puffy) Morris, a native of Lisbon, is part owner of Batman. The horse is having a successful season and is eligible for a couple of big races in New York later this fall.

Railbirds say this is the first time Lisbon has had any connection with "The Jug," either by horse or driver.

Nebraska, Tennessee Win

Tennessee's Volunteers had hot feet but Nebraska's Paul Rogers had the hottest foot of all.

Rogers, a sophomore, kicked a 51-yard field goal with 21 seconds left that gave the 14th-ranked Cornhuskers a 13-10 triumph over Wyoming as the college football season got under way Saturday.

Ninth-ranked Tennessee, playing on their new synthetic Tartan Turf, scored on the final play of the game and then added a two-point conversion pass to pull out a 17-all tie with upset-minded Georgia.

"Your feet got hotter than on natural grass," said Tennessee linebacker Steve Kiner, "but the added heat was no problem."

Those were the only two members of The Associated Press' Top Twenty to see action over the weekend but there were plenty of others hotfooting it across the nation's gridirons.

Eugene "Mercury" Morris rambled for touchdowns of 71, 9, 57 and 33 yards as West Texas State crushed Lamar Tech 45-7. Roland Moss, second in the country in scoring last season, set a school record by rushing for 209 yards as Toledo clobbered Richmond 31-14. And Paul Ginson ran for 115 of Houston's 573 total yards as the explosive Cougars trampled Tulane 54-7.

Other scores included: North Carolina State 10, Wake Forest 6; Morehead State 7, Marshall 7; Western Michigan 20, Arkansas State 0; Iowa State 28, Buffalo 10; Utah State 28, New Mexico State 12; Dayton 24, Kent State 10.

Rogers earlier booted a 26-yard field goal but Nebraska trailed 10-3 entering the fourth period against Wyoming. The Cornhuskers caught up as sub quarterback Ernie Sigler passed 17 yards to Jim McFarland, setting the stage for Rogers' 51-yarder.

Tennessee also came from behind in the final period. Bubba Wyche capped a 48-yard drive with a 20-yard touchdown pass to Gary Kreiss as the final gun sounded. Wyche then threw to Kenny Delong for the two-point conversion.

Georgia had struck for three long-range scores—Jim McCullough's 40-yard field goal, Jake Scott's 90-yard punt return and Bruce Kemp's 80-yard run.

Houston pulled away from Tulane after a 14-7 halftime lead. Gipson's statistics included a 57-yard TD run and Elmo Wright caught scoring passes of 50 yards from Ken Bailey and 81 from Rusty Clark.

The mercurial Mr. Morris churned out 229 yards in 21 carries, bringing is total for three years at West Texas State to 2,219. He had able assistance from Curly Waters, who tallied on punt returns of 58 and 72 yards.

San Diego State, best small college team in the land a year ago, needed Dennis Shaw's five-yard touchdown run with 1:22 to play to defeat Texas-Arlington 23-18.

Three Yogis Miss None, Campbell Takes Lead

Last - ditch rallies by Nebraska and Tennessee saved the Review Grid Yogis this week, as the consensus and three individuals went 9-0 (excluding the Tennessee-Georgia 17-17 tie) for the best week the Yogis have enjoyed in two years.

Only the four stray picks were wrong. Bob Duffy, Chuck Campbell and Bob Shaffer turned in perfect marks, with Campbell moving ahead overall. Ed Clutter missed on Oak Glen, a 27-0 loser to Wellsburg; Turk Pierce missed on Wellsville, a 20-12 loser to Lisbon; Rose Nuzzo missed on the Broncos, a 24-10 loser to the Bengals, and Pete Weaver missed on the Steelers, a 34-20 loser to the Giants.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool, a 52-0 winner over Youngstown Woodrow Wilson; Midland, a 33-0 victor over Center Twp.; Leetonia, which smothered Beaver Local 40-6; Nebraska, which rallied to edge Wyoming 13-10, and the Browns, who downed the Saints 24-10.

Johnny Unitas says he had a perfect game.

"I didn't make a mistake," he said.

Earl Morral says he "made about 20 mistakes that John wouldn't have made." But Morrall, the on-the-spot quarterback for the Baltimore Colts, was given the game ball as the team's outstanding performer Sunday in its 27-10 victory over San Francisco.

Unitas, the Colts' veteran leader, made his quip from the sidelines, nursing an injured right arm. Morrall, acquired from New York less than a month ago and with minimal experience with the Colt system, was thrown into the breech.

He completed 16 of 31 passes for 198 yards and two touchdowns.

In other National Football League games Sunday defending champion Green Bay bombed Philadelphia 30-13, Dallas blasted Detroit 59-13, Cleveland took New Orleans 24-10, New York beat Pittsburgh 34-20 and Washington defeated Chicago 38-28.

The league opened its 49th season Saturday night with Minnesota blasting Atlanta 47-7, and opening weekend continues tonight with Los Angeles at St. Louis.

Morrall, a 12-year veteran, had his second pass of the day intercepted and returned for a touchdown. But he came back with confidence, directed a 72-yard scoring drive and then passed for touchdowns on tosses of eight and 16 yards.

"Earl was on the spot all week getting ready for this game," Coach Don Shula said, and he produced when it counted. He handled it like the guy we need to back up Unitas."

The champion Packers made new coach Phil Bengtson's opener an easy one, coasting in behind Bart Starr and a rugged defense. Starr hit on touchdown passes of 12 and 55 yards and a brilliant kickoff return by Herb Adderly set up another touchdown. The defense, meanwhile, didn't allow the Eagles a touchdown until the final period.

Don Meredith hit Bob Hayes with a 50-yard touchdown strike on his first throw against Detroit and the Dallas Cowboys were off and running to their highest point production in history.

Meredith hit on 16 of 19 passes for 228 yards, including another touchdown, before leaving with the game safely in the bag in the third period. Walt Garrison scored two touchdowns on one yard plunges.

Detroit simply was overwhelmed by a Dallas offense that ran up 542 yards.

Sonny Jurgensen demonstrated he was completely recovered from his elbow operation, firing four touchdown passes — including one of 99 yards to Gerry Allen—in Washington's victory over Chicago. He also connected on scoring passes of 16, six and 19 yards.

Ron Blye's two long kickoff returns set up a pair of early New York touchdowns and the Giants took it from there against Pittsburgh. Fran Tarkenton threw touchdown passes of 10 and 13 yards following Blye's heroics and later scored on a four yard run.

Cleveland used a couple of pass interceptions to break a 10-10 tie and beat New Orleans. Brown defensive back Ernie Kellelman stole a Bill Kilmer pass in the fourth quarter and seven plays later the Browns scored. Moments later Bill Glass picked off another Kilmer pass and raced 17 yards for a insurance touchdown.

In the Saturday game Minnesota turned two fumble recoveries inside the 20-yard line into touchdowns and then romped over Atlanta. Viking Joe Kapp threw three touchdown passes and Bill Brown scored three times.

Eugene "Mercury" Morris rambled for touchdowns of 71, 9, 57 and 33 yards as West Texas State crushed Lamar Tech 45-7. Roland Moss, second in the country in scoring last season, set a school record by rushing for 209 yards as Toledo clobbered Richmond 31-14. And Paul Ginson ran for 115 of Houston's 573 total yards as the explosive Cougars trampled Tulane 54-7.

Other scores included: North Carolina State 10, Wake Forest 6; Morehead State 7, Marshall 7; Western Michigan 20, Arkansas State 0; Iowa State 28, Buffalo 10; Utah State 28, New Mexico State 12; Dayton 24, Kent State 10.

Rogers earlier booted a 26-yard field goal but Nebraska trailed 10-3 entering the fourth period against Wyoming. The Cornhuskers caught up as sub quarterback Ernie Sigler passed 17 yards to Jim McFarland, setting the stage for Rogers' 51-yarder.

Tennessee also came from behind in the final period. Bubba Wyche capped a 48-yard drive with a 20-yard touchdown pass to Gary Kreiss as the final gun sounded. Wyche then threw to Kenny Delong for the two-point conversion.

Georgia had struck for three long-range scores—Jim McCullough's 40-yard field goal, Jake Scott's 90-yard punt return and Bruce Kemp's 80-yard run.

Houston pulled away from Tulane after a 14-7 halftime lead. Gipson's statistics included a 57-yard TD run and Elmo Wright caught scoring passes of 50 yards from Ken Bailey and 81 from Rusty Clark.

The mercurial Mr. Morris churned out 229 yards in 21 carries, bringing is total for three years at West Texas State to 2,219. He had able assistance from Curly Waters, who tallied on punt returns of 58 and 72 yards.

San Diego State, best small college team in the land a year ago, needed Dennis Shaw's five-yard touchdown run with 1:22 to play to defeat Texas-Arlington 23-18.

Lisbon To Have Eyes On Little Brown Jug

LISBON — Local devotees of harness racing will keep their eyes on Batman, a 3-year-old pacer, when they go to Delaware Thursday for the Little Brown Jug — Ohio's pacing classic.

Richard (Puffy) Morris, a native of Lisbon, is part owner of Batman. The horse is having a successful season and is eligible for a couple of big races in New York later this fall.

Railbirds say this is the first time Lisbon has had any connection with "The Jug," either by horse or driver.

Rallies Save Seers

Three Yogis Miss None, Campbell Takes Lead

Last - ditch rallies by Nebraska and Tennessee saved the Review Grid Yogis this week, as the consensus and three individuals went 9-0 (excluding the Tennessee-Georgia 17-17 tie) for the best week the Yogis have enjoyed in two years.

Only the four stray picks were wrong. Bob Duffy, Chuck Campbell and Bob Shaffer turned in perfect marks, with Campbell moving ahead overall. Ed Clutter missed on Oak Glen, a 27-0 loser to Wellsburg; Turk Pierce missed on Wellsville, a 20-12 loser to Lisbon; Rose Nuzzo missed on the Broncos, a 24-10 loser to the Bengals, and Pete Weaver missed on the Steelers, a 34-20 loser to the Giants.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool, a 52-0 winner over Youngstown Woodrow Wilson; Midland, a 33-0 victor over Center Twp.; Leetonia, which smothered Beaver Local 40-6; Nebraska, which rallied to edge Wyoming 13-10, and the Browns, who downed the Saints 24-10.

Colts Top 49ers

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Unitas says he had a perfect game.

"I didn't make a mistake," he said.

Earl Morral says he "made about 20 mistakes that John wouldn't have made." But Morrall, the on-the-spot quarterback for the Baltimore Colts, was given the game ball as the team's outstanding performer Sunday in its 27-10 victory over San Francisco.

Unitas, the Colts' veteran leader, made his quip from the sidelines, nursing an injured right arm. Morrall, acquired from New York less than a month ago and with minimal experience with the Colt system, was thrown into the breech.

He completed 16 of 31 passes for 198 yards and two touchdowns.

In other National Football League games Sunday defending champion Green Bay bombed Philadelphia 30-13, Dallas blasted Detroit 59-13, Cleveland took New Orleans 24-10, New York beat Pittsburgh 34-20 and Washington defeated Chicago 38-28.

The league opened its 49th season Saturday night with Minnesota blasting Atlanta 47-7, and opening weekend continues tonight with Los Angeles at St. Louis.

Morrall, a 12-year veteran, had his second pass of the day intercepted and returned for a touchdown. But he came back with confidence, directed a 72-yard scoring drive and then passed for touchdowns on tosses of eight and 16 yards.

"Earl was on the spot all week getting ready for this game," Coach Don Shula said, and he produced when it counted. He handled it like the guy we need to back up Unitas."

The champion Packers made new coach Phil Bengtson's opener an easy one, coasting in behind Bart Starr and a rugged defense. Starr hit on touchdown passes of 12 and 55 yards and a brilliant kickoff return by Herb Adderly set up another touchdown. The defense, meanwhile, didn't allow the Eagles a touchdown until the final period.

Don Meredith hit Bob Hayes with a 50-yard touchdown strike on his first throw against Detroit and the Dallas Cowboys were off and running to their highest point production in history.

Meredith hit on 16 of 19 passes for 228 yards, including another touchdown, before leaving with the game safely in the bag in the third period. Walt Garrison scored two touchdowns on one yard plunges.

Detroit simply was overwhelmed by a Dallas offense that ran up 542 yards.

Sonny Jurgensen demonstrated he was completely recovered from his elbow operation, firing four touchdown passes — including one of 99 yards to Gerry Allen—in Washington's victory over Chicago. He also connected on scoring passes of 16, six and 19 yards.

Ron Blye's two long kickoff returns set up a pair of early New York touchdowns and the Giants took it from there against Pittsburgh. Fran Tarkenton threw touchdown passes of 10 and 13 yards following Blye's heroics and later scored on a four yard run.

Cleveland used a couple of pass interceptions to break a 10-10 tie and beat New Orleans. Brown defensive back Ernie Kellelman stole a Bill Kilmer pass in the fourth quarter and seven plays later the Browns scored. Moments later Bill Glass picked off another Kilmer pass and raced 17 yards for a insurance touchdown.

In the Saturday game Minnesota turned two fumble recoveries inside the 20-yard line into touchdowns and then romped over Atlanta. Viking Joe Kapp threw three touchdown passes and Bill Brown scored three times.

Southington Falls 12-6 To Crestview

Crestview won its first game under new coach Ernie Grekis Saturday night, evening its record at 1-1 with a 12-6 win over Southington on the losers' field.

Dan Unger got the Rebels ahead in the first period when he ran back an intercepted pass 60 yards. Chip McConville scored what proved to be the winning TD in the second period, and Ken Gortez got the lone Southington score in the third quarter.

Rudloff's Field Goal Gives E. Palestine Win

A 38-yard field goal by Larry Rudloff with three minutes to go gave East Palestine a 23-20 win over West Branch at Salem Saturday night.

The boot was the first in varsity competition for Rudloff.

Joe Lewis was the big gun for the Bulldogs of Bill Offenbacher, now 2-0. He scored three times and gained 140 yards in 21 attempts. Terry Romigh scored twice for the losers and John Runzo once.

The Bulldogs built up a 20-0 lead before West Branch, now 0-2, came back to tie the game. The last two West Branch scores were set up by fumbles.

Dixonville, Glenmoor Lead Bill Booth Play

Dixonville, North Side and Glenmoor were the winners in Bill Booth football little league action yesterday.

Dixonville blanked West End 34-0 at Thompson Park. Kim Kuczynski scored once and passed for two other TDs to Dan Green. Fred Kinsey scored twice, on a four - yard run set up by a 68-yard pass from Kuczynski to Wayne Shaw and on a 60-yard pass interception.

Northside blanked St. Al's 12-0 at Bell Field as Tom Briggs passed 45 and 35 yards to Jim Joyce for the scores.

Glenmoor topped East End 28-0 at Air Beacon Road Field in yet another shutout. Gary Cunningham scored twice, once on a 65-yard run, and Kevin Francis and Babe Serago scored the other TDs.

In Pee Wee games, Dixonville topped West End 26-8, with Charlie Payne, Mike Payne, Scott Seiferth and Bruce Rohrer scoring for the winners and Steve Baker for the losers. Northside blanked St. Al's 22-0 as Dean Badgley scored two TDs and Terry Goodwin one. East End nipped Glenmoor 6-2 with Golden getting the TD.

Glenmoor and Dixonville lead the two divisions of the league with 2-0 mark, and Dixonville and East End sport 2-0 marks in Pee Wee play.

At the league meeting last night Don Chapman and Jerry Stoval were approved as officials and the league expressed its thanks to the public for fine support on Tag Day.

Next week Northside and Glenmoor play at Air Beacon Road field, East End and Dixonville tangle at Bell Field and St. Al's will meet West End at a site to be determined.

Quakers Shut Out Western

Nick Papinchak, a transfer from Ambridge High, sparked Class A Quaker Valley to a 19-0 win over Class B Western Beaver at Midland Stadium Saturday night.

Papinchak scored twice and Jim Roof scored once as the Quakers of John Nusskern did all the scoring in the first half. That win was the second straight for QV, which has designs on the WPIAL Class A toga. The score was the same as when the two teams met last season.

The loss was the second straight for Mike Hornick's Golden Beavers, who have yet to score.

The Golden Beavers put up a tough defense in the second half, holding the Quakers to two first downs. Western didn't make a first down until the second half.

Halfback Howard Gutherie missed the game because of injuries, but is expected to be ready next week when Western meets Center.

South Side Loses 19-0 To Avalon

South Side was ousted from the WPIAL Class B race Saturday afternoon at South Side as the Avalon Bobcats won 19-0.

South Side has lost two straight and has yet to score in the young season. Avalon is 1-1.

Ken Silay scored twice and Ray Brahm tossed two TD passes.

South Side got to the two-yard-line in the third period but lost the ball on downs.

Bob Klubert Scores Ace At Highland

Bob Klubert of East Liverpool scored a hole-in-one on number seven at Highland Golf Club yesterday, using a seven-iron on the 175-yard hole.

The ace followed an eagle on the par-five sixth. Klubert shot a par round of 35. He was playing with Ed Peters and Larry Todd, also of East Liverpool. It was the first ace of Klubert's career.

Rudloff's Field Goal Gives E. Palestine Win

A 38-yard field goal by Larry Rudloff with three minutes to go gave East Palestine a 23-20 win over West Branch at Salem Saturday night.

The boot was the first in varsity competition for Rudloff.

Joe Lewis was the big gun for the Bulldogs of Bill Offenbacher, now 2-0. He scored three times and gained 140 yards in 21 attempts. Terry Romigh scored twice for the losers and John Runzo once.

The Bulldogs built up a 20-0 lead before West Branch, now 0-2, came back to tie the game. The last two West Branch scores were set up by fumbles.

Dixonville, Glenmoor Lead Bill Booth Play

Dixonville, North Side and Glenmoor were the winners in Bill Booth football little league action yesterday.

Dixonville blanked West End 34-0 at Thompson Park. Kim Kuczynski scored once and passed for two other TDs to Dan Green. Fred Kinsey scored twice, on a four - yard run set up by a 68-yard pass from Kuczynski to Wayne Shaw and on a 60-yard pass interception.

Northside blanked St. Al's 12-0 at Bell Field as Tom Briggs passed 45 and 35 yards to Jim Joyce for the scores.

Glenmoor topped East End 28-0 at Air Beacon Road Field in yet another shutout. Gary Cunningham scored twice, once on a 65-yard run, and Kevin Francis and Babe Serago scored the other TDs.

In Pee Wee games, Dixonville topped West End 26-8, with Charlie Payne, Mike Payne, Scott Seiferth and Bruce Rohrer scoring for the winners and Steve Baker for the losers. Northside blanked St. Al's 22-0 as Dean Badgley scored two TDs and Terry Goodwin one. East End nipped Glenmoor 6-2 with Golden getting the TD.

Glenmoor and Dixonville lead the two divisions of the league with 2-0 mark, and Dixonville and East End sport 2-0 marks in Pee Wee play.

At the league meeting last night Don Chapman and Jerry Stoval were approved as officials and the league expressed its thanks to the public for fine support on Tag Day.

Next week Northside and Glenmoor play at Air Beacon Road field, East End and Dixonville tangle at Bell Field and St. Al's will meet West End at a site to be determined.

Quakers Shut Out Western

Nick Papinchak, a transfer from Ambridge High, sparked Class A Quaker Valley to a 19-0 win over Class B Western Beaver at Midland Stadium Saturday night.

Papinchak scored twice and Jim Roof scored once as the Quakers of John Nusskern did all the scoring in the first half. That win was the second straight for QV, which has designs on the WPIAL Class A toga. The score was the same as when the two teams met last season.

The loss was the second straight for Mike Hornick's Golden Beavers, who have yet to score.

The Golden Beavers put up a tough defense in the second half, holding the Quakers to two first downs. Western didn't make a first down until the second half.

Halfback Howard Gutherie missed the game because of injuries, but is expected to be ready next week when Western meets Center.

South Side Loses 19-0 To Avalon

South Side was ousted from the WPIAL Class B race Saturday afternoon at South Side as the Avalon Bobcats won 19-0.

South Side has lost two straight and has yet to score in the young season. Avalon is 1-1.

Ken Silay scored twice and Ray Brahm tossed two TD passes.

South Side got to the two-yard-line in the third period but lost the ball on downs.

Bob Klubert Scores Ace At Highland

Bob Klubert of East Liverpool scored a hole-in-one on number seven at Highland Golf Club yesterday, using a seven-iron on the 175-yard hole.

The ace followed an eagle on the par-five sixth. Klubert shot a par round of 35. He was playing with Ed Peters and Larry Todd, also of East Liverpool. It was the first ace of Klubert's career.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Mickey Lolich, Tigers, scattered three hits and struck out 12 in a 13-0 triumph over Oakland that carried Detroit a step closer to the American League flag.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday Sept. 16, the 260th day of 1968. There are 106 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Selective Service Training Act and the first peacetime draft in the history of the United States became law.

On this date:

In 1810, Mexico began its revolution against Spanish rule.

In 1862, the civil war battle of Antietam began in Maryland.

In 1919, the American Legion was incorporated by act of Congress.

In 1945, the British accepted the formal surrender of Hong Kong by the Japanese.

Ten years ago — U.S. Atty. Gen. William Rogers, after conferring with President Dwight D. Eisenhower, said the federal government would take no immediate action to enforce integration in Arkansas and Virginia.

Five years ago — Malaysia came into being as a new nation formed by the federation of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo.

Junior Editors Quiz on WATER CYCLE

QUESTION: How and where does a water cycle start?

* * *

ANSWER: Water is continually being moved around between the earth's water masses, the air and the land; this is the water cycle. At the right of our picture, the arrows pointing upward represent the first stage. Heat, coming from the sun, warms the surface of the sea and of ponds and lakes. This turns some of the warmed water into invisible water vapor, which is evaporated or moved up into the air. A great deal of water vapor also moves upward from the green leaves of plants. The warmed air is cooled as it rises, and the water vapor in it condenses in visible form as cloud. Many clouds are carried overland by wind and, under certain conditions, the moisture in them comes down as rain or snow. Now it is turned to water, which works downwards. Sinking into the soil, it seeps down to join the underlying ground water, or it may collect in the form of streams and rivers which empty into the sea. Here, evaporation begins again; the water cycle starts once more, incidentally bringing to us the drinking water we must have in order to live.

(Paul Ford of Grafton, Mass., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Selective Service Training Act and the first peacetime draft in the history of the United States became law.

On this date:

In 1810, Mexico began its revolution against Spanish rule.

In 1862, the civil war battle of Antietam began in Maryland.

In 1919, the American Legion was incorporated by act of Congress.

In 1945, the British accepted the formal surrender of Hong Kong by the Japanese.

Ten years ago — U.S. Atty. Gen. William Rogers, after conferring with President Dwight D. Eisenhower, said the federal government would take no immediate action to enforce integration in Arkansas and Virginia.

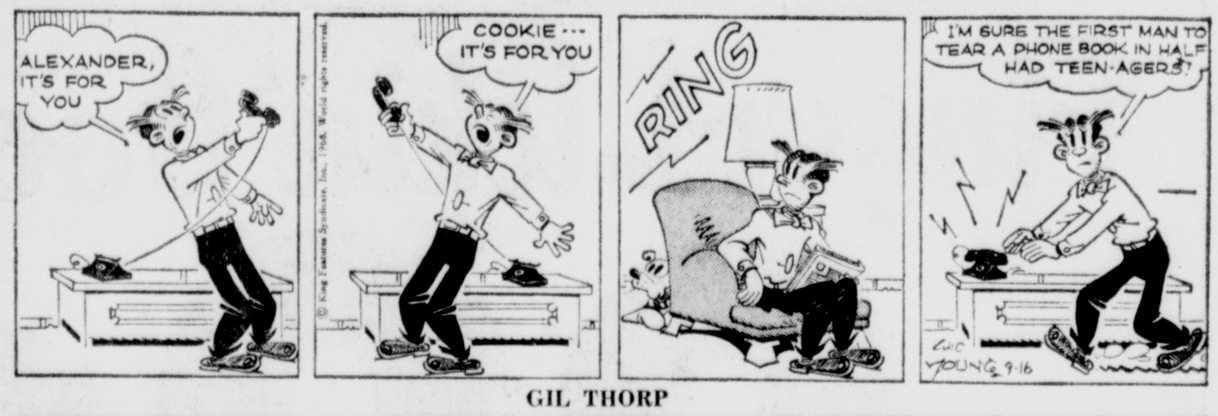

Five years ago — Malaysia came into being as a new nation formed by the federation of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo.

One year ago — Hurricane Doria whirled onto the eastern shore of Virginia packing 80-mile-an-hour winds.
